

The Canadian Post.

VOLUME XXXI. WHOLE NO. 1608

LINDSAY, ONT., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1890.

TERMS, $1.00 PER YEAR. PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

E. E. W. McGaffey.

Lindsay's Leader of Low Cash Prices,

-- DRY GOODS HOUSE. --

GREAT MOVING SALE.

Prices have taken a decided drop with us. The people who read this paper are provident, many of hem rick, and all have money to supply their wants. They are the people who make trade good all the year round. Everybody says business for the last six months has been dull, and observation inclines us to believe that everybody is correct. Notwithstanding this our business for the last six months has been larger than for any six months since we began business. There's food for thought in this condition of things, and we leave the matter in your hands with confidence.

We purpose making the next few months larger than heretofore--by offering our Goods at such Low Prices as to commend our efforts to the most cautious purchaser in our line.

You will find in our Mammoth Establishments every article requisite for the season's trade—should it be in—

LADIES' WEAR, HOUSE WEAR, GENTLEMEN'S WEAR,

YOU WILL FIND EVERY ARTICLE REDUCED.

WE CALL ATTENTION THIS WEEK TO OUR

Ladies' Mantles, Mantle Cloths, Hosiery and Gloves, Dress Goods and Dress Silks.

WE HAVE THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED STOCKS OF THESE GOODS IN THE TOWN OF LINDSAY

HOUSE WEAR.

CARPETS and FLOOR OIL CLOTHS at Moving Sale Prices. WINDOW SHADES, LACE CURTAINS, BLANKETS, QUILTS, COMFORTERS,

MEN'S WEAR.

BOYS', YOUTHS' and MEN'S OVERCOATS; BOYS', YOUTHS' and MEN'S SUITS; HATS, CAPS, GLOVES, SHIRTS, UNDERWEAR and NECK WEAR, at way-down prices. - - -

E. E. W. McGAFFEY.

DRY GOODS HOUSE, One Door east of Simpson House, Kent-st., Lindsay.

Britton Brothers.

Take Care Children's Eyes.

Our experience as opticians goes to prove that, generally, parents are careless of their children's eyes. We are often required to fit glasses on young persons whose sight has been paired by want of attention on the part of thoughtless parents, at a time when the sufferers were too young and inexperienced to care for them. and inexperienced to care for Probably no physical defect meets with as little sympathy, or is so little noticed or allowed for by others, as poor vision. An absolutely blind person is an object of general pity; more so than one who is lame or otherwise crippled.

Few understand that thousands of their fellows, who can see, see so imperfectly as to be almost blind. It is wonderful how expert the blind become in the avocations of daily life, and it is only less wonderful how the nearly blind conceal their defect from others.

One who is so short-sighted as to be unable to distinguish bytween a man and a horse at a distance of sixty feet, is practically blind for all greater distances. Yet no one thinks of him as a sufferer, or realizes the disadvantages under which he labors. Yet such people are numerous and are handicapped in the race of life. and can never hope to cope with those not so afflicted.

Myopia (short sight), and Hypermetropia (far sight), are visual troubles commonly met with in children of tender years. The former, unless treated, increases with age, and the latter results in cross eyes, and eventually blindness of one eye, or at all events renders one eye

The disastrous effects of Hypermetropia can be prevented by the use of suitable glasses, IF TAKEN EARLY; and the vision of both eyes may be preserved and the eyes kept straight. In Myopia the consequences are not less serious and are more difficult to combat.

Of course, there are other troubles incident to the eyes in childhood, but these are the most common that come within the province of the optician.

See to your child's eyes. Notice if he holds print too close to his face when reading, or if he complains of unpleasant symptoms upon the continued use of his eyes at school, for instance, or in the evening when studying. Or does he squint slightly at times? If so, exercise your common sense and get expert advice at once, as you would if he dislocated his ankle. It may be just as serious, and just because the symptoms are not so alarming at first don't blind yourselves to the serious conse-

Britton Brothers

Opticians and Jewelers. Lindsay, Oct. 8, 1890.—22.

New Advertisements.

PERA HOUSE. Extra!!

Friday Evening, November 7. Mr. Thomas Taylor has the honor to an-nounce the appearance as above, of the peerless and beautiful young closeic Star,

The sale of the Reserved Seats is now progressing at Porter's Bookstore. Prices—Children, 25c., General Admission, Pit, 35c., Side Seats Reserved, 50c., Centre Seats reserved, 75c.

8 MORE ONE WAY PARTIES

To the Pacific Coast will leave Toronto at 11 p. m. on Fridays.

September 19, October 3, 17, 31, November 44, 28, December 12, 26, Notice to Subscribers.

arged to give name of old post offi ss. This will save much time s Collector and Canvascer for THE CANADIAN Powr and is authorised to grant receipts for

The Canadian Post.

SOUTH VICTORIA.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED. Sir Richard Cartwright at Lindsay and Oak wood.

ened last Monday night by Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Lownsbrough in the husiastic audience, but the absence of a visible opponent in the field and the prospeet that there may be no opposition to Mr. Lownsbrough probably had some effect on the extent of the gathering. Mr. Lownsbrough's happy suggestion that there should be no opposition was reseived with hearty applause, and if it had seen left to the meeting no doubt the Mariposa farmer would have been at once elected by acciamation. Shortly after eight o'clock the chair was taken by Mr. W. Eyres of Maripose, the worthy president of the reform association. Sir Richard Cartwright on entering was welcomed with earty applause. On the platform were Mr. W. Lownsbrough, Mr. F. C. Taylor, vice-president of the S. V. reform association, John A. Barron, M.P., Mesers. G.o. Bick of Bobcaygeon, D. J. McIntyre, G. H. Honkins, Thos. Stewart, H. B. Dean, D. R. Anderson, L. Minthorne of Mariposa and others, with several ladies. Mr. Lownsbrough was accorded a most enthusiastic

Sir Richard Cartwright on coming forward was received with a renewal of the his first entrance. He spoke for about an our and a half. He evidently caught his audience at the start, and the ready applause whenever—and this was very often—a good point was made, showed that the audience, in point of intelligence and understanding of public questions, was worthy of the speeker. Sir Richard, after greeting the assembly, announced that he would confine himself almost wholly to the great trade question, which he declared, amidst applause, was now occupying the attention of every man and woman in the Dominion. After some woman in the Dominion. After some preliminary remarks he went on to declare the policy laid down in the house by the representatives of the liberal party in parliament. This was to seek full, free and unrestricted reciprocity with the United States, and to seek authority for Canada to make her own commercial treaties, at least with countries upon this continent, and for that reason to appoint continent, and for that reason to appoint her own representative at Washington. This announcement was received with loud applause. In connection with the second part of the policy, Sir Richard went on to speak of the admission made by Sir Charles Tupper three years ago, that it was on Mr. Wiman's warning of danger of commercial war that he (Sir Charles) of commercial war that he (Sir Charles) posted down to Washington to meet American statesmen and avert the threatened danger. He dwelt upon the absurdity, not to say disgrace, of it being necessary for the Canadian government to depend for knowledge and warning in such a crisis upon the voluntary service of a private citizen. In the light of this incident he took occasion later to rebuke the conservatives for their villification of Mr. dent he took occasion later to rebuke the conservatives for their villification of Mr. Wiman, notwithstanding the eminent service for Canada, which according to one of their own leaders, Mr. Wiman had performed. At a later stage of his speech he showed how absurd it was to leave Canadian interests at the capital of a country so closely connected commercially with Canada as the United States to a man like Lord Sackville-West, in view of his exploit in answering the Murchison letter and solemnly advising an American citizen to vote for Cleveland as against Harrison in the presidential election, earning thereby his own dismissal. He showed, also, how Canadian interests were imperilled by the fact that for a long time atter Lord Sackville-West's departure no British ambaseador at Washington was appointed. Sir Richard went on to deal with the airy pretensions of the restrictionists that the United States markets, out of which so many Canadian products were now shut, were of little importance, and as a commentary upon this he quoted the trade and navigation returns laid down on the table of the house of commons by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, minister of customs, showing that half of Canada's export trade of last year was done with the United States. He showed also that the United States was almost the only country with which Canadian trade had increased as compared with 1878. He declared himself in favor of getting as many markets as possible, but thought it was a policy of address.

Mr. Lownsborough was called upon, and when he came forward he was greeted with cheers which fully attested his great popularity. He expressed his earnest regret for the occasion—the death of Mr. Hudapeth—which had brought him before them as a candidate. Before his contest with Mr. Hudapeth and during the contest and after it, Mr. Hudapeth and during the contest and after it, Mr. Hudapeth and he had been friends. He declared himself a candidate to uphold the principles of the reform party. The farmers, of whom he was one, were accused of being chronic grumblers, but he believed that now, if never before, they had good reason to complain, for their prosperity was seriously interferred with. He reminded his hearers that the prosperity of merchants and other members of the community depended in the end upon the prosperity of the farmers. The policy of the government he held to be detrimental to the farmers, and he believed that better trade relations with the United States would improve matters. He excused himself from going into an argument of the question, improve matters. He excused himself from going into an argument of the question, considering the hour, and said he would have other opportunities of speaking. "I will sak you," he said, "if we have a contest" (this suggestion provoked hearty applance and langhter) "If there is a contest I would sak you to support me. Some have said, Why have an election? Well, I have been regularly chosen by the liberal party, and the other candidate is not yet in the field. I would re-echo their words and ask, Why should we have an election? (Cheers and laughter.)

laughter.)

Mr. F. C. Taylor, in a brief and telling speech, proposed a vote of thanks to Sir Richard for his clear and able address. He called attention particularly to its temperate tone, declaring that there was nothing that had been said to injure the feelings even of the bitterest partisan on the other side. He eulogised Mr. Lownsborough as a man thoroughly respected by all, a candidate of whom his friends might well be proud. The suggestion had been made from the other side that there should be no election, but reformers deemed it their duty to place before the people this great trade question. They would be recreant to their duty did they allowed this election to go by default.

The resolution was seconded by Mr. Geo. Bick.

The chairman, in putting the motion declared that this question of free trade relations with the United States was one which affected every person, and it must be the one to absorb public attention. The vote of thanks was carried amidst applause.

There were loud cries of "Barron," in response to which Mr. Barron came for ward and spoke briefly and with great ward and spoke orieny and with great acceptance. He eulogised Sir Richard for his splendid address, and touching on the question of loyalty reminded his hearers that though liberals were accused of disloyalty for desiring reciprocity, Hon. John Haggart, postmaster-general, in his speech at Lindsay the other day had declared that the consequences also favored resirences. Loyalty to the people was what was wanted, all other was spurious and led to denial of justice to the people. Mr. Barron excused himself from speaking, explaining that in ity to address his friends, because he in-tended to do all he could to secure the election of Mr. Lownsborough. He had wanted to be shut out of the markets of the United States they could make their will known by voting for Mr. Lownsborough's opponent. If, on the other hand, they desired access to the markets of the United States, they should support Mr. Lownsborough (applause).

The meeting was brought to a close by cheers for the Queen, for Sir Richard Cart-wright and for Mr. Lownsborough.

The Oakwood meeting in the fine township hall was of course a great success. Sir Richard drove out from Lindsay, in the afternoon occompanied by Messrs. D. J. McIntyre, D. R. Anderson, Thos. Stewart and R. J. McLaughlin and were met at Oakwood by Messrs. W Eyres, J. F. Cunnings and Arch. Cameron. There was a very large and enthusiastic addition to those named were Rev. Mr. Curts, W. Burden, W. Wakely, Dr. McKay, M.P.P., W. Burden, W. Wakely, Dr. McKay, M.P.P., Archibald Cameron, Wm. Parkinson, Henry Glendenning, Henry Yerex, Isaiah Rodman, Alfred Lake, Lyman Minthorn, Asaph Edwards, Edward Evans, A. O. Hegg, J. Michael, W. A. Silverwood, Peter Anderson, Peter McCorvie, W. T. Bowes, R. Whiteside, T. Puley, D. Rogers, M. Weldon, P. Campbell, W. Puley, S. Purvis, R. F. Whiteside, George Graham, D. King, P. Mark, L. Pascoe, J. Coad, A. McKinnon, E. Giles, G. Rennie, W. T. Hogg, Donald Jackson, D. L. Anderson, Geo. Graham, Mr J. F. Cunnings was elected chalrman.

Graham. Mr J. F. Cunnings was elected chairman.

The chairman in a few remarks opened the meeting. He declared himself on principle a free trader, and remarked upon the number of conservatives who were brought to a recognition of that principle. These gentlemen were to be heard at all times speaking of the advantage of trade being done with Britain. He was glad to know of the success of Canadian trade anywhere, but he contended not the less that the neighboring republic was the natural market for Canada, and for that reason to be sought rather than a market at a great distance. where, but he contended not the less that the neighboring republic was the natural market for Canada, and for that reason to be sought rather than a market at a great distance.

Sir Richard Cartwright was received with loud applause. He referred to the reputation of Mariposa as one of the best farming regions in the rich Province of Ontario, and said that from all he had seen of it upon this and 2ther visits, that reputation was fully justified. He put to the farmers of Mariposa the question whether or not they were satisfied with their condition for the past few years. He did not presume to speak with authority as to the results of farming here, but he pointed to the low prices of grain and the lowering values of real estate as an indication of the condition of the farming community of the province generally. The opening of the markets of the United States to the produce of Canada was the remedy for existing evils. This question. After dwelling upon the extent of the trade between Canada and her great neighbor, he went on to set forth how the liberals in parliament had for three successive years moved resolutions in favor of reciprocity and how these resolutions had been voted down at the dictation of the government. He dwelt also upon the government's policy of bluster, inviting retaliation at the hands of the United States, and showed how, when that retaliation pressed them hard, they took refuge in a complete change, as in the repeal of the export duty on logs. He commented upon the language respecting the United States used by Sir John Macdor and at Halifax as being, under the circumstances, most injudicious. Throughout his speech Sir Richard Cartwright for his able address. He commented on the importance of thanks to Sir Richard Cartwright for his able address. He commented on the importance of this question to every person in the country, and urged that in the peading election the decision should be one not of party but of patriotism and common sense.

Mr. D. J. McIntyre seconded the resolution in few well chosen remarks announced his canadacy and his claim to support as the represent tive of the liberal policy of extended marks for the preducts of Canada.

Dr. McKay, M. P. P., also addressed to the making a rattling argument for the

LOCAL NEWS-LUIZERS

SUNDERLAND. [Correspondence of The Poet.]
A POINTER.—When in Lindsay make it a point to call and inspect the new stock of goods at Neil McPhaden's, who has opened out in the store lately occupied by M. McLean & Co., opposite the new post-office - 25-1.

CANNINGTON. [Correspondence of The Post.]
GOOD ADVICE.—When in Lindsay residents of this district should not fail to inspect Neil McPhaden's new stock of Dry Goods, just opened out in the store formerly occupied by M. McLean & Co., opposite the new post-office. The goods have been bought for cash and will be said cheap.—25-1.

UAK WOOD. Correspondence of The Post.]

POSTPONED SALE.—A postponed sale of the effects of the late T. W. Clarke takes place at the sate homestead of the deceased, lot 18, north half, con. 11, Mariposa, Nov.

A GOOD EXAMPLE. - Our railway section boss has developed into a prosperous stock dealer, and so far very successful.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—There will be a 10.30 a. m. union thanksgiving service in the Methodist church on thanksgiving day, Nov. 6th prox., and in the evening of the same day the Epworth League will give a concert and entertainment. CONCERT.—The Oakwood branch of the Epworth league intend helding a concert on the evening of thanksgiving day, Nov. 6th, in the Methodist church, consisting of readings, recitations and singing by the local talent, assisted by some of the best Lindsay talent. Rev. Caleo Parker will deliver an address. deliver an address. Doors open at 7 o'clock p. m., concert to commence at 7.30. A splendid time is expected and a cordial invitation is extended to one and all. QUERY.—What is the attraction at East Oakwood for four of our young men Sun-

BUBCAYGEON.

[Correspondence of The Post.]
FOWLING.—Some of our ideal sportsmen may be seen these nice days wending their way home from the woods about sun down, rather tired looking, after a fruitless search

DEER HUNTING. - Dr. Bennell, with a large party, has been north deer hunting since the loth inst., and of course they are meeting with varying success. We hope to hear something big from them ere long.

FALL Show.—The fail show held here for Verulam, on the loth inst., was a grand success. success, there being a hundred entries more than in any previous year on exhibit.
INDUCTION AND TEA.—The Rev. William Anderson, M.A., was inducted into the pastoral charge of the united churches of Bobcaygeon and Dunsford by the Presbytery of Peterborough, on Tuesday, the 21st instant. The Rev. Mr. Hyde of Warsaw, the moderator, performed his duties well; after which the Rev. Mr. Jones af Port Hone, presched a very instantiative segment. Hope presched a very instructive, sermon from John xiti., l. The R v. Mr. Torrance of Peterboro addressed the newly inducted pastor, and the Rev. Mr. E sing of Mount Pleasant addressed the congregation on their duties and responsibilities. After the induction services were over a sumptuous tea was served in the town hall to a large crowd, and after every person present all repaired to the church, where the fol lowing rev. gentlemen delivered interesting lowing rev. gentlemen delivered interesting addresses, namely: Revs. W. Anderson, R. Duke, J. Pullar, J. Ewing, J. R. Craigie, D. P. Os ald and R. Hyde. After each of the foregoing addresses a choice piece of music was well rendered by the choir, which was ably led by Mis-Minnie Braden, the organist. The proceeds of the teamounted to $65.50

DUNSFORD.

amounted to $62.50.

[Correspondence of The Post.]
OBITUARY.—On Tuesday afternoon the remains of Mrs. Thos. Brien were interred in the Methodist graveyard, Dunsford, Mrs. Brien was an old and respected resid ent, and her funeral was numerously attended.

WEDDING BELLS. -On Friday, 17th inst. our popular young blacksmith, Mr. James Graham, joined the noble army of benedicts by a union with Miss Maggle Sheriff, daughter of Mr. David Sheriff of Dunsford, May long live, health and happiness attend them is the earnest wish of their numerous friends in and around Dunsford.

HARVEST HOME.-On the evening of Tuesday, the 21st inst., the congregation of St. John's church held their annual harvest in the Orange hall, Dunsford. After a very excellent tea, which was served by the ladies of the congregation, Mr. Wm. Thurston of Bobcaygeon was called to the chair, and a very entertaining program was presented to the audience. Addresses were delivered by the Revs. Messrs, French and Farncomb; and songs by Messrs. W. Gort ley of Emily, H. Dowding of Bobcaygeon and Sproule of Dunsford also by the choir. The most pleasing part of the intertainment was furnished by Mr. Sproule's "Little class of warblers," consisting of five little girls who sang the scale upwards and downwards taking several contractions. and downwards, taking separate parts, and also sang a four part song to the amuse-ment and amazement of the audience. Mr.

Sproule's "little warblers" will sing at an entertainment in the Queen-st. Methodist church, Lindsay, on thanksziving day. Receipts of harvest home, $30.45. PRESBYTERIAN SERVICE. - Rev. Mr. Anderson, the newly inducted minister of the Presbyterian churches at Bobcaygeon and Dunsford, held service in Dunsford at 2 30 p.m. last Sunday.

BBAVERTON. [Correspondence of The Post.]

PERSONAL. - Dr. Bryce, provincial sanitary inspector, was here on Friday last. He was well pleased with the sanitary condition of our village....Mrs. and Miss Gunn have returned home after spending some time with friends at Sundridge. INSPECTION. - Wm. Brain, our sanitary inspector, is going his rounds with his "iron rod in hand." He is no respector of person.

THE Assizes. - Several persons left here

THE ASSIZES.—Several persons left here on Monday morning for Whitby to attend the assizes.

AN INTERESTING CASE.—The real estate suit of Gillespie vs. Stoddart will be up for trial at Whitby this week.

Missionary to India.—Miss Isabella Ross, daughter of Mr. John Ross of this place, left on Monday last for India, where she intends remaining for some time. On Friday evening a farewell meeting was held in Knox church. The Rev. D. C. Johnston presided, and suitable addresses addresses were given by the Rev. Dr. Watson, Rev. Mr. Williams, Miss Ross and others. The ladies of the W. F. M. Society presented Miss Ross with a handsomely bound bible and an appropriate address, to which she made a very suitable and feeling reply.

which she made a very suitable and feeling reply.

CHURCH NOTES.—The Rev. D. C. Johnston has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to occupy his pulpit hast Sabbath.....The Rev. Mr. Mills of Sunderland will preach morning and evening in Kuox church next Sabbath, and Mr. Johnston will preach in Sunderland.

ACTION FOR DAMAGES,—There was a special meeting of the Thorah council on Monday evening last to consider the matter of a threatened action for damages, caused by the overflow of water which is said to have been diverted from its natural course by the corporation.

POSTPONED.—The intended ploughing match will not take place this season.

GRAIN MARKETS.—The markets here are pretty brick at present. Our grain buyers here are noted for paying the very highest prices for all kinds of grain.