then at election times turn found and lore these rings and combines to disporpe part of their ill-gotten gains to corrupt the country and keep this plundering government in power. If we read of a poor man stealing a loaf of bread or a piece of mest to keep perhaps the wolf of starvation from devouring a family of little children that there is such deprayity in the land; it is hurled from every pulpit, and holy herror nonsesses the people. Yet the plundering in high places and the robbery by government goes seet free. The sim of by community goes soot free. The sim of chall should be taken by the law, surely it lewisernly take the life of the innocent make alayes of the working class and parbedsely the farmer. Look at the state of the country. Farm land has gone down in price until it is not worth owning. The allow of the soil cannot support himself and family out of their combined earnings, for sain were offered at Port Perry for sain under mortgage and not one bid was made or a farm soil, all within two seem. The same state of things is going on all over the country, and all this has been been the country, and all this has been been the country, and all this has been the protection. What is protection but a tax on the working class, and it operates as follows: A super or cotton factory is protected; a combine is formed; up goes the price of sugar or cotton. ROYAL CANADIA

Insurance Company

The manager of the Grange Insurance Company has recently sent out a circular claiming that in no conceivable case that any other contracts made exceed the blanket policies of the Grange Company. Instead of this being the fact, I wish to say that the advantages to farmers given in the ROYAL CANADIAN policy exceed those of the Grange in about a dezen important particulars. An examination of the relative merits of the two policies leaves no doubt as to which company gives the best binsket.

The manager advortises that in the Grunge tompany no premium notes are taken. (See his advertisement in do operator) Dou't believe a word of it! For an insurance of $5.00 in hat company the farmer gives a premium note for $90, a part of which he pays down and taken his chances as to future calls for the balance. In the ROYAL CANADIAN he would pay $30 for the same anount and have no further risk in the matter.

The ROYAL CANADIAN palloyholders are soured by a surpius cash ospitul of over half a million dollars, while in the Grange Company the society onasists of premium notes which, when given, the policyhelders never expected to be asked to pay.

Grange policyhelders are invited to examine the advantage I have societ for farmers in the ROYAL CANADIAN before they again put their especture to anaryse note for a policy not massive as most.
