Miss Jane Combs to "Break Home."

The Toronto Globe of December 15th says: "Miss Combs, supported by an excellent company, opened a week's engagement at the academy of music last night. The initial performance of her engagement was the dramatic solo of Charles Dickens's great book, 'Pickwick Papers.' A good sized audience greeted her and manifested their great appreciation of her ability by several ovations. The part of the renowned lady DeLacoe, Miss Combs displayed a thorough knowledge and appreciation of the character, and her portrayal of the celebrated lady in the play was a very successful one. Stock Notes.

Mr. Bert McGill of Montreal has given a committee for an oil painting of his handsome carriage mare, Lady Bell, by Belmont Star.

Report says that the stock on Topgallant

Farm, Valverton, is in the best and wintering nicely. The stock embraces some forty or more head of horned, in which can be found the choicest bred Clydesdale representative from the "land of heather," handsome Welch and chestnut ponies—just the thing for your boys and girls to drive about with—and several promising colts and first class roadsters. Mr. T. W. Evans, the enterprising proprietor, is kept busy looking after the details of this flourishing industry.

Last Saturday evening many persons were attracted to the window of Mr. W. A. Goodwin's store by a handsome painting of the imported Clydesdale "Royal Salute," owned by Mr. T. W. Evans of Valverton. The portrait is strikingly lifelike and at the same time is not at all overdone, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Prof. Kenyon as an oil painter. Mr. Kenyon has visited many of the leading stock farms throughout Western Ontario and has secured excellent sketches of many representative animals which in due time will no doubt adorn the pages of the leading provincial stock journals. Mr. Kenyon sketches from life—and is true to life—and his services are consequently in great demand.
