LEAVING THE HOMESTEAD DISTRICT NEWS. You're going to leave the homestead, John You're twenty-one to-day. GRAVENHURST.

You're twenty-one to-day,
And the old man will be serry, John,
To see you go away.
You're labored late and early, John,
And done the best you could;
I ain't a gon' to stee you, John,
I wouldn't if I could: W. L. RUSSELL'S

Yet something of your feelings, John.
I speed I ought to know.
Though many a day has passed away—
Twee forty years age—
When hope was high within me. John.
And life lay all before,
That I with strong and measured stroke.
Cut loose" and pulled for shore.

The years, they come and go, my bov.
The years, they come and go;
And raven locks and treeses brown
Grow white as driven snow.
My life has known its sorrows, John.
Its trials and troubles sore;
Tet God withal has blessed me, John.
"In basket and in store." But one thing let me tell you, John,
Nefore you make your start,
There's more in being honest, John.
Twice o'er than being smart.
Though rogues may seem to flourish,
And sterling worth to fail,
Oh' bean in view the most any true.

Oh! keep in view the good and true. 'Twill in the end prevail. Don't think too much of mousy, John.
And dig and delve and plan,
And rake and scrape in every shape,
To heard up all you cas.
Though fools may count their riches, John,
In shillings, pounds and pence.
The best of wealth is youth and health,
And good sound, common sense.

And don't be mean or stingy, John.
But lay a little by, Of what you ears; you soon will learn.
How fast 'twill multiply,
So, when old age comes creeping on.
You'll have a goodly store
Of wealth to furnish all your needs—
And may be something more.

There's shorter cuts to fortune, John There's shorter cuts to fortune, John We see them every day.
But those who save their self-respect Climb up the good old way.

"All is not geld that glitters," John And makes the vulgar stare, and those we deem the richest, John Haveoft the least to spare.

There's lots of people ready, John,
To do such dirty work And if amid the race for fame You win a shining prize.

The humbler worth of honest men
You never should despise:
For each one has his mission, John.
In life's unchanging plan—
Though lowly be his station. John. He is no less a man

Be good, be pure, be noble John Be honest, brave, be true. And do to others as ye would. That they should do to you...

On the 8th inst., William Greer, the superintendent of the company's shaft, struck colour at thirty feet, and at thirty-six feet, gold to the value of 13 or 14 cents to the pan; and to-day one large piece of native gold was obtained, being about the size and shape of a grain of western corn. Water was struck, and digging must cease till a steam pump is obtained, but the sand will all be carted to the lake to be washed. All doubt as to the certainty of gold being in rich deposit is now removed. On the 10th Superintendent Greer washed about one ton of pay dirt from the company's mine, and obtained over twenty rich pieces of native gold. And declares the yield from sand to exceed any of the products of the best mines in California.

They were brought to Whithy for examination before a magistrate, and were last weeks, arraigned before the Mayor and Dr. Gunn who committed them for trial. They were all four villainous looking seoundrels and of the kind that are not easily handled. The names given are Chas. Beemish. Robert Wasdington, Francis Evans, and Thos. Quinn. Order to be Rooted Out.—Several notorious dens of prostitution exist within a short distance of police head, quarters, and a number of others are located in more respectable neighborhoods. These places are well known to the police, who could readily procure evidence enough to convict the keepers of these brothels, and yet it is not done. We trust that the police will do their duty in this matter, and cause the breaking up of the dens of impatty in question.
