LINDSAY, ONT.

The Victoria Warder

LOCAL AND GENERAL

County Court opened on Tuesday. Proceedings crowded out this week.

Potato bugs should be handled with gloves. Recently a farmer out west was poisoned by handling the pests, and his recovery is now considered doubtful.

The Warden of the County, Mr. W. L. Bidwell visited Bobcaygeon on Thursday last for the purpose of inspecting the bridges. It is very probable a new north bridge will be erected and a new plank be constructed at Little Bob.

Dominion Day. No man can very well make satisfactory arrangements for the celebration of Dominion day without first inspecting P. Digan's stock of Stationery, Books, Jewellery, Fancy Goods, &c. South side of Kent st. Lindsay. 1080

The Peterboro' postmaster recently met with horror and dismay the following advertisement in one of the local papers. "Any person having five or ten loads of manure to dispose of will please send word or drop it through the post office."

Hymeneal. Mr R H Peel, the popular Township Clerk of Bexley has consummated single blessedness, and was on Wednesday last married to Miss Lizzie Sanderson, of Manvers. Mr Peel, with his fair bride, returned to Bexley on Monday last.

And now the modest young man of the Examiner has taken to lecturing the Councillors of Peterboro on the propriety of laying out late at night. He threatens to publish the hour of adjournment in future, so that it may be known how late they stay out. The wicked "laying out late" Peterboro' boy should look on the person of the editor of the Times.

Dominion Day. No steps have been taken as yet by the citizens to appoint a committee to work in conjunction with a committee of the Council to make arrangements for the proper celebration of Confederation Day. The Council have done their part and if the citizens are without a celebration they have themselves to thank. If anything is done to be done it will have to be at once as the time is short.

A Warning to Housekeepers. Four members of Mr. Isaac Compton's family of St Thomas, became seriously ill on Wednesday morning of last week, and had severe attacks of almost incessant vomiting. Dr McLarty was summoned, and administered proper remedies. Their illness is supposed to have resulted from adulterated butter, of which they had eaten.

Filthy Literature. The Collector of Customs here has received instructions to seize and destroy all filthy and obscene publications, such as the Police News, National Police Gazette, Boys' Dimes, and other publications of like tendency. Parties selling them, having them for sale, or exhibiting them for sale are liable to a fine of £100 for every offence, one half of which goes to the informer. "Peterboro' Examiner."

Railway Progress. The Lindsay extension of the Whitby and Port Perry road will be completed in about three weeks. The iron fastenings on a portion of the bridges on the line have not yet arrived, but the contractor will be held responsible for the delay. Ballasting is being pushed with energy, and will follow close upon the heels of the track laying. By the 1st of July it is expected that the road will be in operation.

Packalorey's Atlas. In another column will be found an advertisement in connection with every edition of Packalorey's Atlas, which will be published in the County of Victoria. Those who have not yet subscribed for the publication would be well advised to do so, as the Atlas will be a valuable addition to the library of any gentleman. Call at the Warder office and subscribe.

The Peterboro' Examiner recently had the following to say about the Little Harry: "This is the name of a locomotive oil lamp and is an invention for the safe keeping of all the oil on a railway. It is a handy little contrivance complete with locks and keys to prevent tampering. Thickwad of the Omemee Herald is as big as a half a dozen of them, and is supplied with an oil can, but will work which can be raised or lowered at pleasure. We can recommend the 'Little Harry' as a very useful thing to every head train. Call at W Muckhorn's drug store, Kent st. and see one."

Monster Pic Nic. We understand that arrangements have been made with the Victoria Railway, under the auspices of the Parochial Aid Society of Lindsay, school of St Paul's Church, for a big and popular excursion to Kinmount on the 30th of June at about the time of the train from Lindsay and Fenelon Falls. It will be held during the afternoon of that day from one o'clock until nine. The tickets for the round trip will be only 40c and children from 5 to 12 only half that price. We are sure that a large number will avail themselves of so cheap and pleasant a gathering. Full particulars in bills next week.

Sturgeon Point Hotel. To the Editor of the Victoria Warder. Sir, Hay me have I a great deal about the fine summer hotel at Sturgeon Point, I last week landed to visit that place with the intention of remaining for a week or so. I need hardly inform your readers that I did not remain, and that my desire to repeat my visit is not very great. On reaching the Point my first and greatest desire was to be shown through the hotel, of which I had heard so much, Thinking, of course, that I would find it fitted and in good style. I soon had reason to change my opinion, for instead of finding the house comfortably furnished there was not even a bed in the dance room still, everything was gone over to the working stores, and as a consequence I could not procure a meal. Fortunately some ladies and gentlemen from Lindsay, who had taken the precaution to provide themselves with something to eat, kindly shared with me or I might have had greater reason to regret my visit to Sturgeon Point. Won I know what was the cause of such a sad affair. I set about making enquiries, and was informed that Captain Crandell, who was very anxious to get the place let, found it impossible to be landed as expected to be allowed to participate in the profits accruing from the business. Mr Pancher not being willing to accede to his request he Crandell used every means in his power to compel him to put the hotel in order, but finding no other schemes would succeed, he closed it and left there with the piano, Vanderbilt, and removed all the furniture. This is a bad state of affairs for the shareholders, and the long-suffering directors tolerate the despotism of Crandell the greater will be their folly. Many visitors from different parts of Canada and the United States would be glad to visit this hotel and remain for a month during the summer season if the usual hotel comforts were to be found there, for the situation is beautiful, and to all appearances healthful and healthy is pleadful, but if their experience be the same as mine, you may rest assured that the popularity of Sturgeon Point hotel as a summer resort will not be greatly enhanced. People from Lindsay and vicinity would go there in large numbers if it was managed as it should be, but I am informed that even they do not care to go there now. My advise to the directors is to take the matter out of Crandell's hands and furnish the place themselves and have it run in good style. He may go to Cape Bottom of the steamer "Ontario" to ply between Lindsay, Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon. Yours etc. A Tourister. Port Hope, June 11th, 1877.

No Quorum. There were not sufficient members of the Council present on Monday night to form a quorum, and consequently there was no meeting.

Council Meeting. There will be a special meeting of the Town Council this evening to consider the Judge's report in the Douglas case. The meeting will commence at half-past seven. No shirking, gentlemen. The names of absentees will be recorded.

St. Paul's Church. Hymns for June:

Day	Morning.	Evening.
3rd	208, 231	111, 95, 344
10th	140, 192, 149	270, 279, 261
17th	5, 176, 211	336, 241, 9
24th	13, 18, 238	120, 186, 18

The Hymns and Tunes are selected from Hickerstetch's Hymnal Companion to the Book of Common Prayer.

A New Invention. The corner loafer and such persons as loiter around church doors, are now the objects of the inventive genius. A Baltimore man has the standing and sitting places of these gentlemen of easy manners, covered with zinc, and when he has "a good home," he touches a knob of an electric battery, and it is wonderful to see the rapidity with which the locality is depopulated. Two or three places in the town require this apparatus. What a scattering it would cause at the post office or Gregory's corner.

The Two Inspectors. One day last week Mr Silverwood, Inspector of weights and measures, drove up in front of Mann's hardware store and placed a couple of heavy boxes on the sidewalk. After a while Mr Bolden, the Street Inspector, came along, and finding no owner for the boxes, called a carter and had them conveyed to the Town Hall. Imagine Mr Silverwood's surprise when he missed his boxes, and his feelings when he had to pay for carting them both ways. That's one on the Inspector of weights and measures.

Diamond Field Notes. The Actives and Mutuals, of Lindsay, played a game of base ball on Friday last. The play of both nines was very loose, particularly in the first two innings. The muffs made were numerous, and it was easily seen that both teams required practice. If the two clubs would amalgamate and practice well together they would place a nine in the field that would be hard to beat. The score was too large to be published, but we are able to learn that the Mutuals were defeated by 13 runs. At Bobcaygeon on Tuesday of last week an exciting game of base ball was played on the plains, between the Alerts, and Unknowns of Little Bob. The Alerts won with a score of 30 to 15. They now think of challenging Kinmount club. It is expected that the Cannington and Beaverton base ball clubs (Juniors) will play the return match, at Beaverton, on the 30th inst.

Dramatic. The celebrated Agnes Wallace Villa Combination made their appearance on the Opera House last Tuesday evening, and were greeted with a large and appreciative audience. The very laughable burlesque of "Cinderella" was presented, followed by Celia Logan's masterpiece, a highly emotional drama translated from the French, entitled "Maple Cottage." Mr Villa as Clarinda in "Cinderella," caused roars of laughter by his mimitable burlesque of a reaching female. In Maple Cottage the acting of Agnes Wallace is of course the chief charm. In many of the scenes she holds her audience almost breathless as she draws her whole power of pathos and passionate energy. Miss Sabrie as Lucy Fairfield, and Mr Villa as Colonel Ingot very successfully portrayed Helen Grantley and Scott Ashley. Harry Holme, in the character of Thatcherey Blacq, the low-bred inquisitor of the genteel, is comical, unabashed and unabashed to excess. He very amusing, in fact the whole company belonged their respective parts in a very credible manner. Last evening the Combination again favored us in the historical drama of Ann Boleyn, followed by the side-splitting farce of Miss Multon. In consequence of the great success attending the performances of the last two evenings, the management have decided to give one more entertainment this evening, when the laughable burlesque of Puss will be put on the boards, to be followed by the thrilling drama Ann Boleyn.

That Card Again. The "Times" lad has gone into hysterics over our remarks about the high toned watering cart which the people of Peterboro' had to import from Lindsay, as there is no establishment in Peterboro' able to turn out a watering cart, simple as it is. Councillor Dumble and his colleagues were aware of this, and not wishing to throw away the people's money, very wisely decided to send to Lindsay for something good. But the braying of the above organ would lead the outside world to believe that Peterboro' is once to become bankrupt on account of the expenditure of a paltry $150 the price of the cart. What would this man of small ideas think if we were to tell him that the gentlemen who built that "high toned affair" send $40,000 to the town of Peterboro' last year, and has sent a like amount every year since he started business? In commenting on our remarks of last week the "Times" says: In that villageron the majestic Scugog, the folks put too much water on the streets, which are notoriously muddy, but they strike the balance by putting some in their whiskey. Now, we are surprised at the moral young editor of the "Times" setting himself up as a judge of whiskey. True, he was in Lindsay last winter, but how he could discover mud on our streets when they were covered with snow can only be accounted for by the fact that he has not been accustomed to drinking good whiskey at home. The only objection they have to the cart is that it is too "high toned." They want something in keeping with everything else in the place. The "Times" also states that the person who made the sprinkler, "the most important part," is now working in a shop in Peterboro'. He does not work in Peterboro', and never did work there. It was Mr Thompson, of the firm of Stephenson & Thompson, who made the sprinkler.

Our Forests. The "Independent" says "Dull as the times are, the wood trade keeps busy in the neighborhood and no matter what commercial contingencies may arise we may be sure that our forest produce will always be in demand. The past week has been a busy time in the wood folk. Lumber, logs, cordwood, poles, withes, ties, sleepers, bark, square timber, shingles, all sorts of things, have been moving briskly on the water towards their destinations. Here is the proof: between nine o'clock on Tuesday evening and ten o'clock on Wednesday evening eleven steamboats passed through our locks, nearly all towing, and no less than 33 separate lockages was made of loaded scows, or booms of logs, or cribs of timber. In enormous mass of forest produce is passing through, all of which, sooner or later, will go to Lindsay or Port Perry, and thence by rail to Lake Ontario. The wood trade of this vicinity is simply immense, and if a good time should come, it will grow to the largest proportions. Our water communication enables us to beat all competition by railway, and to supply such distant places as Toronto and St. Catharines, with wood at a lower price than any other locality. Our steamboats possess an inland navigation which have not less than a thousand miles of lake shore, nearly all with woods growing to the water's edge, and with banks of which the scows can load at every spot. The whole of the lake frontage communicates by water with a point only 15 miles from Lake Ontario, over which the Whitby and Port Perry line runs our forest produce at the cheapest possible rate. Why, then, should not Bobcaygeon prosper and be joyful?

Tyne Worm. Says the Watertown "Times:" "A man who pays up what he owes morns is a higher sphere than he who does not. Those who pay the printer especially are blessed with sublime ideas of justice and self-respect, and their daily life becomes full of peace and joyful contentment."

DISTRICT NEWS.

DUNSFORDVILLE.

Correspondence of The Warder.

Crops.—In this vicinity the crops are looking exceedingly well, and the prospects of a bountiful harvest seem likely to be realised.

Sermon.—The very interesting discourse delivered by the Rev. Geo. Horlock, of Bobcaygeon, last Sunday week, in St. Paul's Church, Dunsfordville, was listened to with marked attention by large numbers who came from Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, and the surrounding neighborhood. During his discourse the reverend gentleman touched upon the Baptist Church, detailing its origin and the principles upon which it was founded. Owing to a letter that lately appeared in the Bobcaygeon "Independent," an unusual amount of interest was manifested in the preacher's remarks on baptism.

BEAVERTON.

Dr. Braithwaite, formerly of Port Perry, has taken up his residence in Beaverton, where he intends continuing the practice of his profession, having succeeded to the extensive practice of Dr. Fair, who is about leaving for Europe.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Dr Braithwaite has removed from Port Perry to Beaverton. He succeeds to the very extensive practice so long enjoyed by his predecessor, Dr. Fair. Dr. Braithwaite carries with him to his new field of labour the highest testimonials for zeal and ability in his profession. He is not only a successful practitioner of over fourteen years standing, but is a gentleman possessed of those high qualities that eminently fit him to take the first place in society, and that nobleness of heart that is sure to endear him in the minds of all with whom he may come in contact. The loss engendered by the departure of so respected a gentleman as Dr. Fair will, we trust, be in a great measure compensated for by the advent of Dr. Braithwaite whom we can personally and cordially recommend to the inhabitants of Beaverton as a careful and pains-taking physician.—Ed. Warder.

CAMERON

Correspondence of The Warder.

Temperance.—The District Lodge of the I. O. G. T., for this district, was held at Rosedale, on Tuesday, the 5th inst. The Lodge was not opened at the proper time owing to some misunderstanding as to the hour appointed. When the requisite number of representatives had assembled the Lodge was opened in regular form; the President in the chair. After the usual business had been transacted the Lodge was closed in the usual manner. The next meeting is to be held at the Victoria Lodge Room, Powell's corners, Fenelon, which we hope to see a better attendance.

Pic Nic. The Cameron Lodge of Good Templars are making preparations for having a grand pic-nic to be held some time this month. Invitations are to be sent to the sister lodges in this district, and to the friends of the temperance cause generally. We believe the committee are arranging to have the pic-nic party on board the Vanderbilt at Ball Point and then a trip to Bobcaygeon and back to Sturgeon Point where they will spend the balance of the day. A good time may be expected.

LITERARY NOTICES.

The Canadian Monthly and National Review.—The number for June is an excellent one. In addition to its usual contents, it contains a continuation of William Black's novel, "Green Pastures and Piccadilly;" "Unprofitable," a poem by A. W. G. Toronto; "The American and British 'Down East,'" by the "learned blacksmith" Elihu Burritt;" "The Political Destiny of Canada," an article that appeared in the English papers and that has been much commented on; by that ex-Professor Goldwin Smith; "Fifteen Years After," a pretty poem by "Fidelia"; "The Ingia Princess," a very pathetic tale by Captain Beckwith; "Minerva Moonshine on the Higher Education of Women"; "Schools of Italian Art," by Mrs. Frances Rye Harris; "The Ethical Aspect of Darwinism," a rejoinder from Prof John Watson, Queen's College, Kingston; "The Concluding Chapters" of Mrs. H. L. Cameron's novel, "Juliet," Hart & Rawlinson, Publishers Toronto.

The Day of Rest.—This is the title of a pamphlet by Wm. McDonnell, Lindsay, author of "Exeter Hall," "The Heathens of the Heath," &c. A large portion of the contents of this pamphlet appeared last year in the June number of the "Canadian Monthly," and has now been republished with considerable additions. The end in view is to strengthen the argument against the enforcement of a Puritanic Sabbath in Canada. It is rather noticeable that the author does not express his own views nor advance his own arguments on the subject but quotes largely from numerous authors, writers and divines. The writer himself admits that Sunday is a day of rest—that a periodical day of rest is an absolute necessity for the well being of the body and that a day of rest has been wisely and mercifully appointed to loose the bonds by which men are held to the world. We do not think that the present observance of the Sabbath is considered a hardship and we feel sure that religious men and even professing Christians do not look upon the Lord's day as one of bondage. In the second paragraph of the pamphlet the writer says:—"Come in what guise it will its hours are sacred." Now then if there was no restraint put upon the inclinations of man, if he was free to turn the Sabbath into a holiday and a day of amusement, what would become of the sanctity of its hours?" We must confess that the talented author is somewhat contradictory in the handling of his subject. Were the barriers that surround our Sabbath once thrown down the results would be too horrible to picture.

A most heartrending case of insanity came up in Mitchell last week. It appears that Mrs. James Watt became so troubled in mind about certain false stories circulated by scandal-mongers affecting her character, that she completely went out of her mind, and at times was so unmanageable that it was found necessary to strap her down to a bed. On the intervention of her husband, the Mayor committed the unfortunate woman to the county gaol, with a view of getting her into the London Asylum. She is mother of two children, one of which is only seven months old. The husband appeared to be sadly troubled over this sad affliction, and during the trial of the prisoner at times completely broke down.

It has at length been decided to erect a registry office for South Grey in the town of Durham. A site for the building has been purchased at the moderate sum of $100, and the committee entrusted with carrying on the work are endeavoring to secure some modifications in the plans of the building, so as to render it less expensive than the present plan for Bluck Grey, with cost of $5,000.

Manitoba.

From the Free Press, June 2nd

Another steamboat to ply between Brecken ridge and Grand Forks is to be built by the Moorhead firm of Bruns & Fiskle.

The first fur trader this season has arrived from the west, and several fur trains are reported a short distance out from the city.

Work on the Pembina Branch has been commenced, and large gangs of men and a number of teams are engaged in clearing and grading the line, commencing near the Northern terminus. The work is done by sub-contract.

The sodding of the small vacant places on the sides of the perch of the city hall gives an improved appearance to our $60,000 concern. And, we might mention parenthetically, we don't know of a place that will stand beautifying better than that same institution.

Another accident by gunpowder explosion took place at the residence of Henry Taylor, Poplar Point, on the 25th. Mr. Taylor had brought home a small parcel of powder, and, in taking it out of a handkerchief in which it was wrapped, it accidentally fell to the ground, and in doing so the paper burst, spreading the powder around. Some of the grains ignited from a fire close at hand, and an explosion ensued. Taylor and his wife and child, who were standing close together, were badly burned about the face and hands.

THE CREEDMOOR MEETING.

New York, June 10.—The board of directors of the National Rifle Association have decided that rifle associations throughout the country be requested to compete at the respective ranges to fix the eligibility of competitors to shoot at Creedmoor for places on the American team of 1877. The shooting at Creedmoor for places will occur between April 1st and July 15th. None can compete there for place who have not previously made at least 180 in competitions of 15 shots at 800, 900, and 1,000 yards. The ultimate selection of the team is to be made in four competitions of two days each at 800, 900, and 1,000 yards, 15 shots at each range, the competitions to occur on July 17th and 18th. The highest aggregates in any three of the competitions are to form the first six of the team. Those will select the next two, and the two next highest scores will determine the reserve.
