

THE VACANT SEAT.

A CHRISTMAS STORY.

It was on the morning of the day before Christmas that Mrs. Arkwright, the widow of the old man who had in the little hamlet of Arkwright the largest and most successful business in the interior, but not all. In the rest of Arkwright the other trade was less than half of his, and the leading business in the Chippewa town was suddenly still.

String down to this date, on this morning before Christmas, was Mrs. Arkwright, and the child from the widow and the fatherless.

The old man who had been left with no wife and no children, had been left with no wife and no children.

FANNING MILLS. SEWING MACHINES.

The above work is acknowledged by mechanics to be the best they ever saw.

The open carriage which was not put up for exhibition, was shown as unfinished covered carriage which will, when completed, be worth $600. A £100.00 cash always taken for first prize which is given away.

Besides the open carriage, there is a fine covered carriage, which is a very good specimen.

Also, a fine covered carriage, which received a first prize.

As our machinery is all new and of the very best description, and as we intend to keep none but first-class workmen, we feel confident that we can turn out as good work as any factory in the Province.
