PRIDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1882.

MUNICIPAL.

The municipal elections on Monday sext appear likely to be somewhat intersating, if not by reason of the strength of the candidates at all erents by the number in the field. For the higher offices the candidates are very much on a par in the interests they represent and their personal popularity, while the number of conneillors presenting themselves of all shades of opinion and with numerous friends cannot fail to make matters interesting and to some extent exciting.

The contest for the mayoralty is between Mr. A. H. Molville and Mr. J. W. Wallace, both gentlemen being well-known and popular. Each has had some experience in municipal affairs, Mr. Wallace and Mr. Melville both having been den. reeve, and each is doing his struct head the polls. As both gentlemen represent in a great measure the same inperests and the same opinions, the result of the election must depend much more on their personal popularity than on any-will contest the resyeship, and the election it is considered will be a close one. Both gentlemen are old and experienced municipal legislators, and as in the case of the mayoralty the personal popularity of the two candidates will be the turning point of the election. While all must admit Col. Deacon has served the town well this year it is considered time he permitted other aspirants to have an opportunity of showing their municipal abilisies, and moordingly for a change we ering he may be elected.

For the first deputy-reeveship Mr. Jos. Corper and Mr. J. MoLennan will strive. Cooper. He is an experienced representasive, active and always ready to attend to business, Mr. Geo. Ingle and Mr. Jan. will likely make a pretty even run, both heing genial and affable gentlemen. By PHE-WAY was not Mr. McIntyre one of the leading members of that famous railway reputation to Mr. Mowat and Mr. S. C. Wood a few months ago, and which efused to do anything in the interests of he town for fear of "comproming the lovernment " Can the Post inform us pinion was on that question? Is not his candidature likely to " compromise he Government " to some extent, too!

IT is said Mr. Peck's few friends in Haliburton do not like the way the Lindsay ring has been endeavoring to run Mr. Peck off the track for one of their own lawyer friends, and intend making every effort to secure his nomination at the Grit convention to-day in that riding. But Mr. Peck's friends need not go to much trouble on his behalf, for even if he did get the nomination his reputation is too well-known for the electors to ever put

Says The Peterboro Review: The charge against Mr. Doherty, one of Mr. Mowat's license officials, of coercing liquer dealers to buy digare from Birm is so serious as to demand full investigation, It will be remembered that a similar charge has been made against a license official in Lindeay. Of course Mr. Mowat commut doing a little private business of their own, so long as they attend to his business of acting as his political agents. Their own proper duty of enforcing the liquor laws appears to be quite a second
