THE MAYORALTY.

We are pleased to state that the ratepayers have unmistakably manifested eir intention of again placing D. Browne, Raya in the civic chair, many influential gentlemen having come forward and proflered their " rote and interest." There is not the slightest doubt but Mr. Browne will be elected by a very large majority-

Both parties are engrassing, and Mr. Dormer's friends profess to receive some Dormer's friends profess to receive some encouragement, but we cannot see where it comes from, unless it be in the East Ward. If it be true that Captain Crandell boasts of driving the electors of that Ward to the polls at his bidding, then Mr. Dormer will get a majority in that Ward; but we know too much of the independence of the electors of Lindsay to believe that Capt. Crandell, or any other ward. We are very sure that his influence in the other parts of the town in slight in the extreme. That the electors will choose Mr. Browne of the town is slight in the extreme. That the electors will choose Mr. Brown as their Mayor for 1871, is a foregone conclusion, despite the offerts of the Captain.

In the South Ward, the old Councillore, Mesars, Thirkell, Koove and Spratt, are making a successful curvass, and will no doubt receive the conditions last week we unintentionally omitted the name of Mr. Stratt. This gentleman stands deservedly high in the estimation of the transpoyers, and we should be sorey that through our mistake he should be sorey that through our mistake he should be inconvenienced. Count Bismark is true to the treaty of lassed on the sindependency of Luxembourg is based solely on its religious adherence to neutrality. The Post observes that if the Government of the United States meditate a war with Great Britain, either directly or through Canada, the words of the President are just those which one might expect to find used. If a similar style had been adopted by the Russian Czar or the Prussian King, it would unquestionably mean mischief. But American Presidents are not to be measured by the aame standard, and we know from experience that on the other side of the Atlantic, language must be largely discounted in order to arrive at its real mean.
