QUITE A FEW of the leading Reformers left town Wednesday for Toronto to attend the Reform convention in Toronto.

THERE appears to be great mortality just now in this district, scarcely a day passing but a funeral takes place somewhere.

THE annual meeting of the South Victoria Agricultural Society takes place on Wednesday, Jan. 17th, for the election of officers, etc.

FRESH FISH, FRESH FISH.—We are daily in receipt of large quantities of fresh white fish and trout, which we will sell at very close prices. Touchburn & McDonald.

A meeting of the board of education was called for Wednesday evening. Messrs. Grace, Heap, Gray, Bradburn, McNeillie and Walters were on hand, but not being the required number no meeting was held.

ELECTION DAY.—Election day passed quietly and although considerable interest was taken in the elections no excitement prevailed till about five o'clock in the evening. At night there were the customary congratulations and fun generally.

ACCIDENT.—On New Year's day after the wedding at Mr. B. F. Jewett's Mrs. G. A. Weese met with a serious accident by falling from the top to the bottom of the stairway. At first it was thought serious injuries had been sustained, but fortunately beyond several painful bruises she received no serious hurt.

MR. B. GRANBY of Ontario, is about the oldest postmaster in Ontario, having held his position since September, 1844. He has also been township clerk of Emily since 1846, and not a complaint has been made against him during his long term of office. That he may continue to occupy successfully his office till 1844 is our warmest wish towards him.

AN ACCIDENT.—A sad and untimely accident occurred to Mr. M. McDougall, an old and respected resident of the east ward, on Friday evening. He was up in the loft of his barn putting down hay for his cow. Being dark he somehow fell through the trap to the floor below falling on his head and receiving such injuries to his head and neck that in spite of all medical assistance he died after a few hours intense suffering. The funeral took place Monday followed by a very large cortege of sorrowing friends and acquaintances.

The high and public schools of Lindsay open on Monday next.
 By some unfortunate accident last week we omitted the name of Mr. McTavish from the list of candidates in the north ward. We much regret having done Mr. McTavish this seeming injustice.
 Messrs. McNeely & Walters are advertising for stone, ties, etc., ready for the Midland branch for Lindsay to the Union depot. The work will be pushed as fast as the weather will permit.
 I WOULD return thanks to Mr. W. L. Russell as agent, and the British American and Mercantile insurance companies, for the prompt manner in which they settled the loss by fire on my mill, burnt the 12th of Nov. Thos Fax.

HUNTING.—The close season for deer commenced on the 1st of January next, therefore it would be well for dealers in venison to beware of the fact, so after that day if any is found in their possession they are liable to prosecution. Hunters should note this likewise.
 GOOD SIGHTING.—Young bachelors who have horses and carriages at their command are in great demand while sleighing is good. Smiles and taffy are given without regard. A young lady lately has retired to the recesses of her chamber to weep, because one of her bachelor friends has driven up to the door of her rival across the way.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Little Johnny Flood, son of Mr. E. Flood, narrowly escaped serious injury if not sudden death Tuesday afternoon in crossing the street between the Jewett house and the Ontario bank. A team passing at the time knocked him down, but being stopped suddenly by Mr. W. Workman, who chanced to be standing near, the horses were stopped in time and the little fellow, who was lying between the legs of one of them, was pulled out without receiving any harm. Strange the fix a boy can get himself into and yet never come to any harm thereby.

FIRE ALARM.—Between five and six o'clock Wednesday evening an alarm of fire was sounded, and as sparks in great profusion were being blown over the frame house on William street opposite the Daly house, it was generally supposed a first-class fire was looming up. Both alarms were sounded vigorously and a rush made for the building, but it was found it was only a quiet looking back chimney that was sporting itself, and if left alone would extinguish itself and did so a few minutes afterwards. This was fortunate, as had a fire occurred on such a stormy night the consequences could not fail to be very serious.

THE other day a visitor of rather verdant appearance stopped to take dinner at one of our leading hotels. About eleven he asked if dinner was ready, and as soon as it was got for him he took off his hat and coat and sat down to the table. When the bill of fare was handed him he looked and then asked what that was for, and on being told replied that all he wanted was as good a dinner as could be given for 25 cents. He was next asked if he would have soup, but replied, "soup be d—; did they think he was going to pay 25 cents for soup?" To make a long story short he was at last accommodated with everything he desired, and now thinks "in all his travels" he has never met as good a house as the Jewett hotel. Whenever he comes to town he is going to stop there, although he did not like that printed paper handed to him just as he was sitting down to eat.

AN INTERESTING AFFAIR.—On New Year's day a pleasing affair took place at Mr. B. F. Jewett's, being the marriage of his daughter, Miss Adelaide, to Mr. W. J. Hopwood, in the dry goods store of Mr. G. A. Weese. The knot was tied in St. Paul's church by Rev. Mr. Jones before a large number of friends and acquaintances, after which all repaired to the home of the bride where an elegant breakfast was in readiness, when a merry time was spent till the noon train took away the newly married couple on their wedding tour, followed by the congratulations and well wishes of all present. The presents to the bride were both numerous and costly, among which were some of the most elegant silverware we have seen. With others we extend our heartiest congratulations and trust the young couple may never have cause to regret the noble resolve they took on New Year's day, but that each new year's day may be as bright as the one just passed. We would recommend other of our Lindsay young men to do likewise. Nothing like the beginning of the year for good resolutions.

THE LINDSAY TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.—This association met in Hamilton's block on Tuesday evening last, the president, Mr. Maguire in the chair. The hall is not very large but was comfortably filled. In addition to the business part of the programme the entertainment committee, presented a pleasing variation in the shape of a couple of short, pithy addresses by the president and J. R. Dundas, M. P., a reading by Mr. Steele, and a couple of exceedingly well rendered quartets by Mr. Jones and Miss Gallon, and Rev. S. Weston Jones and Mr. A. MacGahan. It is the intention of the entertainment committee to fit up an interesting programme for each meeting that cannot fail to please all who can make it convenient to be present. Quite a number of new members were received by simply signing the pledge and it speaks well for the kindly interest of the pledges that not a few of them signed the pledge also. The following vacant offices were then filled for the current year—4th vice president—Mr. Hallett; 5th—Mr. Robert Smyth; treasurer—Mr. H. Gladman. Finance committee—Messrs. McSweeney, Podger and Irwin. Room committee—Robt. Hamilton and W. H. Croft. Entertainment—Mrs. S. Weston Jones and Miss Smart, and Messrs. Berry and MacGahan. Publication committee—Rev. S. Weston Jones and Mr. Gallon. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association on Tuesday, 22nd inst., at some place to be announced in the meantime. Up to the present date about seventy-five in all have signed the different pledges of the association. A noticeable feature of the movement is that whole business establishments are joining the association, and worthy of special mention in this way is the grocery store of Mr. A. Campbell and the dry goods business of Messrs. Dundas & Flavell Bros., and THE VICTORIA WARDER—all the employees of each of these having signed the association pledges. This is certainly an auspicious beginning, and it will be a decided step in the right direction if other stores, business establishments, manufacturers, etc., follow suit. If employers would thus take a kindly interest in the moral welfare of those under their control it would tend much to the benefit of both. It is not necessary to wait until next meeting in order to have these pledges signed. The secretary, Mr. Steele, will be only too glad of all times to receive members and furnish pledge cards in any quantity.

Overrun by the pests or in bulk at Mr. S. F. Jewett's.—35-41.

THE carrier boys of THE WARDER kindly thank the merchants and the people of Lindsay, for the liberal manner in which they handed over the quarter.

33) or DISCOUNT.—Call early and get the full benefit of a rare bargain of the entire stock of samples of a leading wholesale dry goods house at the above discount. R. Smyth.

ALL AND PORTER.—We have now in stock a large supply of first class ale and porter of our own bottling, which we can offer to the trade at Toronto prices. Touchburn & McDonald.

LECTURES ON GAS AND ELECTRICITY.—Two of the safest and most perfect destroyers of pain known for extracting teeth lately introduced in Lindsay by Mr. Gross, dentist, and used at his office with unparalleled success.

STIONS OF THE TRIM.—When you see men, women and children rushing to the far department of R. Smyth's great dry goods, millinery and clothing house, you know that the assortment is large and the prices low. D. C. Trow, manager.

THE Jubilee Singers are again to pay Lindsay a visit, and doubtless will be fully as much appreciated as on the occasion of their visit here a short time ago. The entertainment this time will take place in the Methodist church next Wednesday evening.

EVERWHERE Mr. R. S. Porter announces he is prepared to do all kinds of binding that may be required. All who have anything of the kind to do should give it him and keep their money in the town, especially as he can do it better than can be done anywhere else.

MR. Wm. Scott, an old resident of Cavan, and father of Mr. John Scott, hotel-keeper, Minden, died Monday, aged 88 years. For over 40 years the deceased kept tavern in Cavan. He leaves a large family of stalwart sons. The old landmarks are fast disappearing.

SOME one has sent us some correspondence from Glenasmole, but as he is not our regular correspondent and we do not know who it is we cannot publish it. Our correspondent will therefore please send the same if any notice is to be taken of his communication.

NOW that the municipal elections are over Lindsay will be able to settle down to business for another term. The various contests were conducted with spirit, but with the best of good nature. As is evident from the close run in nearly all neither one has much to brag over the other.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—Principal Grant, D. D., of Queen's University, Kingston, will preach in St. Andrew's church on Sabbath first, (7th), morning and evening, in connection with the communion service. This evening service will be held in the same place at 7:30. A special collection will be taken up on Sabbath.

THE fine appearance of the town hall when completed was shown on the occasion of the show on New Year's night, and for all ordinary troupes could not have been better arranged. When all the improvements are completed that it is intended to make the hall will scarcely be recognized. The work is being pushed as fast as possible and in a very short time now it is thought will be finished.

THE FARMERS.—There was perhaps never a time when farmers were placed in better circumstances than the present. Good crops for the past two or three years, and getting the same safely garnered, have been the means of permitting them to get rid of the burdens imposed upon them by the depression preceding that time. Few indeed are borrowing money on mortgage this winter. If not paying off old loans they are laying past and cheerful faces of the surrounding husbandmen who visit the Lindsay markets are certainly a fitting contrast to those that might be seen some five or six years ago.

THERE will be two eclipses of the sun and two of the moon this year. The first is a very small eclipse of the moon on April 22, visible from parts of America and Australia. The second is a total eclipse of the sun on May 6, visible from Eastern Australia and Central America. The third is a partial eclipse of the moon on the morning of October 16, it being at 49 minutes after 5 a. m., the moon setting in about half an hour, so that it is partly visible here; the middle of the eclipse will be at 54 minutes after six. At the time of the greatest eclipse rather more than one-quarter of the moon's diameter will be hidden. This eclipse will be visible in Europe, America and West Africa. The fourth is an annular eclipse of the sun, on October 30 and 31, invisible in this country.

PRACTICAL JOKING.—It is amusing to see how one practical joker can get ahead of the other occasionally, and how often it is diamond cut diamond. An instance of this kind took place only a few days ago between two well-known residents of the north ward, and who always have had the greatest delight when either could sell the other in some way. The other evening one of these gentlemen, and who-by-the-way is now a city alderman, went into Mr. Keighley's and bought a can of oysters, and for which he paid for like a man. In the meantime this friend of his dropped in and also decided to take home some oysters, but Mr. Keighley having sold out all he had, he concluded to go to Messrs. Touchburn & McDonald's for them. The other gentleman told him frankly he would come in a few minutes later and steal them from him, as he considered one can of oysters was enough to buy and he wanted two cans. The other gentleman got his oysters, or rather an oyster can and having rolled it up neatly in paper waited till his friend came in and then having to go down street hid it carefully away when his friend was not looking. As soon as he got outside the door, however, he perceived that his friend had been too watchful for him, and even then had the treasure can in his hand. Then a scuffle ensued as to the ownership and the gentleman was made to give up one can, but the can he was trying to steal, but the other first friend soon got home, woke up his wife and got her to come down and put on a fire so they could have some systems. But when the can was opened there was a time for, instead of the much coveted oyster there was found a can of beautiful assorted potatoes cut up artistically in nearly a quart of good soft water. The feelings of our friend may be better imagined than described as he thought of the way the oyster he had bought were then slipping down the street of his friend, while he was trying to steal potatoes in carrying him an appreciative mood. But that gentleman will get even with him yet if it costs him his seat of the council board.
