Correspondence of the Worder. Dathy Math.—Our enterprising post-master ever alive to business is putting forth all his energy to have mails ar-rive daily instead of twice a week, and also to secure the asserting of the mails for Islay, Glenarm and Hartley. All this of course is commendable, but in the event of his moving to Manitoba in the spring it would cause some confusion, as there are few here who would have anything to do with it.

who are supposed to nurfure ideas antag-onistic to dishonesty or corruption of any kind in any individual high or low. Well, what do we see, here's an individ-nal who on his own acknowledgment has swindled an honest and industrious community of about $2,000 hard cash, and still and all in the face of this he appears as a fit representative of North Victoria Gritism with its prominent churchmen at his command. This shows clearly what it is to be a Grit, let a man's character be what it will, all are out to a man to his support.

Correspondence of the Warder. RELIGIOUS.—Special services are being held in the Methodist church here, commenced on Wednesday evening of last week. Rev. Mesers. Donese and Fallis conducting the chair.

Ourr. Sarah Ann, wife of Mr. Edwin Mark, and daughter of Mr. Wm. Stewart, of Valentia, was buried in the B.C. church burying ground here last Sunday, con-sumption, that dreadful disease carrying her off at the early age of twenty-six, regretted by all who knew her. The functial was the largest that has been seen in this section of country for a long time. Rev. Mr. Dexsee pleached the funeral sermon in the B. C. church, which was crowded to its atmost capacity,

Political -It is admitted by the friends of Mr. Molatyre here that his only hope of being elected depends on the vote of Mariposa. Well, if this is the only hope I think from indications he is doomed to be disappointed. No use in braggins or boasting, but I can say the indications seem as favorable for Mr. Fairbairn, if not more so, than they did for Mr. Dundas last June, and we all know the result. CATTING HIS HAND IN .- A number of the reports of the inspectors of asylums are being distributed here, with "The compliments of D. J. McIntyre," written on the first page. I heard a remark made by a person who was looking at one of them, that all the time he would be sending Parliamentary papers with his compliments would be very short, and that there was one thing certain the letters M. P. P. would not be attached to his name on any he would send.

SUICIDE.—The sensation of the past few days has been the micide by laudanum of Mr. J. S. Little, one of our oldest and best known resident. He had been a little peculiar for some time and for some days before was more than usually despondent. extracts from an address presented two years ago to Mr John Fell, by Messrs. Howie and Graham, two leading Grits of this township, speak for themselves. Can the same be said of Mr. Peck? Can it be said that he has labored zealously and faithfully in the interests of the county of Haliburton and its people? Is it not rather in the interests of S. S. Peck he has labored? Yet what are we to think of these same men who were foremost in presenting this address being so ready now to throw over Mr. Fell for this Yankee adventurer, who cares only for the indem-nity, who would sell them as he sold the Orangemen any day that it seemed in his interests to do so, and for what? For the PERSONAL.—Mr. Soden and daughter, of Halanboro, are visiting at Mr. Charles Perrin's.

Pron's Cooling. Peck's faithful coolies have started the campaign in good earnest, with book and pencil carefully noting the yeas and nays, defying all the barriers winter can scare up at the beek of their virtuous and unassailable Yankee candidate. It appears a little strange too when we consider that some of these are prominent churchmen in girls of the sake of supporting Mr. Mowat and his men that they may go on robbing Ontario to buy wine and cigars, and taking one man's property and giving it to another, stirring up sectional strife for party ends, robbing the municipalities to put money into the Government coffers to be used in bribing constituencies, as witness the circulars sent out by Mr. Peck a short time ago inclosing a list of the grants made to this county, and saying in effect you ought to vote for Peck, TREMONT HOUSE. some of these are prominent churchmen ing in effect you ought to vote for Peck, see what he has done. Now, if this county is fairly entitled to these grants we are in no obligation to either Mr. Peck or the Government for giving us our own, and certainly the Opposition never opposed these grants; on the contrary a motion was made by the Opposition to the effect that the settlers in the back townships should be more liberally dealt with, and Mr. Mowat turned the crank and his voting machines, of which Mr. Peck is one, voted the motion down, Let every honest man turn out on the 27th and show that he wishes to be represented by an honest man by voting for Mr. Fell, who has zealously and faith-fully labored in the interests of the township and its people.

THE Orillia Packet draws attention to the necessity of projecting the roads in winter such as this. The ruthless denudation of trees that has been going on leaves the country too much exposed to the frostladen winds. Our contemporary's remarks have a general application. Fifty years ago it did not seem impossible to clear too much, but it is very different now. The men who battled with the original forest would think it hard to be compelled to replant, but it will come to that yet, and the sooner we realize the fact the better. When the country was new, nature sheltered wost of the country roads; now, sheltered spots are few and far between, yet still sufficient to enable us to realize the difference in travelling between comfort and ease, and discomfort, trouble and avoidable expense. The remedy for road snow drifts is simple and easy. It is surprising what a difference is caused by a strip or even a row of evergreens. Some men object to a little trouble because it might only benefit others. In this case, while accommodat-ing others, each propertor would equally, or more benefit himself in the improved appearance of his property, and the better shelter and shade to his animals.
