KIDNEY WORT THE GREAT CURE FOR NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, GOUT, CALCULI, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE URINARY SYSTEM.

Midland District Notes. The township of Carleton Place Agricultural Society will hold their spring show for 1883 at their grounds, Williamsburg, on Friday, April 27th.

The Fort Hope Times, alluding to the absence of David Porter, of Ballyduff, the winner of the $15,000 prize in the London lottery, says: "Dave got wind of the detectives being after him, and was too sharp for them. He came to town, drew his little pile, and 'skipped.'"

On Sunday, 11th, John Hughes' house, Muskoka Road, near Severn Bridge, with contents, was burned. Mrs. Hughes was sick in bed, and was barely got out in time to save her life. Mr. Hughes is but a short time married and had just got things comfortable around him. Loss from $300 to $400.

Mrs. Scott, widow of the late John Scott, J. P., one of the pioneer settlers of the district, died at her residence last week. She was a consistent member of the Episcopal church. Two of her sons, William and Harry, are living in Gravenhurst, the eldest, Capt. J. H. Scott, late the steamer Nipissing, is now away in California.

Judge Armour thinks well of the habits of the Grand Jury visiting public institutions, such as penitentiaries, asylums, etc., because it is a safeguard against abuse that might otherwise spring up. We believe, however, that the female departments of some of these places are not so visited; would it not be as well to include them in the supervision?

The races which came off at Beaverton on Thursday and Friday of last week were in every way a success, the track being in excellent condition. There was an unusual number of blacklegs and gamblers of the three-card monte class, who plied their nefarious trade openly in the hotels and on the public streets, in defiance of all law, without the slightest notice being taken of them by the authorities.

During her visit to Toronto, on Saturday afternoon Mrs. Langtry visited St. James' cemetery, in company with Manager Schwab, in search of the grave of her brother, Trevor Le Breton, who died at the age of 23 in the Toronto General Hospital, on September 8, 1879. The records of the cemetery were searched, and the grave located. It is said that Mrs. Langtry intends to beautify the little mound, which is very much neglected.

Patrick McPartland, residing about fifty miles from Kingston, went to Portland on Wednesday, thence to the Soapstone Mines. He started for home across the ice and reached the shore safely, but in crossing the field he lay down to sleep. One Bolton picked him up and conveyed him home, when it was found his arms, legs and body were frozen. He died on Thursday, after suffering terrible agony.

Last week a lively team belonging to Mr. T. Fitzgerald, Peterborough, while returning from Millbrook, through the upsetting of the sleigh, ran away, leaving the driver. They were not heard from till Tuesday, when they were found in the woods near Frazarville. On their way home they had taken to the woods and thus escaped the rigorous hunt made for them. They were there during the whole of the great storm. They were uninjured—the only thing peculiar about them was an abnormal appetite for oats.

There is a case at the general hospital which reflects severely on the conduct of some resident of Barrie. On Saturday night a peasant vendor brought to the hospital a young girl he had encountered in the streets, who told him a pitiable story. Her name is Agnes St. Germain. She had been living at Barrie for five years past, presumably as a domestic servant. A few days ago she had been put on board the train for Toronto, where she arrived in a destitute condition, having neither money or friends in Toronto. She is suffering from inflammation of the lungs.

In Ryde on the 11th, W. P. Christie's camp (John Simington, foreman) was burned, supposed to be the work of an incendiary. Suspicions being very strong against the nearest settler, warrants were issued, and father, son and son-in-law were arrested, and search being made, quite a number of articles from the camp were found in their possession. They were brought to Severn Bridge by constable Jones and tried before a bench of magistrates, and committed to Barrie to await their trial. Mr. Christie's loss will be heavy, for although the camp had shut down for the season, they had a lot of supplies, which with all the camp furnishings were destroyed.

Since Peterborough was first settled, says the Times, there have been many bear hunts in this vicinity, but the first one that ever took place inside of the corporation occurred on Saturday night last, and while it lasted the sport was of the most exciting character. About 9:30 o'clock on the night in question a young man espied a black object on Brock St., near Alexander & Stranger's shop, and at once gave the alarm that a bear was prowling around, evidently half mad with hunger on account of the long and severe winter. Quite a number of young men at once assembled around with clubs, pitchforks, axes, etc., and started in pursuit of the object, which was making rapid progress towards the court house park. The service of two dogs, a large and a small one, were enlisted and the aforesaid black object was chased to the fence, which it endeavored in vain to climb. At last it was tackled by the smaller dog and making no resistance, one of the pursuers, a stalwart engineer, regardless whether he saved "brain" or not made a spring and closed his arms around the object, breaking several of the ribs of—the black umbrell. The Reach, Port Perry and Scougan agricultural society will hold their spring show for 1883 at Manchester, on Tuesday April 24th. An outbreak of typhoid fever has occurred at the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville. Bad water is said to have been the cause of the disease. Farmers are jubilant in expectation of an immense wheat, clover and fruit crop next year. The ground has been protected by snow ever since early in the winter and it would take a long thaw to bare the fields. A large maple sugar harvest is also expected. Mr. John Wells, an old resident of Peterborough, being about to leave for Montreal, was presented by his fellow workmen, in the boot and shoe establishment of Messrs. Robert Stenson & Son, with a serviceable pair of gold spectacles and an elegant gold pen and pencil case. Mr. Alexander Grant, postmaster at Verona, had about $800 in a pocket-book. One day last week he discovered that $200 had been abstracted, and having good ground for suspicion against a certain party, he at once placed the matter in the hands of the Kingston police. On Saturday Detective Sullivan captured the thief at Sharbot Lake and he disgorged $150 of his ill-gotten funds. The arrest was promptly and cleverly made. He will have to stand his trial. Gentlemen, says the Woodville Advocate, are in the village at present for the purpose of organizing a joint stock company to operate the cheese factory situated in this village. They argue, and rightly too, that more interest will be taken in the prosperity of the institution of its patrons are also proprietors. A meeting will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Eldon house, Woodville, for the purpose of discussing the matter, when we hope to see the business energetically handled. Mr. H. C. Gibbs, proprietor of the Oshawa knitting factory, has been negotiating for the removal of his factory to Fort Hope. He wanted that town to give him a suitable building and exempt it from a taxation for ten years, and also a cash bonus of $5,000. The Port Hope council appointed a committee to examine the matter and report, and their report was against giving the bonus and privileges asked for. The council endorsed the report of the committee, so Oshawa retains her knitting factory for the present.

North Carolina's Wild Woman. Some months ago, in one of the swamps between the mountains of western North Carolina, great excitement was caused by the discovery of a woman, seen sometimes in a perfectly nude condition, and again clothed in skins roughly fastened together with withes of live oak. All attempts to capture her were futile, as she was very fleet of foot, and escaped into the swamp. After she had been pursued for a month, she suddenly disappeared, and it was supposed she had been drowned in one of the stagnant pools of the swamp. On Tuesday last, while some farmers were hunting in the swamps near here, one of their number, who strayed away from his companions, was startled by hearing a quick cry and seeing a tall woman run off swiftly through the undergrowth. He reported the fact, and since then parties have been out every day attempting to capture her. The description given of her indicates that she is the wild woman of North Carolina. She has been seen by many hunters, who describe her as being very tall, lithe and muscular. Her hair, which is long and matted, falls below her waist, and is coal black. It has been ascertained that her hands are between Blonkey's and Young's bridges, a large portion of which section is almost impenetrable. One morning she was surrounded by Joseph Artega, William Sizer and Caleb Tunis, three well-known hunters. As the former attempted to seize her she tore up a small sapling, and so fiercely assailed and wounded the men that they were forced to beat a hasty retreat. Other attempts will be made to capture her.

IMPROVED BUTTER COLOR A NEW DISCOVERY.

For several years we have furnished the Dairy men of America with an excellent artificial color for butter so meritorious that it met with great success everywhere, receiving the highest and only prize at both International Dairy Fairs. It is not by patient and scientific research we have improved in several points, and now offer this new color as the best in the world. It will not turn rancid. It is the Strongest, Brightest and Cheapest Color Made. And, while prepared in oil, is so compounded that it is impossible for it to become rancid. It is free from all irritations, and of all other oil colors, for they are liable to become rancid and spoil the butter. If you cannot get the "Improved" write us to know where and how to get it without extra expense. WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt. Factory at Stanstead, P. BASIS OF BUSINESS. Explanatory.

To gain the public confidence is essential to business success, and it can only be gained by a steady course of faithful dealing with them. We believe that legitimate business cannot be conducted on a good sound basis without a reasonable profit, and as a general rule we will not make sales without profit. This is business. "To sell below cost and never mind profits" is not our maxim. Our aim and effort is to show the public that we do place at their service a SUPERIOR CLASS OF GOODS IN OUR LINES—for at least as low (and we believe lower) a living profit as can be had in this town. Our expenses are so light, having neither rent, journeymen or clerks to pay; that we can make business pay on a SMALLER PROFIT than anyone not having these advantages. Remember that in all lines we sell, "Integrity of value and quality of goods" is our maxim. In Watches this is especially so. We have WATCHES worth buying. Watches worth wearing. Watches worth every cent a man pays for one. ELGIN WATCHES, WALTHAM WATCHES, WATERPROOF CASE WATCHES, and others. In SILVER PLATED TABLEWARE and in SPECTACLES and OPTICAL GOODS we carry the largest and finest stock in Town, and are determined to keep ahead.
