THEY appear to have had a little Fenian explosion in the Covernment buildings at Ottawa, some one having thrown a bottle supposed to contain explosives in through one of the windows. The Winnipeg Free Press of the 31st ult. says:-" Although the emigration movement did not commence as early this season as last year, now that the movement has fairly started, not a train arrives without furnishing its quota to swell the population of the North-West. Commodious stations and waiting rooms have been erected at convenient points along the line, and the arrangements for transhipping freight and passengers are in much more perfect state.

There is every indication of a large immigration from Ireland during the present season, the condition of the people rendering some such solution of the difficulty necessary. No doubt the landed system entails a great deal of hardship on the small farmers, but, at best, the land fortable living to the people crowded upon it, even at nominal rent. With the exercise of the same habits of frugality they are compelled to adopt in Ireland, the persons now at the point of starvation could acquire a comfortable home and independence and if they could only be got to come here and take the free soil awaiting the industrious tiller to produce a rich and abundant return. If the Irish small farmer only knew the possibilities within his reach here, he would not long continue squabbling in poverty over a few acres of land in his native country.
