News of the Week.

A despatch from Chicago states that St. Boniface, Man., has been attacked by the dreadful scourge of smallpox, with fatal result in nearly twenty cases. The disease was caught in the majority of cases by attending the funeral of a victim the cause of whose death was concealed.

Thomas Wilson, of Dundas, is building an immense steel boiler for the propeller St. Magans. The mer, have been workeing at it since March 1st, and do not expoot to have it finished before Julye It will be built in sections at Hamilton, which will take two months, and when completed will weigh about 18 tons.

Charles Slack, of Simoos, sloped with a young girl named Thorn, and the couple were married by the Rev. Mr. Wood, of Washington, Stack was subsequently are sted and tried before the Simeon magistrates on a charge of abducting his bride, who is worth $20,000 in her own right, but the case against him was dis-

An aged woman, housekeeper for Mr. Stover, of Woodstock, died very suddenly on Saturday. Three hundred and five dollars were found on her person, which was deposited in the bank. She has a son, supposed to be a printer. His whereabouts is unknown. Deceased went by the names of Rose Copp and Vurn-

Thomas Porter and James Smith, of about 14 or 15, were out at a completed by September. In the Smiths, where Katic Turner was staving for a few days, and aceing some wild goese near the bay, Forter having a gun with him, the two by the hardest voyageur took place Sat-Inda went into the house for Smith's gun, which they proceeded to load. After putting on the cap young Smith let the hammer down too anddenly, and the gun went off. The poor girl, who happened to be standing in front of it, received the canada a deep acasation in that neighborhood, and all sympathize with the paronts of the unfortunate girl.

The trial of a steam plow was made last Friday, on a farm near Brampton. The machine has eight plans attached. When the field was reached five of the eight blown were lowered and an experiment commenced. There were about one hundred farmers present, and all took great interest in the operation. The mafarity of them were pronounced in opinion as to the very satisfactory results, The plane turned up live furrows of two, three and four inches in depth, and twoive inches in width. The field was a grass one. The plows were taken up and down the held, and the test was very satisfactory in all sections. The whose eight plans were next placed in medion, and sufficient results were obtained to show conclusively that the imple-ment is a success. It is claimed that when in perfect working order 25 acres of sod can be plowed during ten hours' work. Its average rate of speed is placed at three

The funny editor of the Branden Sun remarks := A large number of Ontario propie leave Brandon for home in a few days. They came up last fall, attracted by the accounts of the climate and the weather generally which appeared in the castern newspapers from time to time. They came early and have stayed late in order to take in the whole of the wine ter and spring season, and now, theroughly disappointed and disgusted, they return ho of There was not a blizzard or any thing of the nature of a blizzard, all win-ter, and as to the spring floods bab, they

The May report of the Bureau of Industries says of the wheat crop;—There is, indeed, a singular contrast in the reports for the eastern and western sections; for, whil those for one agree in saying that the prospect has not often been worse, those for the other are not less ununimous in saying that it was never better.

A noticable peculiarity in the effects of winter throughout the western section of the Province is, that in the southern counties the wheat has been injured most on gravel and sandy lands, but in the northern counties this condition is reversed, the wheat having had adequate protection on even the highest lands. It is remarked however, that where the high ground in the south was sheltered from winds the wheat is well preserved, and the importance of planting the borders of farms with trees is urged by many correspondents.

For fifty years Myra Clark Gaines, now seventy eight years of age, has fought in the courte her rights to property in New Orleans. Decisions were made in her favor some time ago under which she could have dispossessed some four hundred families holding under titles granted by the city. But she did not do so, believing them to be innocent holders, and she continued to fight the city. A decision of the master in chancery has just been confirmed by the judges, by which she recovers from the city $1,925,067. In her legal struggles she had often been corely present for mency, but she never took advantage of decisions that would have given it to her at the expense of the innocent purchasers.

A farmer from the neighborhood of Berlin was journeying eastward by G. T. R. express is company with his wife last night, and on the way made the acquaintance of a genial stranger, who succeeded in thoroughly captivating the old couple, Just as the train was extering the Union station. Toronto, the genial stranger recollected that he had some goods to take out of the express office, and as he had nothing but a cheque for $500 he was in a quandary as to how he could pay the charges. His travelling companion, not wishing to see his newly found friend inconvenienced, promptly offered to lend him $50, and this offer was accepted by the swindler, who gave him in return the worthless cheque. He then left, promising to immediately return with the money, and his failure to do so did not excite the old man's suspicion until the traits left the station. At the Don station train left the station. At the Don station he got off and staved his case to the stationmaster, who, however, could do nothing to aid him. The matter was reported to the police,

The party of gentlemen who left on Saturday to view the progress of track-(lower, Carleton county, recently, leaving laying on the Canada Pacific railway, his properly to his daughter. He had hidden some wealth in his cellar, of which nothing was known. The other night following particulars of the trip were STEAM ENGINES & BOILERS two men entered the house while the kindly furnished by Mr. Peter Mitchell, daughter was sleeping, and digging a huge hele in the cellar secured the gold sturgeon Falls, beyond Lake Nipissing, a and made off.

M. P. The party travelled as far as Sturgeon Falls, beyond Lake Nipissing, a distance of about three hundred miles from here. The country around Lake Nipissing is described as being very fine. The land is well suited for settlement, and the timber of first rate quality. Immense quantities of it were being brought down, and Mr. Worthington, the contractor, stated that with all the rolling stock and motive rower which the comstock and motive power which the com-pany got upon the line, it will take until October before the engagements already made for carrying can be fulfilled. The country between Pembroke and Mattawa presented a very uninviting appearance, consisting largely of boulders, burnt stumps, etc. Beyond Mattawa, from the time the Nipissing waters were struck, the country was magnificently wooded, and considered one of the best timber re-sources of Canada. The quantity that will be carried by the railway will in iting him around several times. He was fearfully mangled, almost every bone in his body being broken. He was a young man, highly respected, and leaves a wife and two small children.

A sad affair occurred at Inlia Bay, near Manitembia Island, on Saturday morning

Probably the most miraculous escape from death by drawning ever experienced urday morning at Lachine. It seems the tugboat "John MacDonald" had towed a valuable rait of timber from Chateauguay to the head of the Lachine Rapids with the intention of leaving it in the South charge in her breast and died immediated by. It is supposed that a part of the charge lodged in her heart. The affair caused a deep sensation in that neighbor. the more dangerous and rocky south the more dangerous and rocky south channel, whence escape is rarely made. The strain was so great that the hawser parted and the raft was dashed down the tortnous rapids at lightning speed. The men on board, 13 in number, assembled on the front of the raft perfectly power-less to save themselves from their imminent peril. They had not proceeded far, however, before a terrible shock was felt, the raft having struck a reef and parted in two pieces. The men still parted in two pieces. The men still escaped unburt and managed to raise a sail with the intention of steering the raft through the rocks, which arose on every through the rocks, which arose on every side. The waves swept over the hardy raftsmen, threatening them with destruction every moment, and finally the whole number took refuge by climbing to the top of the mast. The raft struck a rock the second time, smashing it into fragments, and the men were precipitated into the water, but still held on to the mast for dear life. They had nearly reached the foot of the rapids by this time, and soon drifted out into still water. An the foot of the rapide by this time, and soon drifted out into still water. An Indian passing in a large boat, seeing their perilous position, came to their assistance and rescued them in a half drowned position, several of the men having nearly succumbed from exposure to the icy weather. The raft, which is of oak, is the property of Mr. John Calvin, of Kingston, and is valued at $6,000.

In the modern keen race of business competition the dyspeptic is heavily handicapped, and is like a man aghting with one hand tied. The brain is disabled from insufficient phosphorized fat ter, and as to the spring floods—bab, they have seen begger in their own back yards in Ontario than they did in the valley of the Assiniboine. They wouldn't stay in such a country. Down home they can see more blizzards, slush and mud in one week than Manitoba can show up in a year. They have been grossly imposed upon; even the cold is nothing to blow about. We are serry on account of these people. They return very angry, and will circulate all sorts of stories about the
