Special to the Public.

Having purchased the Grocery and Liquor business of Mr. R. Touchburn we would respectfully ask a continuance of that trade, and in fact a share of the trade of all requiring goods in our line.

Our stock will be found complete in every department, and it will be our aim to serve our customers faithfully and of the best, and at as low a price as can be obtained in any store in town.

Give us a trial, and we will show you that in choice Sugars, Teas, and all General Groceries we mean as we say. Our stock of Liquors and Wines will also be found complete and of the best brands to be obtained in Canada.

Give us a call and inspect our goods. We shall always be pleased to show you our stocks, and we are certain we shall have no difficulty in convincing you that it will pay to buy at the Corner Grocery.

The Dunsford School Grants.

To the Editor of the Warder.—In looking over the Lindsay Post of the 7th inst. I find that the correspondent wishes to know of the trustees how it comes that the grant is not as large as it should be. Now any man in this section might well know the cause. At the first place a great many took their children and sent them to other schools, some to Fenelon, some to Kingston and some to the Red school house and more to Emily. A great many kept them at home, some of them I am sorry to say for nothing, as some say it is only to get them out of the road at home. I also find a long letter in the Post of the 14th inst. purporting to be written by a Trustee. If it was signed by the trustee it would be nearer the truth, as the communication never was written by a Trustee. Our trustees are all sane men and they would not write such a pack of lies and falsehoods and lies. In the first place the writer says that a large number of the children has left the school or rather removed. Now, I defy the writer to count more than two, a Mr. Patrick Collins, and the parties in his place have just the same number, whereas Mr. Collins took his children, together with Mr. White, and sent them to Miss Gerly, in Emily, for a while in the year of 1882. Then, again, as for the boys of our section being engaged in drawing wood and grain to market. Now, I should like the writer to name the boys or any one of them that was kept away from school on that account. No, not to my knowledge, and again if any older boys were taken away from school there have been more younger ones started to come in their place, but we defy the writer to name one that one way or the other draw grain or wood to market and on that account left school. Then, again, he says that there are two or three quarrelsome people in the section who delight to pick up topics for argument's sake. Now, I must say that until he came into our section that we had peace. But thank God it is his last term for love or money, let alone pay him. I would not say this if I did not know the voice of the people. I for one myself have not eighteen months schooled my two boys. There was no use sending them, for they told me that he could not learn with him. He had better get some one the next time to blow his horn than himself, as none of the trustees ever wrote the article referred to. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your valuable paper, I remain yours truly, JAMES BELL, secretary and treasurer of school section No. 2, Vernal.

Rowdiness at Minden.

To the Editor of the Warder.—As I understand the Post denies the truth of your report concerning a family being obliged to take refuge in a neighboring house in the middle of the night; also that shooting on the Sabbath day is indulged in I will ask for space to say what I know of the matter. Whenever you get the reports they are solid facts, and if necessary I will give you the names of all the parties and so satisfy even the Post. For another sample of how the Sabbath is observed here I might say that one Sabbath not long ago I heard a great noise on the street and looking out I saw a resident well known here chasing one of the Fogue boys up street with something very much like an axe in hand and being too drunk to catch him threw it after him. The same day some chain was dragged from Pearce's out into the street, also a barrel full of such and such rolled from Mr. McIntosh's door into the middle of the street, and a sewing machine frame broken and thrown into the middle of the street also, and all supposed to be done by the same party. It is said he went to Mr. McIntosh the next day and begged him to overlook it. Now, this was known to the authorities, as magistrate Fielding was passing at the same time, and this same individual went for him and called him a lot of funny names, although I do not think the word gentleman was used. They evidently were not as good friends then as now.

BALSOVER.

Correspondence of the Warder. MR. A. E. STABBACK, formerly a school teacher here, intends coming here to start a store shortly.

DUNS FORD.

Correspondence of the Warder. PERSONAL.—The Rev. Mr. Tully, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church at Dunsford, but now of Mitchell, preached here last Sunday to a large congregation.

SONYA.

Correspondence of the Warder. OBITUARY.—In this issue we chronicle the death of Mr. Patterson, of Pinedale, a young man of promising abilities. Consumption was the cause of his death. The mourning family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

BLACKWATER.

Correspondence of the Warder. THE STATION.—The first coat of paint is being put on the station to preserve it from the weather.

LIFFORD.

Correspondence of the Warder. TEMPERANCE.—The regular monthly meeting in connection with the M. C. temperance association at Lifford was held on Friday evening, 14th inst. A short but well selected programme was arranged and rendered by the members, consisting of readings, recitations and music. The singing of Miss Annie Chambers, a young lady of this neighborhood, deserves special mention, being the first time she has made her appearance as a singer before the public. She deserves credit and encouragement. The house was well filled and every one apparently well pleased. The next regular meeting will be held on Friday evening, 19th October, when there will be a privilege given to each member to express themselves on the temperance question. This is expected to be one of the best meetings ever held. Free to all.

LITTLE BRITAIN.

Correspondence of the Warder. ODDS AND ENDS.—Not as many gone to the Industrial show in Toronto this year as on former occasions. Messrs. Mark & Gee intend showing at the township show in Oakwood bells of their own manufacture.

CHARIVARI.

Mr. Edwin Hardy, who brought his bride home last week, was serenaded in the old time style by the youngsters of the village, who are always on the alert for such occasions. The little fellows were perfectly satisfied with the response the happy groom made to their discordant sounds of welcome.

SICKNESS.

Mr. Obeliah Rogers, an old and respected resident here, is seriously ill for some time. It is to be hoped he will rally and regain his usual health. Mrs. Adams, wife of Mr. John Adams, is also seriously ill from some affection of the stomach, tumor or something of that nature.

MATRIMONIAL.

Dame rumor says that one of our prominent citizens, a widower, and a young lady also of this place, intend to have an interview with the parson this week in order to have the knot matrimonial tied hard and fast. No names at present given, but if there is any depending on the old bye-word "what every body says must be true," the rumor will come true. Two or three more are also supposed to be in contemplation. Particulars in due time.

OMEMEE.

Correspondence of the Warder. WAR NEWS.—There is a rumor that the Salvation Army is contemplating an attack. The enemy here is well fortified and will fight to the bitter end. A spy from the army has been reconnoitering; he thinks the place can be stormed.

THE RING.

Three Omemee married ladies entertained their friends to an exhibition of sparring without gloves. Our masculine "sluggers" may look to their laurels.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. W. Elliott, who for a year and a half has filled the position of H. M. in the H. S., has removed to Markham to take charge of the H. S. there. His place in Omemee is not yet filled. Though Mr. Elliott had some political difficulties in Omemee he was a very successful teacher and enjoyed the good-will of his pupils.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Neil Beaton, the well known proprietress of the Bradburn house, Omemee, died on Friday evening at half-past eight. Till within a few months she seemed to be in the enjoyment of perfect health, but a cancer on the stomach soon caused her death. Mrs. Bradburn was known throughout the province for many years as an agreeable and hospitable landlady, sparing no pains in making her guests comfortable. For over 25 years she had lived in Omemee, where in her quiet way she succeeded in making considerable wealth, and at the same time doing much to assist those around here in time of need. She was buried on Sunday in the Emily cemetery, an immense concourse following the body to the grave. She leaves a son and daughter, Mr. Wm. Bradburn and Mrs. C. Jewett. She was a sister of Mrs. W. L. Russell, of Lindsay.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.

The proper requisition having been signed and delivered to our worthy reeve, Dr. Norris, it is said that Friday, the 29th day of Sept., is to be set apart as a civic holiday.

FROST.

On Sunday night there was very heavy frost. In this village and through Emily great quantities of garden stuff were destroyed. Ice formed half an inch thick on still water.

ACCIDENT.

On Thursday evening Miss S. Blackwell met with a very painful accident. She was in the act of closing the shutters when by some means the stick holding up the window was knocked out, allowing the sash to fall on to the finger of her right hand which was on the sill, causing such a severe bruise to the finger that she has since been compelled to carry the arm and hand in a sling.

CAUGHT.

On Saturday morning while Mr. R. English was out fishing he met with a peculiar accident. He had got a large "lunge" on his hook and in pulling it in the fish made a jump and freeing itself the bait flew into the air, descending with sufficient force to put one of the hooks through one side of the fisherman's nose. Bob, of course, took in the situation and rolled up the line and made his way back to the village, where he called on Mr. John Blackwell, who procured two pairs of pinchers and after breaking off the barb, freed the captive. Bob is now sorry that he didn't get a ring and insert it in the hole and pass himself off for a Sioux Indian.
