OUR SILKS.

A good article is always sought after, but the securing of it is not the simplest matter, particularly in the selecting of Silk Goods. The merchant's judgment and honesty must be largely depended upon, as people in general have little confidence on their own judgment in silk selecting.

For years we have been seeking a silk that would combine beauty of finish, pureness of fibro, at a low scale of prices. This we have secured in the

"ITALIAN GROSS GRAIN

A silk we unhesitatingly assert is unequalled for value in the trade. It is the product of the greatest manufacturer in Lyons, France, and our claim that they are first choice goods is best attested to by the fact that every piece is stamped with the maker's trade mark.

The popularity of the Italian Gross Grain Silks has induced many French and English makers to copy them. But do not be deceived. The chief resemblance is color of border and manner of numbering. Have none but the Genuine Italian Gross Grain, the best make for the least money in the market.

The little hand engine did some good work at the convent hie pasterday. It is evident it is not played out yet by a long The plant and stock of the Torento World was sold by the sheriff on Saturday for $250. The former proprietors purchased it, and will resume publication next week.

An Arkenses grand jury has indicted a faction of the peace for attempting to play on a clarionet. This will for a time satisfy the country that the grand jury system is not an entire failure.

The health inspector is after those who are neglecting to clean up their yards with a sharp stick. If these warnings are not heeded, more vigorous measures will be taken. Look to your yard at once.

Our correspondents will kindly over-fook our crowding out so many of their interesting communications again this week. Next issue we hope to have more from to give them.

It may be a little late in the season but we want to give our gardening friends a brand new and strictly reliable method of making a hot bed in a short space of time. This is the way: Apply a lighted match to the straw ticking:

The regular style of announcing a birth in the family now is to send out illuminated cards suitably inscribed—a pale blue in silver letters for a boy, and a pale pink card decorated with roses and silver for a girl. If it should happen to be twins, why why there's no need making any announcement of it at all. Bad news ments recently, and now is miled up as well as any business place in town. It is a great improvement on the former large and unwickly store. Mr. Robson also informs us he is going into the culture of all kinds of garden stuff this spring and will soon have on hand all kinds of garden produce, greens, etc., at his store. This will prove very scoeptable to our townspeople.

There is something decidedly strange about the accident by which John Morriarty lost both his arms at Cobourg Thursday. On Wednesday Moriarty went about the town begging, claiming to be an arm'ess man, while he had his arms inside his shirt and his cost buttoned around his neck. From appearance he was certainly an armices man, and succeeded in reising considerable money from the kindly dispused. Next day he had his both arms taken off above the cluow in a railway accident. Moriarty is a man about forty by a years of age.

plate that employee of the company, those suspicions had been aroused by a local datestive, twice reported that it was all right. The detective persevered, however, and healty uncovered the frank.

The lale pants, in which the wearer couldn't how to a ledy, or step across an orange seed without having to go home in a barrel, are giving way (not the giving way that necessitates a fellow keeping his overcoat on at a party in a stem-heated room, but the other kind) to a nether limb garment that doesn't have to be put on with a shoe-horn and pulled off with a hoot-lack.
