the Canadian officers has made its appearance in this neighborhood again. A numrun day and night. He has been very successful in relieving the sufferers, for no deaths have occurred since he commenced practice here.

THE Rev. Mr. Washington occupied the pulpit of the frame church here last Sunday, and preached a sound, practical ser-mon in the morning and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to a large number of communicants. Also in the evening the Rev. Mr. Powers, from Dunsford, preached in the brick church to a crowded house, and during the delivery of his sermon he kept his hearers spellbound by his eloquence and thoughtful teachings. We have no doubt but Mr. Powers is well received wherever he goes to preach.

DUNSFORD.

Correspondence of The Warder. In looking over the Lindsay Post of the tells the readers of that paper that two young men cradled in two days and four hours a twenty acre field of spring wheat with the Hamilton reaper. Now, the reaper was not quite one and one-half days, and those who have run a reaper know and those who have run a reaper know and the statements. He seek refuge in Trout lake. This is a very unusual occurrence in this district. Some appear to think they were more scared than was necessary.

Runaway.—One day last week Mr Eastman's horse ran away and made things quite lively. He and a neighbor's well that in a stumpy and stoney field no reaper can cut fast. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones nor cry out Ananias to others. But what might I wonder at this correspondent? He stated that Mr. Mosgrove was a very successful teacher in Dunstord and was much liked by both parents and children.
I defy the correspondent of the Post to point me out one half-dozen children in the section, in fact one, that will bear him out in this statement.

SELF BINDER .- Mr. Sylvester tested one of his self-binding machines on the farm of Jabez Thurston, in a very heavy field of green oats, which is the most severe test that a machine could have, and all who have handled machines know well that green oats are hard to cut. There was a large gathering in the field to wit-ness the working of the machine, and all with one secord declared that it was the best self-binder they had ever seen work-ing. It bound tight and clean, and seemed to be very easy on horses. Mr. Valen-tine seemed to hand the machine with great case, and judging from the manuer that he exerted himself Mr. Sylvester has got the right man in the right place. Having seen many other binders of different makes I consider Mr. Sylvester's ahead of all other machines of that kind, and would strongly recommend all farmers intending to use self-binders not to give their orders for any other machine until they see the Sylvester binder, and then I am thoroughly convinced that they will buy no other. In fact I for one would rather pay for the Sylvester than to get some of the others for nothing that I have seen in the field, and I am certain that I and don't profess to keep "so-called" cheap watches, which are little better than toys, and dear at any price.

MILLBROOK.

LATING THE CORNER STONE. -The laying of the Corner Stone of the new St. Thomas church, Millbrook, took place at 2 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, Sept. 16. Col. Williams, M. P., kindly consented to undertake that interesting job. A SAD ACCIDENT. - On Saturday, the 8th inst., the third son of Mr. Peter McNeinst., the third son of Mr. Peter McNevau, living about a mile south of Rosedale, lost his life by the horse running away. Robert and a brother were drawing rails from one part of the tarm to another when some of them fell off the waggon and frightened the horses, which saused them to run away. The younger brother jumped, but Robert who was driving and who tried to stop the horses, to undertake that interesting job. A number of able speakers were present, including the Rev. Dr. O'Mers, of Port Hope, Rev. Dr. Smithett, of Omemee, Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, of Ashburnham, most of the clergy of the deanery, Judge Benson, of Port Hope, Dr. Brereton, M. P. P., Bethany, and others.

driving and who tried to stop the horses, was thrown violently to the ground. Whether he was run over or crushed between the wheels and s log is not known; but he received injuries that caused his death a very short time after the secident. Some of the right ribe were broken and forced inwards against the lung, which was badly lacerated, and there was a severe contusion at the base of the skull. Deceased was buried in Menday in the cemetery at remelon Falls, and his funeral was very largely attended. It is needless to say that his sorrowing relatives have the sincere sympathy of the whole community. RUNAWAY ACCIDENT. -On Sunday afternoon as Mr. James Widdis was driv-ing eastward, past Dr. Turner's, his horse ran away. Mr. Harry Richards was in the buggy with him. Mr. Richards was the buggy with him. Mr. Richards was thrown out, but was not injured. The horse got one of his legs over the shaft, when he immediately began to kick violently, smashing the dashboard, and running into the ditch, capsized the buggy, which became completely demoralized. The horse ran into the wire fence in front of Mr. Argue's lot, and was cut up. Mr. Widdis had his leg broke.

MIDLAND.

DISASTROUS FIRE. - About 7 o'clock Friday morning a fire started somewhere in the rear of Slaven's drug store on King street, and rapidly spread to the adjoining premises occupied by Mr. Stafford, engineer. Before half an hour had elapsed the entire range of buildings extending from the Queen's hotel to the corner of Dominion avenue was a mass of flames.

The names of the sufferers and insurances are given below: W. Rogers, hotel, loss on buildings, insured in Queen's $2,000; on contents $2,000, insured in Commercial Union for $150. H. S. Ruby, fruit store, loss on buildings on contents $1. We soon expect to hear from the Per-rin correspondent of the Post now. Like S.S. Peck, he will seen be returning from the north-west to winter in a more lavor-ed clime and in reach of better whiskey. Possibly we will hear something of the Grit convention then on the town line. store, loss on buildings on contents $1,000, and insured in City of London, on building $850; insurance on stock, $175.

Mr. Greesey, loss on household goods; no insurance. Phillip & Co., tinware and stoves; insured in Glasgow, M. & London, for $800, which covers the loss. J. V. Hastings, jeweler, loss on stock and household goods $3,000; insured in the Glasgow & London of the Scugog river, opposite Mr. Wilson's place. The procession will leave the village about 10 s.m. and march to the place. There will be a platform meeting on the age to stock; insured in Hartford for $750. In the sexpected to address the crowd. A big time is expected.

CHOLERA.—We are sorry to say that the Canadian diolers has made its appearance in this neighborhood again. A number of cases have occurred during the past week, and Dr. Allen is kept on the sured in the Hartford for $900. Clarkson house, slight damage; insured in the Caledonia, amount not known; contents insured in the Western for $2,000, only slight damage. G. Strathern, jeweler, stock removed; only slight damage.

MINDEN. Correspondence of The Warder. Now that I have returned home I am able to take my place on THE WARDER staff of correspondents. During my absence I find some very hard things have been said against me here by some parties calling themselves publishers. They have even charged me with wearing men's clothes. My Minden friends always gave me credit for being too fashionable in dress. But so long as I please myseif I do not see that it is any one's business

I FIND you are again going for S. S. Peck. Between THE WARDER on one side and the officials fighting one another here people outside must think we are a strange lot of people.

THERE are some people here who are making serious charges against our regis-trar, whether truthfully or not I have no means of judging. From my knowledge of the parties making them I do not place much dependence in the accusations, it being more through personal matters than anything else that the trouble began. It is moreover doing those making the charges considerably more harm than good, and if persisted in, from all I can learn, will be the means of very much curtailing their usefulness in this district, if not in the end doing them great injury.

MR. S. S. Peck is expected back in a week or so from Dakota where he has been "rusticating" for some time back. He is said to have secured some splendid crops on his farm there, which will give him a handsome return. This with his $1,200 a year salary as stipendiary magistrate here should make him quite comfortable during the coming winter. THERE have been many visiting in this village during the season but being away I cannot give you a list. Minden is becoming quite a fashionable summer re THE weather continues fine and crops are all about harvested. Potatoes and turnips are all that are left to house, FENELON FALLS.

MILL ACCIDENT. - In the red mill last Saturday a lad named Dissette had the thumb and two fingers of his right hand badly lacerated, and the bone of one part-Iv cut through by the lath saw which he was attending.

A SINGULAR CASE. - A resident of this village had a rib broken many years ago, and one day last week, during a fit of coughing, it was broken again in the same place. Dr. Lowe, who was called in, says the case is a very singular one, and that it is the first of the kind he ever met with, either in his practice or reading.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION. -On Saturday

an ordinary looking but somewhat flat-footed man, a little under six feet tall, footed man, a little under six feet tall, and apparently between thirty and forty years of age, made his appearance on the village streets carrying a little, black satchell. He was a peripatetic sewing machine doctor, at least he said he was, and applied at several houses for employment in that capacity; but from facts that afterwards came to light there is reason to tear that he had another and much less honest pursuit. By Tuesday's mail constable Nevison received a circular, signed by J. W. Murray, government detective, giving a description of one Thos. Crooks, repairer of sewing machines, and offering a liberal reward for his arrest on a charge of larceny and burglary. As the description exactly tallied with that of the stranger, who, moreover, had said that his name was Crooks, constable Nevison at once arrested him, put him in the lock-up and telegraphed the glad tidings to detective Murray, who arrived at the Falls on Wednesday, and left next morning for Peterbore with his prisoner, who is supposed to have been implicated in the numerous recent burglaries, including that of the postoffice, in that town. Detective Murray, with whom we had a few inutes' conversation, says that he went to Peterbero a short time ago in consequence of the burglaries, and from there tracked the prisoner back to Toronto, and then finding that he had left the city, issued the circular that led to his arrest. Picnic.-A picnic came off last week in school section No. 3. There was a good time and a big dance at night, where the boys danced till broad daylight and went home with the girls in the morning. A WEDDING expected soon.

OAKWOOD. Correspondence of The Warder.

THE DANCE.-The charge against the dance last week is that it has a tendency to draw, and does draw, many social charms from home, and induces our young people to look elsewhere for enjoyment. The charge is a grave one. The home is the basis of all felicity; it is the foundation of individual and national prosperity ven. Home! That name thrills along every fibre of the soul, and touches every shord of the human heart as with angelic fingers. Home! On! the vileness of anything that impairs its completeness or mars its happiness. Home! Thou bul-wark of the British nation! thou bulwark of our glory, of our power and of our hap-piness, I raise my right arm and my voice in thy defence from the ravages of that social fiend, the dance. We appeal to every lever of a happy home, everyone who has ever known or ever expects to know the delights of a happy home, to assist us in transporting this monster and enemy of home to the nations of heathendom, where their dance is superior and more innocent than ours. Home! The dearest word of any language in the world. The Rev. W. K. Tweedie, D. D., says, Accident.—One day last week Mr. F.

McDougall had his left toot badly crushso much attention now concentrated upon ed by a stone which he and his partner, home; its laws and general constitution, be made what they ought to be, and then upheld in all their pre-eminence as vital forces in the souls of men. We can never clear our streets of youthful depredators if ill-conditional homes be constantly pouring forth new criminals, just as we can never have a flowing fountain dry. The fountain-head must be medicated ere

And the dance is the enemy of this dearest of earthly things. Ireland exports beef and wheat and lives on potatoes. A home that sanctions and participates in dancing may not inaptly be compared to such a country. Sheridan and Lownsboro are the buyers, HOLIDAYING. -Quite a number from our hamlet and community visited Forepaugh's exhibition in Peterboro and pronounced it a grand affair of the kind. A prominent, if not pleasing, feature was the absence of the white elephant. A very large number are also visiting Toron-to Industrial. THE STUPID OF THE STUPID .- The Post's correspondent here is remarkable for his affinity to that animal having large ears. He still maintains, by his last correspondence that THE WARDER has no correspondent here, notwithstanding our assertions to the contrary, and an abundance of circumstantial evidence to the same effect. We do not believe there is a reader of THE WARDER or Post that takes the view of this matter he does. We would not, if we were to become thieves. steal "trash," which name is a just title of his productions. We leave him now
