Wz are in great hopes here of the rail-way projected by Mr. Pusey being speedi-ly built. Mr. Pusey, when here, spoke OBITUARY.—We are sorry to have to chronicle the death of Master William Burton, of Monmouth, after a short but severe illness with quick consumption, followed by inflammation of the left side. Dec-ased died on Tuesday, 21st inst., and was buried Thursday, 23rd inst., in Wilberforce burying ground. Rev. Mr. Pusey performed the funeral service.

Novem.—We have had some light falls of snow during the 23rd and 24th inst. Threshing is pretty well wound up in in the most decisive manner about the matter, and led us to believe that the construction of the line is quite certain. We have great respect for Mr. Pusey, but we must admit that we feel just a trifle of doubt respecting this railway project, and don't accept altogether as certain Mr. P.'s assurances. However, we shall see. It would be great fun if the line to Heliwould be great fun if the line to Hali-burton should be shut up because it does not pay, and a line to Bancroft opened Threshing is pretty well wound up in this neighborhood, and the yield is very PARTRIDGE.—The village was on Tuesday visited by an old and esteemed resident. Mr. J. Edwards arrived by steamer Eva, and went out for a few hours' partridge shooting. He came back loaded with game. Tax Methodists in this village have succeeded in getting a substantial atone foundation under their church. They have also levelled the yard and built a great fence along the front of it. The work was principally done by Messrs. Bruce, Sherman, Alton and his two sons. It adds greatly to the appearance of their church. More Hunting. — Another hunting party has taken to the woods. sporting.—Captain Bottum returned from his hunt on Tuesday. He camped in the township of Snewdon, about nine miles from Haliburton, on lake Koelong. The party consisted of Dr. DeGrassi, Dr. Bonnell, Mr. W. Boyd, Capt. Bottum and one or two others. In the five days the captain was with the party hunting they killed, seven deers. The first day they killed two very large bucks. The deer were numerous and the sport excellent. The captain brought back with him a splendid saddle of ventson.—[Independent. GIRLS WHO SMOKE .- One would imagine that a girl of "sweet sixteen" was altogether too sweet to smoke, but there S. S. Convention—The Y. M. C. A. convention came to a close on Sunday evening by a farewill meeting in the George street Methodist church. During the convention, which met on Friday, the executive committees report, covering a period of three years, was read. It showed a deficit of $375. They recommended that some systematic scheme should be devised to raise funds. Nineteen associations had reported a membership of between 4 000 and 5,000, and other reports were yet to be received. Is 1881 there were six paid secretaries engaged in the work, and now there are thirteen. During the discussion on college work, Mr.

ondence of the Warder. colleges there were 37,000 students, of which 12,000 were christians, and 25,-000 not professing christians, but of the latter number 1,700 professed conversion during the past year. Mr. Morse also gave an account of the world's conference held in Berlin, Germany last August. Twelve years ago there were about a dozen secretaries, and now, including assistants and librarians. there were over 350 came to this village to deliver some vege-tables he had sold to Mr. Tompkins. He had just taken the bag containing the vegetables from a wagon in the shed and left it in Mr. Tompkins' kitchen and was walking to the front part of the house when he made a mistake, and, opening the door leading to the cellar instead of the hall he fell to the bottom lighting on his head.
