THE MOTHERS OF FAMILIES

Who have boys to clothe can't do much better with their money than attend this Closing Out Sale. I am selling large quantities of Heavy All-Wool Tweed at 50c. per yard that I don't think can be improved on at 75c. per yard, and cutting out the clothes to fit the boys for nothing. If you come in a month from now for these goods don't blame me if you don't get them. They are not being re-placed. There is a great deal said in the papers about Fine All-Wool Grey Flannel at 25c. per yard. Well, that is pretty cheap, but if you want to buy better value than that I have it for you. I have a splendid line of Red Flannel at Lower Prices than were ever seen in Lindsay. And they are selling, and I am going to clean every yard out before the 1st of January. In fact I must sell them by that date. Feather Tickings and Cotton Shirtings are the best made in Canada, and you can save a dollar or two if you want much of them. Table Linens from the finest double faced satin damask to the common makes are being sold in large quantities. Hotelkeepers and boarding housekeepers are getting these plums. Blankets have not yet commenced to move fast, but the few buyers who try every store in town before buying any place have gone away with a pair or two chuckling to themselves that a dollar saved is a dollar made. Ready-made Clothing of our own make has been moving out to the satisfaction of the buyer and to ours. Ladies', Misses' and Children's Mantles and Ulsters are on the move. A $10 one for $8, and a $7 one for $5.60, and at such reductions in the same proportion for any price of garment have induced the prudent ones to buy earlier than usual. To those who prefer buying the cloth we cut the mantle for nothing. The Tailoring Business is good, with Mr. Milne at its head as cutter. Its not hard to keep it good. He sees it that every garment has to be as it ought to be before he allows it to get out of his hands. And in that way gentlemen who have had their clothes made by him are not very anxious to try any other place. And we certainly have as choice a stock of Suitings, Trousers and Overcoatings as is to be found in the trade. And the present prices have no doubt given a greater impetus to this department.

JAS. GRAHAM,

Opposite the English Church.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1884.

LOCAL NOTINGS

URBAN AND SUBURBAN.

Promenade Social.

A social will be given in the basement of the Methodist church, Lindsay, on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the young ladies of the church. Miss Cottingham, of Peterboro, Miss Barnhart of Robeson and others will take part. Admission 10 cents.

Folice Court.

Friday at the police court Margaret Jordan was charged with being drunk and sent up for a term. Joe Forewell on the same charge was allowed to go on promise to leave town. A family named Bell living in the south ward were charged by Mrs. Mills with assault and abusive language and were fined collectively $3 and costs and bound over to keep the peace. For the past few days there has been nothing done in the court.

River Notes.

We learn upon inquiry that it is expected the Esturion will cease her trips from after about the 10th inst. The past season has not been up to the average for passenger travel, which may perhaps be accounted for by the unusually cold summer we have had. The Era ceased her trips some time since. The route apparently cannot yet support such a fleet as we have running between Lindsay and Robeson, at all events from opening of close of navigation. During their sojourn in winter quarters the craft will be thoroughly overhauled and upon the opening of navigation the Esturion will run out of Lindsay in the morning returning in the evening for the accommodation of the Lindsay people, while the Beaubien will make the regular connection necessary for Sturgeon Point and Robeson.

Railway Accidents.

On the afternoon of Monday a brakeman named Charles Thompson met with an accident at Blackwater. Thompson was on his train, which was a freight train, when the fireman's hat blew off. The train was not going fast, and Thompson tried to grasp the hat, but in doing so he slipped and fell off the train. A car struck him on the thigh and he was thrown to the side of the track, the force of the fall breaking his arm and injuring his head somewhat. He was taken on to Toronto.

Another serious accident happened at Unionville twenty miles this side of Toronto, on Monday morning, and conductor Bell of Lindsay, was the victim. The freight train of which conductor Bell had charge was coming up to Unionville station, and, to steady the train, the conductor got on top of a car and commenced to turn on the brake. The brake chain broke and the conductor fell down on the track. A wheel struck him on the thigh and passed down on his leg over the knee, when the car was thrown off the track and the train was stopped. A surgeon of Unionville attended to his injuries and the sufferer was brought to Lindsay on the evening express. Dr. Burrows, who is attending him says the accident is most remarkable. Though the car passed over both legs there was not a bone broken but the muscles of the legs were cut so clean as if done with a knife. The sufferer will have to be kept very quiet for some time to enable them to get together again otherwise he will not be able to ever have proper use of his legs again.

Brevities.

Five oysters 41 cents per quart at Simon's. Ground all cake at Highbottom's drug store—41 2. Remember Miss Wemy's concert on Friday night, November 16th. Christmas goods are beginning to appear in store windows—a sure sign of winter being very close. Fancy hanging, fancy table and hand glass lamps of every description at A. Campbell's—40-3. Mr. W. A. Goodwin has just completed some very handsome lettering on the windows of the Ontario bank. Taken for the Western States and British Columbia letters are sent by J. R. Easton, C. P. R. agt., Lindsay—41 3. The "beauties" arrived Tuesday morning in considerable quantity, making the sidewalks very busy and the country roads almost impassable. Six dozen plain and fancy hanging lamps at lower prices than ever. Come and see the beauties in store at A. Campbell's—40-3. If you are going to the Northwest buy your ticket via the Canada Pacific Ry. Most direct route, best accommodation and lowest fare. J. R. Easton, agt., Lindsay—41 3. W. D. Matheson & Co. have opened an office in the old Brodie's storehouse since the late fire. The new premises are situated east of Mr. J. R. Dundas' storehouse across the river. Mr. Worth, the famous man milliner, being determined that his daughter should not marry below her station, in the phrase used by her betrothed her to the son of a millionaire tailor. Yesterday being Thanksgiving day was observed as a general holiday. In several of the churches Thanksgiving services were held while the remainder of the day was spent in various amusements. You can save money by buying your millinery, mantles, ready-made clothing, hats and caps, furs, carpets, dress goods and in short everything in dry goods at the popular dry goods house. R. Smyth. The comparative value tells. The excitement increasing. Our job lot of overcoats, suits, ladies fur and cloth coats, furnished elevators, chairs and upholstering will not last long at the prices we are offering them. R. Smyth. The time of year has again come round when mayors, Reeves and councillors look the pleasantest, and now aspirants do not know how to look. However, the probabilities are long there will be a long list of workers in the field for the honors in the gift of the electorate. Last week Mr. Jas. Keith, secretary for the directors of the Lindsay Central, awarded to Mr. W. G. Hurst of Toronto, champion bicycle rider, a handsome silver badge, suitably engraved, as a memento of his visit to Lindsay with the "Wanderers" club. An enterprising photographer has set an example in starting a brisk revival of business by placing the following notice on his door: "In consequence of this being the anniversary of the death of my mother-in-law, pictures to-day will be taken at half price." Postal cards are useful, but their use may be carried to extremes. The quaint gets himself over a post and writes: "Dear Madam: Your best is done." The hair man writes: "My hair is growing ready." The optician grins and scrawls: "Mrs. — I will send your glass eye to-morrow." What are letter-carriers and postoffice clerks to think of this sort of interference?

As Miss Brown, of Brown's restaurant, was handling a bottle of ammonia near a stove on Friday evening the cork suddenly flew out and the liquid flew into her eyes. For a short time it was supposed her eye sight was totally lost, but it was subsequently found that though badly burned the eyes themselves were uninjured. She is now improving fast, but it was a narrow escape from blindness. People cannot be too careful how a bottle of ammonia is handled round the stove. On the 25th inst. the Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of the Roman Catholic bishops of the several dioceses of Ontario, and some from other provinces of the Dominion, as well as several archbishops and bishops for the United States, will assemble in Toronto for the purpose of personally congratulating the new archbishop Lynch on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his election to the episcopate. There will be special services at St. Michael's cathedral as well as sermons by some distinguished ecclesiastics. It is reported that in connection with the meeting will be gatherings of a festive character. In these days the public has come largely to depend upon the newspapers for its knowledge of what is going on in every branch of business. The most complete stock of goods in the more desirable it is that everybody should know it. It is the steady advertiser who succeeds in business. If my one doubts this let him tackle the first successful business man he meets and ask him the secret of his success. And the place to advertise in is in the leading journals of the community which it is sought to reach. There are not a few people who regard the public as a kind of an agency for the publication of advertisements, and the preacher a kind of clerical crier of all sorts of miscellaneous schemes and projects. The Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, a short time ago, said although he believed there were certain notices that might properly be made from the pulpit, all announcements outside the special business of the church should be made through the advertising columns of the press, and he paid for like other advertisements. He also urged that it was the duty of parents to remain at home at least two nights in the week with their families, and that for the future he proposed to follow out his duty upon these lines. His own church took up his time for three nights in the week, and for the future he was announced to appear on any platform with out his consent and did not prevent himself, he wished it to be understood that he was at home with his family, or attending to the duties devolving upon him in connection with his own church. The next step is to keep ahead at all costs and under all circumstances. A short time ago the new fire bell, costing a large sum of money was broken in endeavoring to ring out a fire in a stable and no amount of money has induced the chairman of the fire and water committee to replace it by another new one. But the residents over there were bound to have a bell so manufactured one of their own. It is nothing more than an old iron pole which is fastened to a ring and forward on a telegraph pole, striking each time on an old iron pot. It is unique and inexpensive but for the purpose of making a noise will compare very favorably either with the broken bell in the case ward or the magnificent and costly affair on the new fire hall. So long did the "new bell" peal forth the other evening with a few small boys at the end of the rope that chief Bell was compelled to tramp over and scatter the boys, lest they should cause a false alarm of fire to be raised. One of the same kind of bell should now be placed in the tower on the fire hall so that a revenue might be derived by selling the present one for old metal.

Freight Sheds.

New freight sheds at Lindsay are to be erected almost immediately. No site, however, has been decided on so far as we could learn, but it is very probable it will be on the site of the old one. The proposed new building will be considerably larger and narrower.

The Opera.

The well known Taverier troupe will visit Lindsay shortly. They will play for a week. The Baker & Farrow troupe played in Bradburn's opera house Tuesday evening to a full house. The troupe is a very possible greater favorite with Lindsay people than ever. They will be welcomed back at a future date.

The late fire.

We learn on what we consider good authority that the Grand Trunk company have signified their intention of paying the loss on all goods burned in the late storehouse that had been received in or en route during the whole of Saturday. They will also make good the loss on all goods for which weigh bills were issued during the whole of Saturday, but for the value of those issued on Friday or earlier they will not hold themselves responsible. This must be considered very fair on the part of the railway company and will practically reduce the loss of our merchants to small amounts. The railway authorities will be heavy losers taking everything into account, although the store house and freight cars were partially insured.

Gravel Roads.

A meeting of the county road and bridge committee was held Wednesday afternoon to take into consideration the gravel road project. Those present, Col. Deacon, chairman, and Messrs. Taylor, Brown, Adam, Fall, McEachern, Reid and Walker. The chairman laid a scheme before the committee having for its object the graveling of the leading roads between Lindsay and the nearest market town. A general discussion was the result, the majority of the committee taking the view that further consideration was necessary. It was decided at all events to permit the question to remain over to next year and to reconvene the committee at the opening session. It is expected other proposals respecting the roads will be brought up at either the December session or in that of January for the improvement of at least two of the leading roads.

Sporting Notes.

A game of football was played on the school grounds yesterday afternoon in place of the scrub base ball match proposed. It was between a town team and a picked high school team, and resulted in a victory for the town team by 3 goals to 1. Thornberry, Henderson, Little and Macdonald played the most creditable parts.

A meeting was held Monday evening in the Daily house with a view of improving the school grounds and forming it into a public ground for all games and sports played during the summer vacation and at other times. The cricket club and base ball team together with the matter now under consideration. It is proposed to plough up the rear part of the ground, seed down and level them, as well as make other improvements on the part west of the school building. This would certainly make a nice and convenient sporting ground and we hope the clubs may be able to perfect their scheme.

Railway Notes.

The conductors and brakemen on the central division of the Grand Trunk met Sunday afternoon to consider the proposal of the general manager for an extension of the reduction of five per cent in their wages. After a discussion a resolution was passed agreeing to a continuance of the reduction for three months from 1st October on condition that spare crews be allowed to make 34 days' work per month that was to be customary and that freight men allowed their own run, they to return from Belleville as passengers on Saturday trains.

On Saturday evening when the Grand Trunk railway express train was a short distance east of Lindsay a heavy stone, weighing about a hundred and a half, was thrown through the window on the side of the parlor car. The stone struck Mr. Somerville on the shoulder, and passed on, struck Mr. A. White on the knee, but happily neither of the gentlemen were seriously injured. Almost immediately afterwards another stone was thrown through the window in the rear of the car, but it did no further damage than breaking the glass. The size of the stones and the force with which they were propelled shows that they were thrown by some person bent to do mischief, but there is no clue to the motive for the act.

Brevities.

A large number of "made-up" one and two dollar bills are daily presented for redemption at the assistant receiver-general's office. They come from banks and private individuals who have been deceived by what looks like a clumsy contrivance. Pieces are torn from genuine bills, and when a sufficient number of pieces are obtained they are patched together and passed off on some unsuspecting person and finally they find their way to the assistant receiver-general's office, where they are detected and refused. The patching may be at once detected by holding the bill up to the light.

The average jurymen when sitting upon a case appears to have peculiar ideas as to what he is entitled to receive from the State for his services. The jurymen on the Dingman case, London, who were under charge of an officer at the City hotel during the night, proceeded to the basement of the house with a constable and had his boots polished, but when the constable asked for payment of ten cents he is loudly remarked that the sheriff would pay for the shine, and that he did not intend to do so himself. It was only when the porter threatened to "punch his head" that he could be induced to pay the boy.

Potatoes are just now very low in price. They can be readily purchased at 45c. or 50c. a bag, while a year ago from 55c. to 90c. were the ruling figures. The prospect for higher prices, however, seems to be reasonably good. In the Eastern States the crop is not an average one. In the seaport towns of Massachusetts potatoes are now worth $1 per bushel. The crop in Quebec and Nova Scotia is almost an average one. The fire is causing serious havoc in Northern Maine. Vermont has a small crop. The New York crop is not as good as that of last year, while the Eastern crop is below the average, and the Southern demand promises to be larger than usual.

The Exeter Times pertinently suggests that the law which makes it compulsory for municipal councils to publish a statement of receipts and disbursements of the year, should be so amended as to provide that such a statement should be published before the holding of municipal elections. The municipal financial year should end on 30th November, the accounts should then be audited and published, so that before the elections in January the electors would have a chance to criticize the expenditure of last year. At present these statements do not appear until after the new council is elected, which makes them much less useful than they would be if published before the elections.

Another Instance of Sagacious Foresight.

The City Store wide awake to all that is going on, and always first in the race with fresh bargains for their Customers.

Dullness still characterizes the manufacturing centres, and our patrons are reaping the benefit, attributed by themselves to the sagacious foresight of the Lindsay Dry Goods and Clothing Syndicate.

This week we have been successful in securing some of the most paralyzing drives in General Dry Goods and Ready-made Overcoats it has ever been our good luck to behold, and as is our usual custom we divide our good luck with our customers. We herewith quote a few instances of our present prices—

Table listing various clothing items and their prices, such as '25 yds. of Factory Cotton for $1.00', '20 yds. do. full yard wide and heavy for 1.00', etc.

Spaces will not permit further quotations, but all other goods are proportionately low in price. Another shipment of Ladies' Fur Mantles and Fur-lined Circulars just received, and as we handle none but the best goods in this line we invite every lady to call and examine our immense stock. We will consider it a pleasure to have the privilege of showing you through.

MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT.—Our Mr. Cathro never was in as good a position to please and suit customers as now. The stock is the most perfect and complete in every detail, and we guarantee satisfaction or refund the spoolulicks. Our fit and style is perfect, while the workmanship, durable trimmings and finish of our garments are equalled by none. Men's Fur Caps, Gauntlets, Fur Coats, Buffalo and Fancy Robes in abundance. We invite you to act suddenly. Come and see us. Make a purchase, and you will go away infatuated with the bargains to be had at the City Store.
