R. S. PORTER OFFICIAL Issuer of Marriage Licenses

County of Victoria. 1885. With the new volume, being December, Harper's Magazine will conclude its thirty-fifth year. The oldest periodical of its type, it is yet, in each new volume, a new magazine, not simply because it presents fresh subjects and new pictures, but also, and chiefly, because it steadily advances in the method itself of magazine-making. In a word, the Magazine becomes more and more the faithful mirror of current life and movement. Leading features in the attractive programme of 1885 are: new series novels by Constance Fenimore Woolson and W. D. Howells; a new novel entitled "At the Red Glove," by the distinguished illustrated author, Mr. R. S. Swain Gifford; E. A. Abbey, H. Gibson, and others; Goldsmith's "The Stoops to Conquer," illustrated by the most important papers on Art, Science, etc.

1885. Harper's Weekly has now, for twenty years, maintained its position as the leading illustrated weekly newspaper in America. With a constant increase of literary and artistic merit, it is now offered for the ensuing year attractions unequalled by any previous volume, embracing a capital illustrated serial story by W. E. Norris; illustrated with special references to the West and South, including the World's Exposition at New Orleans; entertaining short stories, mostly illustrated, and important papers by special writers on the chief topics of the day. Every one who desires a trustworthy political guide, or an entertaining and instructive family journal, entirely free from objectionable features in either letterpress or illustrations, should subscribe to Harper's Weekly.

1885. Harper's Bazar. ILLUSTRATED. Harper's Bazar is the only paper in the world that combines the choicest literature and the finest art illustrations with the latest fashions and methods of household economy. Its pages are filled with illustrations and descriptions of the newest Paris and New York styles, with its useful pattern-sheet supplements and cut papers, and with fine ladies' work, and dress-makers, save many times the cost of subscription. Its papers on cooking, the management of servants, and household keeping in its various details are eminently practical. Much attention is given to the interesting topic of social etiquette, and its illustrations of art needlework are acknowledged to be unequalled. Its literary merit is of the highest excellence, and the unique character of its illustrations has won for it the name of the American Pantheon.
