BURMAH.

The British have conquered Burmah. They are now in full possession of every foot and town in the empire of Burmab. Mandalay and Ava were surrendered without fighting. Another place brought under British dvilizatiou.

TOLERANCE WITH A VINGE

The Riclite organe, such as the Globe and the Post, bosst that, in the rebellions meetings in Montreal and throughout Quebec, there was no breach of the peace. True but is not a mad dog orderly so long as left slone. The Protestants there know a wick worth two of opposing a Quebec meb. They have not forgotten how Mousands of those nerves boldly attacked a deheate young man named Mackett, a few years since, and made mince ment of him. They attack one or two defenceless fellows whenever found, but shalk off when opposed by even half their numbers. The scople of Ontario may as well swaken thomselves to the fact that the great deved, the greater portion to intolerance, biggery and superstition; and the minority, the English part, in Or shall we ever have a more fitting occasion than the present to forever wips out the religious and ruce prejudices. 7

ORIEVANCES.

The press still spoaks of the "grievances" of the rebels. The public be-Heve there were "grievances." We have communicated for years with persons residing right in the troubled district, and they report "no grievances." They had and have "hardships;" some had "claims," of would have when the land would be surveyed; but "no one was oppressed, Hardships are not "grievaners;" claims are not "grievances." Nut one solitary instance of grievance against the government has syst been substantiated. Our correspendents, however, were not mere escoulators. They did not go up exsecting to return wealthy in a year or two. They had no are to grind to have run like the coward all the secure "dark age" laws for the North-West the same as Quebec and Manitoba and even Outario have. The neigne cause of the rebellion was the French party and church wishing to obtain terms from the government sow so that they would always have strong foothold in those lands, They and their emissaries fulled, and now they are one enough to naul in sail and try some other tack.

there are less than three thousand French half-breeds in all the North-West, outside of Munitobs. A paltry 2,000; about as many persons as there are in the North Ward of Lindson! And they are scattered over a territory large enough to give about six hundred square miles to each one of Victoria County given over to two French half-breeds, of a district as large of Victoria, Peterboro, Durham and Northumberland granted to one Prench half-bread, his wife and family; my to four, "Grievances" is a plos
