THOS. THURSTON

The douth Victoria M. P. P.

ronto News, who calle himself Pica, has had the assurance to say that the clever and learned M. P. P. for South Victoria is not an orator. When I read the vile incinuation I felt so indignant that I could hardly keep from tearing the paper could hardly keep from tearing the paper to pieces, but then I considered that he was nearer the object of a just resentment than he was to me, and that in all probability he had been severely horsewhipped before this time, and was suffering the anguish of a lacerated cuticle. This happy thought had such a soothing effect that I went to bed and for eight hours slept the sleep of the just; but when I swoke I began to have fears that Pica had escaped the punishment he so richly deserved, and I felt as wrathful as ever. Our worthy M. P. P. seems to have got new worthy M. P. P. seems to have got new light, and now professes to do as he would be done by, and I am sure he would not like to have his back cut and would not like to have his back cut and scarred is a very unseemly manner by a rawhide for every exaggarated statement he may have made and put in circulation to the injury of his neighbor.

But after all what kind of a being can this Pica be? What can he think of the people of Victoria? Has he no conscience—no fears of what might befall him when he would dare assert in public print that our M. P. P. is not an orator? The miscreant that could coolly perpetrate such a foul outrage upon the Lindsay politician and statesman, the specially begotten of the Patent Combination, deserves a booth in the Central Prison or begotten of the Patent Combination, de-serves a booth in the Central Prison or the idiot asylum. Now I assert without fear of contradiction that he is, besides his vast literary, legal and scientific at-tainments, an orator. I must state the facts and leave a candid world to judge. It is well known that this great philological genius speaks two languages equally well, his father's and his mother's tongue.
Did he not stand for years at the head of the Division Court Bar? Did he not with the judge make the circuit of the county and talk Latin with him, to the amusement of the spectators? Has he not with silvery tones harangued the judge until his head and heart has ached, and when he added M. P. P. to his suphonious and aristocratic cognomen did the chair and left, the opposition leader bers got up a petition, signed by two-thirds of their number, which was presented by a deputation in white gloves and chokers, praying that he would and chokers, praying that he would appear to be a present of the above connection we will, if permitted, announce through the columns of The Warder that Mr. Howard Heuderson, of Manvers, and Miss Jennie Benson, if Manvers, and Miss Jennie Benson, if any of the columns of the c never make another, which I believe was stitution deserves the hearty support of same place, having fallen victims to the ever another moving speech may be required to clear the house.

There is no doubt some good debaters in parliament. Meredith, Fraser, Pardee, and even Oliver himself, when he does not forget whom to address. They will not forget whom to address. They will sincerely in most cases carry a point if time is taken to follow up the argument to its application. But our M. P. P. is the great moving man, the logical storm, the great moving man, the logical storm, the rhetorical whirl-wind that sweeps everything before it. His speech is like an exploded bombshell; there is nothing to be seen but mangled remains, dust, sand cerned, yet in view of the above facts his residence, near Janetville, on Wedand retreating forms. Even Mr. Blake and M. C. Cameron have been so eclipsed that it is scarcely remembered that they were ever members of the House of Assembly, which I am sure will not be the case with the honorable M. South Victoria. Swipes. Sin.—Having been requested by resolu-tion of the County Council to reply to a certain letter on the subject of Forestry, from R. W. Phipps, Esq., the Forestry who like themselves are expecting help Conservator for Ontario, I thought it advisable to see what had been done in this town in tree planting under a certhis town in tree planting under a cer-tain by-law, made under the power given to municipal councils by the act, Vic. 46, Chap. 25, known as the "Ontario Tree Planting Act." The result of the investigation shows that in the year 1883 the town ccuncil passed a by-law purporting to be in accordance with the said act, but which is at variance with the letter as well as the intention of the act, in almost every particular; and the succeeding councils have shown equal unfitness for their positions by their disregard for the provisions of this act, in the fact that during the years 1884-5 they have paid out—in accordance with the provisions of that by law—the sum of $273.50 without any legal authority The act gives municipal councils the power to pay "out of municipal funds, a bonus or premium not exceeding twenty-five cents for each and every's tree of certain stated varieties planted; and also makes provision for repaying such municipalities one-half of that sum upon certain conditions; one of which is that a report by an inspector of trees, certifying among other things "that the trees have among other things "that the trees have been planted for a period of three years" shall have been adopted by council. Upon receiving a copy of the inspector's report, "certified by the reeve and clerk," the treasurer of the province "shall recoup to the treasurer of the municipality one-half of the sum paid by the municipality under the authority of this set."

Our municipality has already paid out twice the amount authorized by the act, although no portions of such bonuses can although so portions of such bonuses can under the act become due until sometime during the coming summer; and have not fulfilled any of the conditions necesnot fulfilled any of the conditions necessary for repayment by the government.

The injustice to the tax-payers of the town becomes more apparent when we find that the bonuses already paid is not only the total cost of the planted trees, but an additional sum of equal amount, but an additional sum of equal amount, and that the persons to whom such extravagant sums have been paid are not poor persons—objects of charity—but generally the wealthiest and most influential of our townsmen. Such persons as John Dobson, G. W. Beail, Maj. r. Deacoo, Adam Hudspeth, Jeremanh Scully, Sheriff McLennan, Wm. Grace, D. J. Molatyre and doz no of others of

The Poor Blews.

Sig. -Iu your issue of the 12th inst. under the above heading and over the signature of "Observer," I find a certain article setting forth the wretched condition of the Blew family in the township of Mariposa, and reflecting in strong terms upon the municipal council and the church. Now, Sir, I have not known the Blew family for 25 or 30 years, as "Observer" has, but I have known them for the last two years, being brought in contact with them because of my posi-tion in the municipal council in the township of Mariposa. and I beg to say, while the picture that "Observer" gives of the wretched condition of this family is in many respects not overdrawn, his charge against the municipal council and the church is not well founded. Nearly the church is not well founded. Nearly two years ago the council after careful consideration of the state of this family, decided to make an effort to place certain members thereof in the asylum, and applied to Dr. Clarke, of Woodville, for the necessary certificate in regard to their mental condition, but he refused to grant such certificate, saying "They are not idlots." At this time the family consisted of four persons, the three of whom "Observer" now speaks, and a little girl about ten years old. We then directed our attention specially to the rescuing of this child, believing that she possessed aufficient mental power to fit her to make sufficient mental power to fit her to make her way in the world, if she had a fair chance, which she had not in her surchance, which she had not in her surroundings. By direction of the council I made application to certain benevolent institutions, with a view of finding a home for the little girl. Again and again I was refused, but finally the Dr. Bernardo Home at Peterboro consented to receive her, and the council sent a con-stable, brought the little girl, furnished clothing, had her dressed and sent to the Home, but were surprised to find she was back to her former abode in about two weeks, having run away and unaided travelled across the country from Peterboro, a distance of about 40 miles. Surely this demonstrates the fact that this girl is possessed of both mental and physical power. I returned her to the he not make a speech, the most moving speech ever made in the Legislature of Ontario? The speaker called a victim to the managers of the Peterboro Home decided that they could not keep her fled to the smoking-room and the members to the lobby, while the Great Oliver, premier and ex-vice chancellor, who had in his judicial capacity listened to the would be surrounded by elevating and swell as steel-clad ships; but up to the would be surrounded by elevating and protection of humanity. It has even gone so far as would be surrounded by elevating and as well as steel-clad ships; but up to the in his judicial capacity listened to the ablest lawyers in Canada, never looked Christian influences, at a point so rehalf so approvingly as he did then upon the efforts of his most zealous and brilliant get away, to which they took her impenetrating power of Cupid's arrows. And what is more and worse, pathy rightly deserves the execration of Post, generally reaches the Lotus and the unbeliever and infidel." He was acting as the unbeliever and infidel does; that is, arriving at conclusions without clusions, so much the worse for the facts. WOODVILLE.

THE provincial license inspector neld an informal meeting here last week, it would seem, for the purpose of ascertaining the state of public opinion in regard to the temperance laws; which the public would prefer to have enforced, the Crooks or Scott act. He did not seem very capable of laying his case very plainly before the people, or of hearing and understanding what they wished nesday night, Feb. 17th, of Mr. Richard about it, and I do not think he obtained much information upon the subject.

The fact is the majority of the people are not in favor of either of those acts. hotel-keepers, and the Scott act unprecedented and tyrannical so far as it abridges the rights and principles of the subject. There is no sense whatever in depriving twenty men of their liberty because one man may wantonly or unfortunately abuse his. The temperance fanatic claims a superior judgment which is not acknowledged; he sees no good in wine or beer, and he has a perfect right and is protected in his liberty of refusing to drink, but another man with just as good or perhaps a better reason thinks them useful, and why should he be prevented as the one has to compel the other to abstain. There is an equality of rights in this matter. Whatever is claimed by one cannot be refused the other. The scope of legislation so far has been to shield the man who refuses to exercise a proper self-control over his appetite, and get at the seller and moderate drinker, as being most in need of restrictive law. This is an unwarrantable interference which will never be tolerated in a free country. The people have submitted to a good many things, but to have a law point out what they shall or shall not eat or drink, is going too far for patient endurance. It is safe to say if such a law is made it will be disregarded, or only par-tially enforced, for it will be adverse to public opinion, which is stronger than any law. It is the absurd and foolish sympathy for the drunkard, on the part of the so-called temperance man, that has aggravated and perpetuated the evil, and he has been paid with his contempt for treating him more like an idiot than a Drunkenness is not only an evil, out a crime against individuals and society, and what is wanted is a law sufficiently potent to effectually stamp it out. Special to The Warder BAHLIFF. - For a few days past our gris friends have been figuring as to the person, that was likely to get the position of bailiff. Rumor has it that N. H. Mc. Laughlin, correspondent of the Lindsay this is an agricultural county, and when it is prosperous in this country, everything else is the same. Their next speaker called was W. James Stephens, who did some very good work in speaking to the people in regard to the management of the subordinate grange also, that this was the only organization that the farmers had, and that all other classes of society had these openignations, and that we had these openignations, and that we ty had there organizations, and that we no person can rank higher, but if qualification for a position be also a requisite. were about seven-tenths of the population of this country, and as yet have had but very little to do with, sending men of our ify him, for a government appointment. He should have some business tact, or at all events enough to transact ordinary business, without blundering every time he turns round, If the local member who has the patronage of these appoint. ments at his disposal, were obliged to become sarety for the officials he recome mends. There is no doubt but that he would be more careful, in his elections.

Atkinson's, on Friday evening,, by a number of friends, who called to pay him a friendly visit, before his departure for the West. We understand thet he has purchased some property in the county of Peel, and is going there to reside in the spring. Mr. Atkinson, and his amiable partner are general favorites here, and their departure

> CAMERON. Special to The Warder. WE are very sorry, indeed, that the correspondence from this place two weeks ago, affected the young gentleman named therein to such an extent, that it ca lled for a reply from him in last weeks' issue. We do not want to hurt any ones' feelings nor calumniate in the least. What we want to is, to give your readers, any items of interest pertaining to this com-munity. Now, we are willing to state that we may have been misinformed about the cutter shaft, but what about it if we were? That does not change the general aspect of the case. The cutter did upset; the horse was injured; the bells were lost notwithstanding, and the voung man in question. We are creditably in-formed, he has not done any driving since on account of his horse being so badly injured. This probably grieves nim, irasmuch, as he has quite a distance to go, to see his lady, which may account the start. We called him "our friend and we look upon him as such still. Moreover, to show the kind regard we have for him, we are sorry that the oc curence happened, but it did, and, of course, such things must be reported. We sympathise with him in his later and more sorrowful misfortune, that is, his "eyes fell on a piece" from Cameron. Such a calamity calls for sympathy, and that sympatny we nust cordially extend. in the tuture. We suppose some one else will have to read the paper for our friend, and, as they may interpolate, it is difficult to predict what the result may be. Again! he says, "that the breaking of his cutter is entirely wrong. We never said it was right and would be very sorry to say so, nor did we say the young man was "damaged" in the least, although in his correspondence he asserts he was, and although he may not intend it, in that sense, yet we cannot understand it in any other He also accuses your correspondent of being "flippant." If we mistake not; he means the opposite of what he says, and what more shall we say! We do not clearly understand what he means when he says that it was a "well-known fact" that he had a gentleman, as com-panion that evening. Does that imply that it is well-known that he could not have any one else? Truck defined—the correspondence of last week.

WE understand that Mr. Thos. Gibbe. intends to become a resident of our vib lage at an early date.
