Ottawa Correspondence.
OTTAWA, March 16th, 1886.

One of the largest and most influential delegations that ever visited Ottawa was here last week to urge on the Government increased activity in pressing forward the work of constructing the Trent Valley Canal.

Fourteen counties chiefly in the Midland district were represented, so also were Montreal, Kingston and the Northwest.

The conference was held in the railway committee room on Friday morning, there were about one hundred delegates and as many as twenty-five reporters.

The delegates were introduced to the understanding of the delegates, the other actors were not distinguishable. The turnout was large and the proceeds were correspondingly bulky. Mr. Graham, of Dun-ford, with his daughters assisted by Miss Hay and others conducted the musical department of the entertainment also well sustained. Of course the usual number of "spoons" were present, but all the same they were of sterling quality. Many of the youth and beauty from the Scotch Line favored the company with their presence.

The Trent Valley.

THE DELEGATION INTERVIEWS THE GOVERNMENT.

The Trent Valley canal delegation met the members of the government in the railway committee room of the House of Commons, at 11 o'clock last Friday forenoon. The room was crowded, there being present, representing the government, Sir Hector Langvin and Hon.
Messrs. Mr. Levan, Pope, White and Boswell. The delegates from Victoria were N. Haslip, Warden; Isaac McNeely, Col.
Deacon, A. Hudspeck, C. H. Walters, F. C. Taylor, Rev. W. Logan, S. Swann, F. Sandford, J. V. Brandon, J. G.
Moynan, C. Fairbairn, M. E. Boyd, Gen.
W. W. Kennedy, W. B. Reid, E.
Bottom and W. McKenzie. The chairman, appointed by the delegates, Mr.
Cros, put the case before the government in a brief but lucid manner, calling upon the Rev. Mr. Logan to present the memorial to the government.

Mr. Logan (Fenelon Falls) said he deprecated the idea of appearing before the government, owing to a general election being near at hand. (Laughter.) The building of the canal was of national importance. Montreal was deeply interested in the work. It showed by a flourish how easily the work could be accomplished. He contended that it was first the intention of the British government to build the Trent Valley canal ahead of the Welland canal. The work would be water power in the canal which would grind all the wheat grown in North America.

The work must be accomplished and he looked upon the government to do it.
He intended to teach it in their schools, and he would take the trouble himself to get up a school book for this purpose. He was a dyed in the wool Tory, but he looked upon country first. There were sixteen constituencies represented, and while he did not want to intimidate the government, yet he warned them for their own good.

Major Rogers spoke in favor of the scheme and pointed out the growing capabilities of the valley of the Souris, where he has resided since 1850. The construction of the work would be of immense benefit to Manitoba and the Northwest, as well as to the other parts of Canada.

Mr. Ostrom, (Trenton), thought that the work should be done in connection with the building of this work that was at present being done by the government.

Mr. Stevenson, (Petersburg), said that the people of Canada were anxious about the work and they looked upon the government to carry out the work. From where he came they had peculiar views on as to Toronto was throwing cold water on the scheme.

Col. Deacon, mayor of Lindsay, felt certain that if he were talking for a week he could not do more than what the petition sent forth. There were 150 witnesses present to see what was going to be done, and there were thousands of reasons why the government should go with the work, and if they did not the people would say well done, good and faithful servants.

Mr. N. Haslip, Warden of Victoria could not tell the government anything more than they knew about the question, and he was not for the past forty years. He could not understand the delay which was now being caused, but trusting that something would be done to rectify this soon. There is no reason why the government should not go on with the work.

Major Belton gave evidence as to the carrying trade of Manitoba, if facilities were afforded. Canada was the natural outlet for the products of the soil of the North-West. It would be money in the pocket for the Canadian people to build this route. He spoke on behalf of the people of Manitoba, who were interested in competitive routes and cheap rates.

Mr. Pope, on behalf of the government, said that as much as circumstances would permit would be done. If the finance minister would find the money he would expand it. He admitted the importance of the work, but the finances of the government would not afford all that the government would like. He would carry out the work as far as he could, but he would not expand it. He would carry out the work as far as he could, but he would not expand it.

Mr. White said that the government was committed to it and would doubtless do all they could to advance it.

Mr. Boswell spoke in favor of the building of the canal, but too much could not be expected at once.

The delegation withdrew.—(Ottawa

Orange Entertainment at Dunford.

On Friday evening last an entertainment under the auspices of Dunford Orange Lodge 96, was given by the Pleasant Point amateur dramatic company.

The play presented was "Ten nights in a Bar Room" and the various parts were most ably sustained. David Hay, Esq., as Spritwell surprised what we have often seen on the boards of a regular theatre, while Miss Jennie Hay, little Miss Bea Hay, Miss Willock and Miss Murdoch and Messrs. John Hay, Geo. Hay, Robt. Wil-lock, Jas. Endicott, Fred Myers and Jas.
Jackson all did well. Some of them did excellently well. It was the second time the little company presented the play and was certainly much praiseworthy. The other ac-
was large and the proceeds were correspondingly bulky. Mr. Graham, of Dun-
ford, with his daughters assisted by Miss Hay and others conducted the musical
department of the entertainment also well

THE ROBERT DRAMATIC CO.

This company, now playing a week's engagement at Bradburn's Opera House, are giving our citizens a dramatic treat, for no better or painstaking company has ever appeared in Lindsay.

Their opening play, Lucretia Borgia, as rendered by the company last Monday evening, with Miss Kate Glasford, Miss Lacretia, was one of the strongest plays ever presented here. The display of elegant wardrobe and careful stage mountings, with the superb acting of the Star and company, will ever be pleasantly remembered by those present as one of the most delightful dramas, artistically rendered by the Egbert Company, and a more pleasing lady than Miss Glasford has never appeared in our town. Tuesday evening the company appeared to excellent advantage in the Two Orphans, and gave a delightful performance.

Wednesday evening Byron's sparkling comedy, "Our Boys," was presented, and in such a charming and pleasing manner as to captivate the entire house. Special mention should be made of the child actors, Lala Wade, and Belinda, who gave a delightful surprise as the "Slaves," and instead of "henceforth we are strangers, and mutual enemies," won her pleasing way into our affections, that her grace and beauty will long be remembered.

The company is a good one, and is deserving the patronage of our people as a company composed of artists and ladies and gentlemen. Without going into further particulars, we think Mr. Egbert is to be congratulated on the pleasing success of his entire company, and the longer they remain with our people the better we like them.

Thursday night Miss Glasford appeared as Frou Frou, supported by a powerful cast.

Friday night Monte Cristo will be given for which the company carry special scenery including the "Chateau d'If" prison scene. Mr. Egbert as Dantes and Miss Glasford as Mercedes the Catalan, and a delightful entertainment is assured.

Saturday evening closes the engagement of the company, and the longer they remain with our people the better we like them.

Peck's Bad Boy.

HIS FINAL END.

There once lived in Haliburton county a "bad boy" named Peck.

His daddy was "Ollie Mote."
His food Grit Pap.

His papa had to send him away.
Then many arose anxious to live on the same pap.

Among them men of cunning, those who could curm favor, a deacon, a dean and other dignitaries.

They all got left except the high functionary, the dean.

Now these in tribulation in the other camps. Selah!

To the Editor of the Warrier.

DEAR SIR,—I read the Globe regularly.

This, I suppose, is no recommendation to you, but I like the way you pitch into the revising officer for depriving 314 voters of their franchise. I do not care if they are Tories, they have their rights as well as Republicans. I find that the Globe quotes with approval the sentiment that holding one's franchise will never save a nation; you are exposing wrong doing—go on.

I was asked to look over the revised list of voters for our township, and I find great blunders; many left off that should be on; and in comparing the list for Emily with the last revised voters list by the township clerk for 1885, I find Nos. 496, 497, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 294, 70, 74, 75, 85, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 104, 107, of the printed list, 1885, left off altogether; while some that are dead are still left on.
Why was this? The Globe says in some districts hundreds of names have been omitted from the original list because the judges saw some technical defects in the applications about the meaning of which there could be no reasonable doubt. Is this the case in the 314 deposited by the revising officer for South Victoria, or the names left off from our township; or was it as the Globe describes, omit of the many names that have been omitted through the blindness or negligence of those who made up the list, or was it any of the many that have been omitted because the partisan feelings of officers or clerks clouded or warped his judgment. Whatever may be the cause in those cases the persons whose names were omitted will be put to much trouble and inconvenience if they endeavor to get the blindness rectified or the wrong done them corrected.

Now, sir, I hope you will still endeavor to have these wrongs made right. It will be a great hardship for many of the persons whose names are refused to be put on the list, to attend to this matter, but I trust fair play will be given to all.

FROM DOMINION ORGAN AND PIANO CO.
BOWMANVILLE.

On Tuesday last week five cars loaded with organs—one hundred instruments in all—left Bowmanville station for Portland, whence the organs will be shipped to Germany to fill an order received from that distant country. This we believe to be the largest single shipment ever made by any musical firm, and shows that abroad as well as at home, Dominion organs are the best. To preserve this distinction thoroughly competent managers are required as well as first-class workmen, and when these are combined in one of the best equipped factories on the continent there need be no second as to the success of the D. O.
& P. Company.

Another organ, soon to follow, designed for London, England, is now nearly completed, and consists of a large assembled set of pipes and organs. The pipes are taken direct from their regular stock, such as are supplied to their customers.

The factory is about being enlarged, and the capital stock increased.—(Sun.)
