

The Victoria Warder

FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1886.

The Neglected Pattern.

A weaver sat one day at his loom, Among the colors bright, With the pattern for his copying Hung fair and plain in sight.

ere many "at least it is a modification of what I saw in a Dakota paper that was wrapped around a pair of shoes last night. I didn't dare put it as strong as the paper did, for no one would believe it. I live right here on Myrtle avenue."

A Mysterious Murder.

About twelve years ago a gentleman arrived in the township of Belmont, in the County of Peterborough, and began prospecting for minerals.

Boycotting as Foretold in the Bible.

An Irish land agent writes from the south of Ireland:—"The introduction into the world of boycotting has, I think, hardly attracted sufficiently the attention of the students of prophecy.

LINDSAY PLANING MILL

GEO. INGLE & CO.

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings, Frames, and all kinds of Planing

Done promptly.

Parties intending to build should call early and get prices.

GEO. INGLE & CO.

$500 Challenge.

I have placed $500 in the Bank of Montreal here and will double it if required, and challenge any Agent in the County of Victoria to cover it with an equal amount, and prove in fair competition that the Bell, or any other organ made in Canada, can beat the Dominion, made in Bowmanville, Ont.

The Agent who so lately discovered "A fact worth knowing" will now, no doubt, show us how much truth he believes in his own statements, or is he only trying to deceive the public?

CAMELION. Special to the Warder. EDUCATIONAL sermons in connection with the Methodist church were preached in the different churches upon the Fenelon circuit on Sabbath last. Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Cannington, preached here and he gave an excellent discourse although placed under some disadvantage. Shortly after the Rev. gentleman had given the exordium of his discourse word came to the church that the dwelling of Mr. Gilbank about a mile or so away was enwrapped in flames. Quite a number made their way thither as quickly as possible but too late to render much assistance. Mr. Gilbank was at church when the fire occurred, and, as no one was there but Mrs. Gilbank she must have possessed perfect equanimity of mind and work with more than human energy as was evidenced by the quantity of furniture and other chattels she had carried out. Although Mr. Gilbank's loss is considerable, it is comparatively little owing to the admirable presence of mind possessed by his wife. Mrs. Gilbank as a consequence of the over exertion is considerably unwell and it will no doubt require time before she is again in her wonted health.

A FEW weeks ago on a Wednesday night, so the story goes, a young man not residing in this immediate locality accompanied a lady home. Just before supper the molasses keg had been set upon a chair on which was a piece of the Toronto News beside the stove to warm. The heat caused the staves to shrink and some of the syrup leaked upon the paper on the chair. By accident the chair was not removed, and, by accident no doubt, the young man sat upon that chair and passed the fleeting hours of sweet conversation—sweet in front and—sweet behind. Parting with his lady friend he took the News home to read and whether it was the peculiar position it occupied on his best pants or whether it was the lovable caricature peculiar to that paper that confronted his eyes when he awoke the next morning we are not prepared to say. At all events the young man has not been seen around since.

ODDS AND ENDS. Latest Facts, Fun and Fancy. It is a remarkable fact that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is as good for internal as external use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand. Jacob Lookman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him. Mr. W. Maguire, merchant, at Franklin, writes: "I was afflicted with pain in my shoulder for eight years—almost helpless at times—have tried many remedies, but with no relief, until I used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. After a few applications the pain left me entirely, and I have had no pain since. Do not take Electric or Electro Oils, but see that you get Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil."

Mr. H. McCaw, Custom House, Toronto, writes: "My wife was troubled with dyspepsia and rheumatism for a long time and she tried many different medicines, but did not get any relief until she used Dr. Farrow & Lemay's Vegetable Cure, and Dr. Farrow's Cure. She has taken two bottles of it, and now finds herself in better health than she has been for years."

Promotions of approaching danger, in shape of digestive weakness, lassitude, insensibility of the kidneys, pains in the region of the liver and shoulder blades, sharp & Lamm's Vegetable Cure, and Dr. Farrow's Cure. She has taken two bottles of it, and now finds herself in better health than she has been for years."

Farming in Dakota. Brooklyn Eagle: "Yes, sir," rejoined the Dakota man, as the crowd of agriculturists drew back from the bar and seated themselves around a little table. "Yes, sir, we do things on rather a sizeable scale. I've seen a man on one of our big farms start out in the spring and plow a straight furrow until fall. Then he turned round and harvested back."

"Carry his grub with him?" asked a Brooklyn farmer, who raises cabbage on the outskirts. "No, sir. They follow him up with a steam hotel and have relays of men to change plows for him. We have some big farms up there, gentlemen. A friend of mine owned one which he had to give a mortgage, and I pledge my word, the mortgage was due on one end and before they could get it recorded at the other. You see it was laid off in counties."

There was a murmure of astonishment, and the Dakota man continued: "I got a letter from a man who lives in my orchard, just before I left home, and it had been three weeks getting to the dwelling house, though it travelled day and night. "Distances are pretty wide up there, ain't they?" inquired a new Utrecht agriculturist.

"Reasonably, reasonably," replied the Dakota man. "And the worst of it is it breaks up families so. Two years ago, I saw a whole family prostrated with grief, women yelling, children crying, and dogs barking. One of my men had his camp truck packed on seven four mule teams and he was around bidding everybody good-bye."

"Where was he going?" asked a Gravesend man. "He was going half way across the farm to feed the pigs," replied the Dakota man. "Did he ever get back to his family?" "It isn't time for him yet," returned the Dakota gentlemen. "Up there we send young married couples to milk the cows, and their children bring home the milk."

"I understand you have fine mines up that way," ventured a Jamaica turnip planter.

"Yes, but we only use the quartz for fencing," said the Dakota man, testing the blade of his knife with his thumb, preparatory to whetting it on his boot. "It wouldn't pay to crush it, because we can make more money on wheat. I put in 8,000 townships of wheat last spring."

"How many acres would that be?" "We don't count by acres. We count by townships and counties. My yield was $68,000,000 of dollars on wheat alone, and I'm thinking of breaking up from eighty to a hundred more counties next season."

"How do you get the help for such extensive operations?" asked the new Utrecht merchant.

"Oh! labor is cheap," replied the Dakota man. "You can get all you want for from $29 to $47 a day. In fact, I never paid over $38."

"Is land cheap?" "No, land is high. Not that it costs anything, for it don't; but under the laws of the Territory you have got to take so much or none. I was in luck. Had a friend at Yankton who got a bill through the legislature, allowing me to take 400,000 acres of land, which is the smallest farm there, though it is—"

"Look here," said the barkeeper, as the eastern husbandman strolled out to consider the last statement. "Is all this thing you've been telling true?" "Certainly," responded the western.
