sold fellow!

DOCTOR READ'S ERROR.

Dr. Wilfred Atkinson and Dr. Prederick Head sat chatting confidentially.
Both were young, somewhere between twenty-five and thirty, and both were students of medicine.
They had become intimate at college, and a strong friendship existed that had

H was Fred Read who said

"You will accept this offer?"

"Accept it?" oried his friend. "I should think so. It is what I want most in the world. You see, I have always been more interested in the study of insenity than in any other form of disease and to be resident physician in an asylum, where I have only made weekly visite fives me an opportunity for study that I could never have disewhere."

Yes; I know all that, but it will be wery confining. I think I prefer general mactice, after all. But you may expect to see me often. How I shall miss you,

And then the talk drifted into other Shannels, until Dr. Atkinson discovered that it was time for his train to Le where his new field of study lay.

"You will come over often," he urged in parting from his friend; "and if I am beey or away, make yourself at home.
The grounds are large, and very pleasant, and if you meet any of the patients, be serre those who are allowed to roam about walde the walls are harmless. Some of from are absolutely sane on every point bert one; fouch that, and off they go, and the eyes fell the story."

of the delisions are humored they are generally amiable enough, but works them, whew!"

or I shall be there often and near the counts of your experience. My practice dates only about three hours a day. In pursuance of this promise Dr. Road sook the train about once a week, and spent an hour or two with his friend,

A lady whose fees altracted him at enes. finding him generally busy, as his duties region, and details that were quite inexpendent of professional work.

it is when June was young, and the etrolling about in the prettiest part of the grounds, saw a lady in a summer house, whose face attracted him at once, If was a very pale face, and the large Mark eyes were languid, while the slender figure spanied weak, as if from mount But it was, for, a bountiful young face, ended by waving brown hair, and purely eval of the and remilar features.

"A new patient," was Fred's montal exclamation. "Whot a levely hear!"

Then he sanntered over to the summerhouse and spoke to the lady, To his constornation, she started, gave t was not a very long insensibility, and under Fred's prompt treatment the darge eyes opened and she whispered ? 60h, I am sorry to trouble you! But have been very III, and you startled

I was vory much to blame," he said pontiontly, "and I ho o you will pardon mer Are you well one ah now for me to fun up to the house for a glass of

"I am well enough but I do not need Mand sho sat up again, and took up a bless of needle-work that had dropped her hand. Her lingers still terombled, and a profty flush came for a rement into her pale face as she said?

"Are you one of the physicians here?"
"Only by courtesy," he replied. "I from the productions out the Hare is er for f kind files very fitte." a not? Out here, I mount Inside," and the ahudawat, after spunds are often dreadful. But the do day at home thought se change of air would be good for me, "Change of air! Thoman Fred. "Poor Sittle thing! Quite mechanicious of her defirmity? All through a definition hour Fred eathly teled to discover the one point Then which the new patient was insane.

Whatever it was, it evaled him, and the looked as eathly for any wandering of wateracy in the acti from a year that mot the own, full of infelligence. They were still conversing when one of the nurses came down the path leading do the summer houser "Miss flessie," she said, "Dr. Atkinson pent me to end you had helter he down for an hour or two, and he has sent some medicine to your room. Let me for Read, being a physician, made no Mismpt to detain the fair patient, noting

He read the truth in a fash. Flores. was, and how wearly she leanedupon the

He did not fast inclined to have any esting about his interest, such as his riend was wont to ululge in when adjourners the subject, on he said nothing of he experience and joined by Alle son tiot gratified, for there were only familiar faces in the wards.

But the summer-house was soon found to b. Miss Bossie's resort. It was in a ed part of the grounds, shaded by a thick clump of trees, and provided with a rustic table and cosey nest for herself, and the place looked home-like with her work-basket, her books, knitting, or sketch book, her cushions and foot-

"The doctor said I must be in the open air as much as possible," she told Fred one day, "and as no one seems to care much for this summer-house, I have appropriated it. Sometimes I have visitors," and her face saddened, "the poor patients here, you know, but they do not like the quiet, and soon leave me to myself. She never classed herself with her companions, Fred noticed, often speaking pityingly of those more heavily afflicted. But this phase of mental delusion was very common.

But Fred had not, when July closed, found out the defusion of the sweet little girl he called "Miss Bessie." She had gained perfect health in the two months of quiet and open air. In these two months Fred had searcely seen Dr. Atkinson, whose superior in office, Dr. Hare, had gone away for a summer vacation, and a new wing was being added to the building. The resident physician had scarcely a moment to call his own, and Fred frequently did not see him at all during his visit.

It was in July that Dr. Read suddenly woke to the appalling conviction that he was deeply in love with the inmate of a lunatic asylum. It had become quite a common thing for him o read scraps of newspaper intelligence, little bits from one of the books on the table, or a selection from a favorite work brought with him, while Bessie sewed or knitted and listened to him. And on this particular July day he had read a little love-poem nestlet. P. the corne of a newspaper. It was not a woner all production of genius, but it was pretty and tender. Looking up, Fred saw a pair of blushing cheeks, downcast eyes, trembling fingers, and his heart stood still. He read the truth in a flash. He loved the lovely girl before him, and she-alas she returned his love.

His first feeling was one of keen selfrepreach. What if he had added to the mental infirmity that had caused this beautiful young creature to be sent to an asylum? Would she forget him, or-dreadful possibility - would the whole reason give way if he deserted her? He searcely knew how he reached his home, but once there he sat down and looked the situation squarely in the

His own share of the affliction he put aside for the present. He was a man, and he could bear his trouble man-That he loved where his love must die, was, in a great measure, his own fault and folly; but that he had won a pure sweet heart, only to wound it, caused him a bitter pain and regret. He knows where the weakness I have failed to discover lies," Fred thought, "and he can tell me whether it is safest to Long meditation brought him to one resolution: He must see Dr. Atkinson, make a clear confession, and have his opinion of the danger to be antici-

It was not an easy matter to catch Dr. Atkinson, or, having caught him, to secure his attention, but something in Fred's troubled face aroused his friend's anxiety, and he turned his back for the fine upon his manifold duties and a himself in his private office

At first he listened gravely enough, but as Fred proceeded his face became more and more amused, until, to the consternation of the penitent speaker, he throw himself back in his chair, and broke into a rour of laughter. "(th," Fred said, "it is funny, is it? 1 do not sea it in that light. Even if this poor girl is insanc-"Stop!" interrupted his friend; "don't get angry, my dear fellow. You really love her, you say?"

But Fred was too angry to answer. And she loves you at least you think so and you want to know if it is a carable case, and Well, I will not torment you any more. Your charmer, fred, he not a patient, nor, as far as I know, a limatic. Fred gave a long sigh, but only looked his eager questions. She is my sister, Bessle Atkinson, has had a long winter of illness from typhoid-fever, and is paying me a visit. I thought she was quite safe from intrusion in that summer-house, as the attendants have orders to keep the patients away from there, and I did not think of you. But since you have been prowling around so long, perhaps you had better come now and be intro-

"One moment, Will. I have been a puppy, it seems, in taking her love for granted; but if I have won it?" "I am her eldest brother, and her father died years ago. I am quite sure that what I approve, my mother will sanction, and you must know nothing could please me better than to know Bessie has a lover I esteem so highly as Heasie has a lover I earden to I do you."

"And—you will not tell her—will you, my awful mistake?"

"I can't promise. I'll try to keep the secret, but," and the doctor reared again, "the kies of Bess as a ruging lunate? Well, there, I won't tell her, at all eyents, until you have told her something far more inferesting."

more than a year before she knew that her husband had ever considered her

A NEW CRAZE FOR THE LADIES.

Plowers Made From Costly Tiesne Paper Onite the Proper Fashion.

"Making artificial flowers out of tissue paper is all the rage new among the young ladies," said a member of a firm dealing in tissue paper to a reporter, "and so great is the demand that large quantities are imported.
"A deep red shade used in making roses costs 10 cents a sheet and $22,50 a ream. It is imported and is a very difficult color to obtain. The number of different shades now made in this tissue paper reaches 125 and they are finely graded.

"The variety of pretty articles that can easily be made is equally great. An excellent outfit of materials can be bought with a few dollars, and, indeed, we have outfits prepared, without the paper, for even half a dollar." Is it difficult to learn to make these flowers?" "Not at all. The ladies become quite proficient in the work after a little practice. The choice of the flower to be reproduced in paper must of course depend upon the use to be made of it. If it is for room decoration it may be larger, fuller and less elaborate than if it is to be worn. "For instance, the daisy always looks well, whether in bunches or mixed with other flowers. As it is easily made it is a good flower to begin on. It can be made tracing from figures that are found in the book of designs, it can be varied to suit the taste, taking the appearance of a fully opened flower, or by simply pinching the cases together of a bud. "In making this, as in making all paper flowers, thin wire is needed to support the paper stem, and occasionally a little wool cotton to give the raised ap-of any size, and when once the exact pattern has been taken, which is done by perfect result. "In making a daisy the most deadwhite paper should be selected. Then, having decided upon the size of the flower, carefully follow the outlines of pearance which is necessary to produce a the leaves with a seissors. "To give it the appearance of reality, press lightly in straight lines, either with he selssors point or a pin, on each leaf, and then enrefully fasten the yellow heart in the center with gum. It is made firmer by running the wire of the stalk

"White jasmine is another simple flower to make. A beginner would do well after making a daisy to attempt a jasmine by copying it from nature. The same white and the same shade of green would look admirable. .

"Another flower easily made is the tulip. It presents only one form of leaf. The greatest latitude is possible, also, in point of color, for the worker can adapt the shades and streaks to suit individual " Isn't the rose much more difficult to

"Not so much as you would imagine, The number of leaves must, of course, depend on the size of the rose desired. The first thing to do, after cutting them out, is to make a firm ball of cotton wool for the center and gum the smallest leaves to it. Then one by one gum the larger ones round this central foundation. The bud is very easily made, the only difference being that the centre wad of cotton is long instead of round and that in working it the leaves should be pinched a litt' ipwards and inwards.

The moss rose requires more skill. A little coaxing is needed in settling the leaves, and the delicate cares can only be given in accordance with individual taste and judgment. It is very handsome in pure white tissue paper, the outer moss sup of dark green and the innermost heart of the bud in delicate pink.

"I making this there is a great opportunity for the display of individual faste, for although every one would say a rose is white or red, a delicate observer knows that these colors include shades and gradations of every variety, and thus in able hands the rose will become a marvel of delicate work."-[N. Y. Mail and Express. -

ONLY A SONG.

It was only a simple ballad, Sung to a careless throng; There were none that knew the singer And few that heeded the song; Yet the singer's voice was tender And sweet, as with love untold; Surely those hearts were hardened, That it left so proud and cold.

She sang of the wondrous glory That touches the woods in spring, Of the strange soul-stirring voices When "the hills break forth and sing;" Of the happy birds low warbling The requiem of the day, And the quiet hush of the valleys

In the dusk of the gloaming gray. And one in a distant corner-A woman worn with strife-Heard in that song a message From the spring-time of her life:

Fair forms rose up before her, From the mist of vanished years; She sat in a happy blindness, Her eyes were veiled in tears. Then when the song was ended, And hushed the last sweet tone,

The listener rose up softly And went on her way alone. Once more to her life of labor
She passed, but her heart was strong;
And she prayed, "God bless the singer!
And, oh, thank God for the song!"

Diamond Cut Diamond. Some people in Montreal must be pos-sessed of what is generally known as Yankee 'cuteness. A hackman in that city recently slipped away from the mansion to which he had conveyed a bridal couple, in order to try to pick up a fare during the ceremony and

But the happy couple were no less fore-handed. The groom insisted that the fare thus carned should be deducted from the total bill, and he carried his point.

A Social Affliction.

Mrs. Fogg-"We had a little entermrs. Fogg— We had a little enter-tainment at the vestry this evening. It was very good—that is, the most of it; but there was a gentleman who read several pieces, and for the life of me I couldn't say what they were. I could hardly understand a word he said. It was perfectly dreadful to listen to him."

Fagg—"I can sympathize with you No. I don't know who he is, but from what you say of him it is plain enough that he is a professional elecutionist.—[Boston Transcript.

killed in a competitive examination be-tween a young negro and himself.

It took just four rounds to render the

GOUNTRY LYCEUMS.

Encouragement for Aspiring Young People The country lyceum is semetimes made the subject of ridicule. Its would-be poets and orators are laughed at, and the subjects its members discuss are sometimes absurd and not well-timed. But great things have often come from these laughed-at speakers and orators in coun-

Men who have made their first speeches in these lyceums have sometimes made their last in the halls of Congress. Writers who have come timidly and tremblingly forward to read their first essays in little country school-rooms have had the world for their stage and its delighted people for their hearers in after years.

Every school district should have a literary society for the long winter even-ings. It is a never-failing source of enjoyment, and good is sure to come from it.

Almost every neighborhood has readers and thinkers who can discuss clearly and intelligently all topics of general interest. Every neighborhood has an organ and singers, and if the music is not very good and the singing not good at all, desire may at least be awakened for something better. A taste for good reading, good music, good stories, good singing and for good in all things has been created in country

Ridiculous things may be said and done, but a very wise man once wrote, "He who hath not a dram of folly in his mixture hath pounds of much worse matter in his composition."

The amusing things of life play a most important part in bringing about general happiness and general good. Every man and every woman is better for a hearty laugh once in a while. A lit ary society for young people, and partie cly young people living in quiet, rural districts, should always have an element of fun in it; and happily this element is seldom missing in such societies.

-[Youths' Companion.

New England Twigs. A maiden schoolmistress thinks that some of her pupil's compositions are funnier than anything of Mark Twain's. From an essay on "Fashion," written by a boy of 12, she cites the following: "Sensible people wear sensible fashions, and insensible people insensible fash-Another hopeful of hers, writing on the subject "A Rainy Afternoon," evolved from an inner consciousness deeper than that of Josh Billings, the following sen-"It rained hard, and I could not go owdoors, and so I went out in the shed and sod some wood." In a little straw frame on her mantel is a sentence from the pen of her youngest and brightest, given in answer to the request: "Write in twenty words a defi-nition of 'Man." It reads thus:

"Man is an animal that stands up; he is not very big and he has to work for a living."- Boston Record.

Fingers Before Forks.

The Malay said: "Such a dirty practice. W/ say to ourseles, What do I know of the history of the ork? It has been in a hundred, perhaps a thousand mouths; perhaps in the mouth of my worst enemy. thought is very repulsive to us.'

"But," said I, "the fork is thoroughly cleaned, or ought to be, every time it is used, first with soap and water, then with plate-powder."

"O ht to be; quite so. But now do you we that your servant does not shirk his work? If you have a lazy servant you are liable to eat with a fork that has not been thoroughly cleaned; whereas, I know that my fingers are clean, for I wash them myself before eating. They are quite as clean as the cleanest fork, and they have two great advantages over ft-one, that they have never been in any one's mouth but my own, and another that they are washed by myself."-[Emily

Somathing for Inventors to Read.

A portable sanitary stove is called for by the Lancet. It says:
"There is great need for a portable stove which might be used in a sick room without either poisoning the atmosphere with the fumes of paraffine or the products of combustion or consuming a large proportion of the available oxygen.

"The apparatus should be of moderate size, should give out a fair amount of heat, should be capable of boiling a small kettle of water, and should be provided with a flexible tube which might be conducted into the chimney.

"There ought to be no great difficulty in devising a heating appliance of the nature required. It would be invaluable for use in cases in which, no nurse being in attendance to keep up an ordinary fire, a moderate temperature might be main-

Stinginess of the Great Napoleon. Napoleon the First was a great admirer of Mile. Georges, but by no means lavish in his ideas of liberality. One day, however, after alluding in terms of satisfaction to her performance of the preceding evening, he signified his inten-tion of bestowing on her a mark of his approval, and asked her what she would like best

"Sire," she replied, "my great ambition is to possess a portrait of your Majesty."

"Your wish is easily gratified," said the Emperor, with a smile; and, putting his hand in his pocket, he presented her with the desired effigy in the shape of not, as she probably expected, a minia-ture enriched with diamonds, but—a five-

The Great American Liar,

When Mr. Morton was American Minister to France he was entertaining a party at dinner, among whom were several English swells and the great American raconteur Tom Ochiltree.

One of the Englishmen had described the Duke of Westminster's place as being remarkably large and beautiful, when Tom broke in with: "Why, that's nothing. A friend of mine in Texas has got a place a thous and miles square, and a house as big as a hotel. He met me walking about the use one day and said: "Hello! Tom where do you come from? Why, old man, I've been staying with you for two weeks. It was a fact; we hadn't happened to meet before."

Public Men for Fifty Years. Alfred Tennyson and William Ewart ladstone are of the same age, and seh has been before the world for fifty years as poet and orator. They are close friends.

PERRY DAVIS PAIN-KILLER

IS RECOMMENDED BY Physicians, Ministers, Missionarie, Munagers of Factories, Work-shops, Plantations, Nurses in Hospitals, in short, everybody everywher who has ever given it a trial.

TAKEN INTERNALLY MIXED WITH A WINE GLASS OF HOT MILK AND SUGAR, IT WILL BE FOUND A NEVER FAILING SUDDEN COLDS, CHILLS, CON-GESTION OR STOPPAGE OF

CIRCULATION, CRAMPS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, SUM-MER AND BOWEL COMPLAINTS, SORE THROAT, &c. APPLIED EXTERNALLY, EXPERIENCE HAS PROVEN IT THE MOST

EFFECTIVE AND BEST LINIMENT ON EARTH IN REMOVING THE PAIN ARISING FROM SPRAINS, BRUISES, RHEUMA-TISM, NEURALGIA, SWELLED FACE, TOOTHACHE,

BURNS, FROST BITES, &c., &c. 25cts. per Bottle. Beware of Imitations. "Ge is effective in small doses, acts without griping, does not ocsion nausea, and AMPBELLO will not create irritation and congestion as do many of the COMPOUND usual catharties administered in the form of Pills, &c.

CAMPBELL'S PATHARTIC COMPOUN

Ladies and Children having the most sensitive stoichs take this medicine without troubie or complaint. CAMPUBLL'S CATHARTIC COMPOUND especially adapted for the cure of LAYER COMPLAINTS AND BILIOUS DIS-FOR ACID STOMACH AND LOSS OF AP-

FOR SICK HEADACHE AND DYSPERSIA. Log CONSTIPATION OR COSTIVENESS. FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM A DISORDERED STATE OF THE STO-This medicine being in liquid form, the dose can be easily regulated to meet the requirements of different persons, thus making it equally well adapted to the use of the little child as to the adult. Put up in three ounce bottles, and sold by all dealers in muly medicines. Price Retail. 25 Cents.

CAMPBELL'S

a contact and a

This acreeable yet potent prepara on is especially adapted for the relief endant upon a low or reduced state wesystem, and usually accompanied ly Pailor, Weakness and Palpitation of the Heart. Prompt results will llow its use in cases of Sudden Exhoustion arising from Loss of Blood. A me or Chronic Diseases, and in the weakness that invariably accompanies the recovery from Wasting Fevers. No remedy will give more speedy relief in Dyspensia or Indigestion, its action on he stomach being that of a gentle and harmless tonic, exciting the organs of digestion to action, and thus affording immediate and permanent relief. The carminative properties of the different aromatics which the Elixir contains render it useful in Flatulent Dyspepsia. t is a valuable remedy for Atome hyspepsia, which is apt to occur in persons of a gouty character. For Impoverished Blood, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, and in all cases where an effective and certain stimulant is required, the Elixir will be found invaluable.

In Fevers of a Malarial Type, and the various evil results following expesure to the cold or wet weather, it will prove a valuable restorative, as the combination of Cinchona Calisaya and Serpentaria are universally recognized as specifics for the above-named disor-Sold by all Dealers in Family Medicines.

Price, $1 per Bottle, or Six Bottles for $5. Davis & Lawrence Co. (Limited) SOLE ACTUES,

FARM FOR SALE

Frame dwelling house; barn and stables, Good well, and never fairs is without exception a first-class chance for any person desiring a homestead, and will be sold at a bargain. For terms apply to the owner on the premises, or to F. D. MOORE, Solicitor, Lindsay.—11-tf. the owner on the premises Solicitor, Lindsay.—11-tf,

SPRING OF 1886.

Edmund Gregory

Field, Vegetable & Flower

weight for 20 years.

We have sold all kinds of seeds by

BRYSON'S.

Special to The Warder.

SCHOOL REPORT. - The following is a report of the standing of the pupils in S. S. No. 3, Ops. The names are inserted in order of merit:-Senior fourth-Newton Smale, Jennie Mc-Millan, Howard Graham, William Graham, Wesley Terrill, Patrick O'Connor. Junior fourth - Annie Graham, Eliza McClory, Maria Moore, Ellie Graham, Edward Wright. Thomas Moore, Wesley McNeil, Herbert Graham, Edward Murphy. Jno. Moore, sen., John Wright, sen., and William Minty, jr. were unavoidably absent from part of the examination. Third-Bessie Ricketts, Wesley Famlin, John Twohey, Daniel McLean. Lottie Ray, Charles Famlin, Arming. ton Graham. Senior second-Mabel Graham, Minnie Willock and Maggie McClory, Charles Minty, Rebecca Wright, Bertrum Graham, Hannah McClory, Freddie Bryson. Junior second-Robert Strutt, John McLean, Maggie Burk.

WOODVILLE,

Special to the Warder. D. J. McIntyre, M. P. P., held a private meeting on Saturday night. Literary society debate Friday night last.-"Which is the happier under ordinary circumstances, a farmer's or a mechanic's life?" Verdict-Farmer's.

A. Smith, harness maker, nad a sale last Friday. He goes to Cannington. His brother, A. E. Smith. from Kirkfield, succeeds him here A. McLean, blacksmith, is bailiff in place of Fred Lease.

A. McN-il was fined $28.50 by W. Cameron, J. P. Cause-"tangleleg" and its results.

Mrs. John Morrison left on Mon. day for Europe. Miss Agnes Morrison accompanied her to New York. Directors of the agricultural society are on the warpath for members. The village band assisted at "Dora" on 29th inst. Magistrat-s' court on Friday. License inspector McLenghin vs. Mrs. Young a journed. Mrs. Young ill. H. Strickland, Mariposa, bought from Fred. Shaver. Little Britain, & Durham Bull.

Worth Remembering.

In a long letter from John H. Hall, of Baddick, Cape Breton, N. S., he says: "I believe were it not for Burdock Blood Bitters I should be in my grave." It cured me of liver and kidney complaint and general debility, which had nearly proved Near Starvation's Door. Mrs Nelson W. Whitehead, of Nixon, was a chronic sufferer from dyspepsia and liver complaint, and was scarcely able to take the most simple nourishment. Even heartily recommends this remedy to all sufferers. -15.2.

a swallow of water caused great distress.

Two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured her, when all else failed. She Piles! Piles! Piles! Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment is a sure cure for blind, bleeding or itching piles. No one need suffer. Prepared for piles only. It never fails to cure. Sold by druggists for $1, or mailed on receipt of price. WILLIAM'S MF'G. Co., Cleve-

FOR SALE.

and Financial Agent, Lindsay. - 1404.

land, 0.-13-1v

An acre of land on Durham street west, very cheap. Apply to D. EAGLESON, Insurance

THE CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

ESTABLISHED 1847. The oldest and the Leading Life Office in the Dominion. Capital and Assets as at the 30th of April, 1885, over $8,000,000.

Annual Income for the year ending 30th April, 1885, $1,336,680.

Amount of new business for the year ending 30th of April, 1885, $5,249,497.

The profits of this old and reliable Company are larger than any other Life Office doing business in the Dominion, and its ratio of expenses to income are less than that of any other Canadian or British office. The policies of this Company ground whatever pany are indisputable on any ground whatever after two years, and Policies becoming claims are paid at once. The rates charged by this Company are as low as any first-class office. All forms of policies are issued.

F. C. TAYLOR,

6-10-7eow 3c

scessity of Row greens. as Editor of The Warder. Sir. I think it is lly admitted that it lant rows of trees, our fields, that are tion and assis its of contiguous for me afforded. Allow and your readers, he intend to cont estion on their fields. of young everge ides of their farms The reason for the

The Victoria

FRIDAY, APRIL

imple one, compari, ill give shelter in most needed. re, in winter, of v wind break. The ery valuable in su rays than one. The able for cattle, an revents the wind irging out the et howers from the vergreens will do alnable in winter Many young eve bisined, in excell lanting, from our me who have be in this, advise tha pery small, six inc. height, planted in n two years trans iltimate places laimed that, so outgrow larger mee in wind method when care ave known very mined. The chief to secure as > if large taken, at low rates own. I have se forests in Massaci en grown by broadcast on the land too-and w no other care wh But with care gratifying results There is nothing the value or beaut a good line of pin protecting it from wind. Of course should be chosen fourish in the c oots as possible,

lamp, that is, coy

and air, till plante

course, be obtain very poor soil. The planting many parts of Or Teronto, Marci

sial to The Ward grow well in

The pine will g

SUGAR making Also McNabb' FALL wheat goo Mr. James Mor fact Mrs. F ...Mr. R. little hopes of rec BUILDING.-M ant, has erec

WOOD BEE.-

Oliver's on Friday

vening. nal to The War ONCE more t ave bidden farev the little brook ead-like stre through the mea ive mountains, of fallen giants atch the spark! ble to pebble words,—"Farme cating forth you Pat-Why ble e country; Mike—What i Pat-Mud.

SOME weeks a at Lindsay for the pany, sold to M son's neighborho gan of superior COL ial to The Wo THE editor of