Sunday Shaving in the District of Columbia.

It has been decided in the district of Columbia that barber shops shall not keep open on Sunday's and on Tuesday night, at a meeting of the barbers of the district, it was decided to enlighten the public after this fashion: "Whereas the public is desirous to know why the barber shops are closed on Sunday, therefore resolved, first, that the shops are closed because the Divine law says 'Six days shall thou labor, and on the seventh rest.' Second, that on the church, the common law, and the best elements of the district desire it. Third, that all our customers can get shaved on Saturday between the hours of 7 in the morning and 12 at night, if they wish to do so."

Work for the Humane.

The American Humane Association directs the attention of the public to the barbarities and abuses continually being practiced in various portions of the country, and attentions in localities and cities which are deemed very highly civilized. In order that the friends of the defenceless and helpless may know the extent of this evil, and devise measures for their relief, mention is here made of some of the

EXISTING CRUELITIES:

Animals in freezing and starving condition, in exposed localities in the Western plains, in the winter season.

Animals so horribly burned on their bodies, through careless branding, as to make wounds that never heal.

Animals severely wounded and tortured by clubs and long, sharp iron prods, when being loaded on stock cars.

Animals so cruelly crowded, trampled, starved, and kept without water, when transported long distances by rail to market, as to make their most just for food.

Horses compelled to endure excruciating torture by the over-check and other high check-reins, through the ignorance and pride of thoughtless drivers.

Dogs and cats driven to desperation and madness from want of water.

Horses ruined in health and limb through being overloaded, lack of food, and improper feeding.

Old, galled, crippled horses ill fed, over-loaded, and generally abused by bad masters.

Cows compelled, through the parsimoniousness of their owners, to run the streets, in many cities and villages, quenching thirst from mud-puddles, pounded by clubs, beaten by stones, and mutilated by dogs, when driven from yards into which the animals force themselves because of hunger.

Cattle with feet tied and tortured, while being transported long distances, in distressed position, over rough roads, by butchers and others. Fine horses, outrageously high-checked and brutally over-driven by drunken, careless and cruel drivers.

Pigeons wantonly wounded, mutilated and allowed to linger hours before death comes to their relief, at shooting tournaments.

Horses left standing in exposed positions, through severe storms, without covering.

Beautiful song and useful birds needlessly slaughtered by men and boys for sport.

Insects, birds and animals of various kinds cruelly put to death by thoughtless persons, when a little care would make death less painful.

The cruelty and savage instinct aroused by pugilism, cock and dog fighting.

The useless, barbarous cruelty inflicted on hares and foxes in allowing them to be chased and hunted by hounds for hours, as a sport.

The debasing, cruel effect on children by close confinement at labor, often in dark and unwholesome factories and other places.

The cruelties and beating inflicted on patients, accompanying wives by brutal and drunken husbands.

The whippings and abuse endured by boys and girls who have been given into the charge of coarse and hard masters.

The starvation and neglect endured by infants and small children, in the streets, who often have no one to protect them.

The deplorable condition of the horse, no longer useful, turned loose to starve and die; the child, whipped by the heartless parent; the discharged prisoner, whom no one will employ; the little tired coal-boy and cash girl, that should have been, hunched, aged, in body the leopards, hunched, aged, in body the leopards, hunched, aged, in body the leopards.
