

The Victoria Wardell

FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1886.

MR. MCINTYRE'S LETTER.

We are in receipt of a letter from D. J. McIntyre, Esq., M. P., to which we have refused insertion...

PLAY THE MAN EVERY TIME.

Last week our contemporary in a cold blooded editorial, after the Globe's own heart, insinuated that Mr. Jewett, one of the Lindsay assessors...

The Post's tactics are on a par with Reform policy. When the Globe is loudly accusing the Conservatives of crimes of corruption...

Our advice to every assessor is to do his duty honestly and fairly. Let every citizen eligible be placed on the rolls and have no feeling...

THE PROTESTANT BIBLE IS GONE.

If the ratepayers of Victoria will kindly ask their children to describe the book from which their teachers read the morning lesson from they will find the description will not indicate the old Protestant Bible...

Let the electors of Victoria; let the mothers of Victoria children, pause for an instant to consider what the cause of the turning drift of the Protestant Bible...

Teachers of Ontario! what are you told by the Reform government? Only this: "The teachers of Ontario are to be the Grit government's."

the most impressive passages in the Bible than are the teachers. If they once strike on a passage uninteresting to children they will be careful to prepare themselves again...

TO LINDSAY MERCHANTS AND COUNCIL.

We respectfully draw the attention of our town council and merchants to the fact that at present the residents of Franklin, Brunswick and Bethany districts have very poor railway connection with Lindsay...

If action be taken by our authorities, we think the following arrangement could readily be made: Let the early train leaving Peterboro to connect with Britton's train at Millbrook...

The Grand Trunk would consult its own as well as Lindsay's interest by such a motion. Now the C. P. R. is taking almost entirely away the old Bethany trade...

We commend our scheme to both town and Grand Trunk authorities, as involving no outlay to operate, and as being in the interest of both.

HON. THOMAS WHITE.

When Mr. White became Minister of the Interior, we then expressed our belief that he was the right man in the right place. Subsequently we felt, and so expressed ourselves, that he was the one man in Parliament...

"To Mr. White the Premier has found a colleague who is both a conscientious and indefatigable worker and a fluent and practical speaker—qualities rarely possessed by the same man."

As a speaker he greatly reminds one of Sir Robert P. et, both in the merits and defects of his style. Indeed Mr. White's character in many respects recalls the old Scotch gentleman...

tribed to support Kirkland's timber bill. They of course did not consider it a bribe—it was merely money paid for preparing a speech in favour of Kirkland's ideas...

INTELLIGENCE VS. IGNORANCE.

We are no believer in the ordinary acceptance of the doctrine of total depravity. The only platform the Grits have is "Total depravity of the people."

It has frequently been noticed in public prints how indifferent the ordinary public is to questions deeply affecting the public welfare. Too often do people allow themselves to be misled by sensational articles—articles full of insinuation, but containing no facts...

The last Harper's Weekly contains an illustration of how the Irish agitators are regarded in the United States. In the foreground are "Uncle Sam" and Mr. Gladstone, embracing each other, while "John Bull," with lowering brow, stands in the rear...

The Grits in the House of Commons can turn corners sharper than a greased wheel. Last week the discussion on the manufacture and importation of the filthy stuff, oleomargarine, came up...

The result is now that many honest men are becoming sick at heart of a party press. Even some Conservatives are beginning to look on politics as a game played by scoundrels and sharpers...

In our humble endeavors to bring about that auspicious day we have in no instance woked at or countenanced wrong doing in friend or foe; but have in terms suited to the occasion exposed the offence...

LIFFORD.

Special to The Wardell: OBITUARY.—It is our sad duty this week to write concerning the death of Mrs. John Cairnes, wife of the late John Cairnes, of the township of Mauvers...

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Globe says one hundred names of the Liberal Conservatives in South Victoria "MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED." That is a new name for it.

The Sowder and Rocky now the North-west Central railway bill is still before the committee at Ottawa. This is the bill with which the reform press are trying to defame Messrs. Bestly and Woodward...

Compelled to Yield. Mrs. Selver, of Franktown, Ontario, was for four years afflicted with a fever which baffled all treatment...

Mr. John Matthe, well known as License Inspector for South Victoria, has been superseded by Mr. Short of Manitoba. We regret to announce Mr. Matthe's retirement...
