ONE RESULY OF ABBOR DAY.—Bobcay-geon has a nice artificial as well as a natural park. The whole tract southeast of the village forms a beautiful natural resort; but with commendable taste the little plot of a few acres lying north of the canal basin and south of the Forest house has been laid out and planted with trees, shrubs and flowers. This will add much to the " first impressions" the visitor will form of the town, and is we believe an outcome of "Arbor Scott Acr.-The cases the Queen against Maunder, Daly, McConnell and McCormack were before the police magistrate on Wednesday when Mr. McSweyn appeared on behalf of the Queen. Mr. Hopkins on behalf of Mr. Maunder objected to Mr. McSweyn's appearing for the Queen. His contention was that none but the County Crown Attorney could represent the Queen in such cases. The police magistrate consequently adourned the cases one week to consult the Attorney General. Mr. Smith appeared for Mr McConnell and Mr. Dean for Mr. McCormack. The point raised by Mr. Hopkins is considered a difficult LEAGUE PLATING BY AMATEURS-A second foreign match of the season was played on Wednesday, June 16th between Lindsay and Uxbridge, on the latter's grounds, and a more scientific game of ball playing has never been seen in this district. The threatening aspect of the weather was anything but promising, but it did not prevent the lovers of the game and the friends of the Uxbridge boys from turning out in good numbers, the grand stand being packed and a great many on the field. Some delay was caused in securing the ninth man for Lindsay, they having started with only eight players. But Mr. B. Smith was eight players. But Mr. B. Smith was finally chosen, and when ready for action made a handsome and active looking base ball man. At precisely 3 o'clock time was called by the umpire, Mr. Lawrence (professional from Toronto engaged specially for the occasion) the coin was flipped into the air and Uxbridge won choice and put Lindsay at the bat. They went in to get there, but failed to score, when Uxbridge took up the bat, and right here was the finest play of the day. Lindsay had not more than got their positions, 3 ball only being delivered, when umpire hallooed, "three out, all out"; that inning did not last one minute. This inning rattled the boys up west and put vim in the Lindsay boys. The play went on amid the greatboys. The play went on amid the gree est excitement, till in the 9th inni Uxbridge scored the run to tie. The u the score, when the boys decided mutu-ally to quit the game, as Lindsay had to catch the train. When these two teams come together again, which will be in Lindsay, you will see the prettiest game of hall you ever witnessed in Lindsay, and we gently whisper to you, look, watch and wait for the date.
