The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the fresh air. It felt like I had been breathing stale air for years. The sun was shining brightly, and the birds were singing. It was a beautiful sight. I had never seen anything like this before. The people were friendly and welcoming. They showed me around the city and helped me find my way. I was so happy to be here. It was a great experience.

The speaker has been in a rather interesting talk by the M in the Council Room and the speaker made much of the fact that what will be the result of Mr. Morrison will ask the committee of the
to take any measures, and mean that there will be a test vote to continue to resist the tariff this partial succession, in case of re-death, resignation or inability of the Vice-President, the duties of the office are to be assumed by the Cabinet officers in the following order: 1st, secretary of state; 2d, secretary of the treasury; 3d, secretary of war; 4th, attorney general; and 5th, postmaster general; secretary of the navy and secretary of the interior. Consequently, the old society is agitated over the question of social precedence. Who shall ride first, walk first, talk first, eat first and sit nearest the distinguished host, the senator's wife or the cabinet officer's wife? It is a matter that could not be settled by haphazard concessions and so it has been suggested to the ladies that the ladies be allowed to go first.

Two notable women have lectured here during the week, on subjects pertinent to the interests of womankind. Miss Kate Field spoke for the emancipation of woman from degradation of Mormonism in Utah, and Mrs. Frances Miller talked for the liberation of all women from the bondage of bustles, whalebones, steels, high heels, and all other hindrances to women's development in the present system of dress. Mrs. Field interspersed her lecture with passages of scornful railing for the people who, under guise of a divine revelation, were engaged in undermining the "noblest government on earth." She has confidence in the present administration, and believes that President Cleveland and Senator Edmunds will grapple successfully with the treason in Utah.

Amherst. On Saturday, three men were taken into custody in the hands of Thos. W. Perry, county constable, for the arrest of John W. Reed and Walter Perry, of Watertown, seven miles north of the city of Hamilton. They left Port Perry at noon Friday, Saturday and arrived in Hamilton at midnight. Sunday morning he hired a livery and drove out to Watertown and arrested his men and returned to Port Perry on Monday evening with his prisoners, where they received their trial and sent back.

Spent to The Worker.

Mr. Burnham, the American minister for Durham, had advertised to hold prayer meetings at different places through the township. The first was to be held at Bedford when he arrived there but only two to receive him, he concluded not to remain and drove to the brick school house as the next place on the programme, but when he arrived there there was only one person, so he shook the snow off his feet as a testimony against them and started for Fleetwood, where he called on one man and told him the Government had wasted thousands of dollars. He then left and the man shook his head, and said, "If the Mowat Government spent money that way they must not be temperance men." Mr. Burnham may now write to Ross, Lynch, Mowat & Co., telling them, the people of Menzies, are loyal and will uphold their Bible and country.

OMEMENT.

Special to The Wander.

The revival services under Mr. [illegible] are all well attended.

Mr. Turner is in Laubek since Monday in connection with the Model school examinations. He returns on Wednesday evening.

Entrance examinations begin on this day next. A large number of candidates have given notice of writing.

Mr. Bick and a few legal satellites, viz Messrs. Barron, Stewart and Dean, held a meeting here on Tuesday evening, 14th inst. Mr. Bick, whose aged and venerable appearance won for him an attentive hearing, was the first speaker. To make it short he is really out of date and one is inclined to suggest that he would be better at home rocking his grand children than feebly attempting to stump the Kid on a political campaign. Mr. Dean was the next speaker. He had evidently chosen for his part an exhortation of the Separate School Act. But oh preserve us from such expounding of the law, for had he not informed his audience at the commencement of his, well, say speech, that he was a lawyer, it is difficult to know what conclusion would have been arrived at. Being asked by an elector the date of the act he was dealing with he was totally unable to answer, but with Mr. Barron coming to the rescue they got out 1873. Poor Mr. Dean was to be pitied and it was quite needless for him to inform the audience that it was his first attempt on a political platform. Mr. Stewart next took the platform. His lot was to deal with the "Ross Lynch Bible." Mr. S. is a pronounced Presbyterian. His mind appears be considerably warped with religious hypothesis. In explaining the history of his book the fact appears to have entirely escaped him in reference to the mysterious role the second name of the title played in the compilation. He seems now to be abating under the hallucination that there are some very obscene passages in our Bible, that these writings are about all that is good and reliable. It is to be regretted that one so young should show such signs of premature perversity, we would recommend him to consult Mr.

Lunt and other directors of his church.
Mr. Barron, whom the "gathering" of the quartet, was the next and last to ascend the rostrum. Wherever a Tory had been heard of he opened a volley. Streams of fire, boundary award, separate schools, Boss Louch, gerry-mandering and a taking volley on THE WARDEN editor. Now allow me to add that the people of Onondaga know Mr. Hughes too well and respect him too highly to do anything but spurn the man who would thus attempt to malign him in so cowardly a manner.
Mr. Barron's remarks were intensely erroneous and insulting, and it is indeed well he has chosen to try the "forlorn" in the north. On the whole this amateur retinue can rest assured if, boylike they pleased themselves, they failed with the audience. Mr. Geo. Morrison acted as chairman. The meeting closed about 10:30, notwithstanding their rebuff from the Salvation hall.
