In Memoriam.

Lines in memory of Miss Maggie Carroll, and Mr. John Cameron, who were drowned in Sturgeon Lake on August 6th, 1887.

One summer's eve when toil was o'er
And the harvest moon shone bright,
In a little boat from Scugog shore
Three souls embarked that night.

And calmly did they glide away
With youthful hopes so strong,
Still thinking ere another day
To join the family throng.

On the camping ground by Cedar Springs
And Sturgeon Point in view,
Which yet to many hearts still brings
Its own sad memories too.

Alas! alas! they left the shore
In a little craft too frail,
To stand amid the breaker's roar
A wild terrific gale.

As fiercely rose the crested waves
On Sturgeon waters deep,
Two of the three found watery graves
Where the dark dull waters sleep.

A noble youth, a father's pride,
A mother's hope and joy,
Gone swiftly o'er the gloomy tide
That loved and cherished boy.

The other was a fair young girl
That left this world of strife,
Who lived despite the giddy twirl,
A calm sweet Christian life.

Whilst here, they spoke of Jesus' love
And knew His saving power,
We trust they are with Him above
Where storm clouds never lower.

But from the deep they were reclaimed,
And borne with honors meet,
To the hallowed spot that is ordained
For the way worn pilgrim's feet.

And one to him the Lord was good
By granting him sweet life,
He drifted in the storm he stood,
And lived when death was rife.

And may he still as years roll by
Trust in his Saviour's worth,
And may he sing with saints on high
When all here passed from earth.

But comfort yet remains for those
Who have the grief to bear,
For God Himself each sorrow knows,
And hears the contrite prayer.

SOMETHING NEW.—The people of this town were happily surprised this morning, by W. H. DeLaucett hanging out his sign and opening up a new store, where a first class stock of goods may be found at rock bottom prices. He is an honest enterprising young man, and we are only doing a kindness to our friends, when we recommend them to give him a call.

SATURDAY, AUG. 13TH.—To-day has been a very busy day, as is usually the case on this particular day. The steamer Mary Louise Marsh, arrived in Port at the usual hour, and her decks were crowded with pleasure seekers from various towns and cities throughout the Province; also some of our neighboring towns people from Bayerville and vicinity, were among the crowd.

Miss Brown, arrived in town to-day by steamer. We understand she is to preside over our school for the following term. We wish her every success.

WE LEARN that the steamboat now being built on Hollow Lake, by the enterprising lumberman Mr. Mitchell, is nearly completed, and will soon be plowing the waters of that lake.

THERE are rumors of a tea-meeting being held at this place some time in the future, day and date not learned.

SERVICE OF SONG.—Last Sabbath, a service was held in this place, which was a change from the usual form of worship, by singing songs. There was a packed house.

[North Scugog, generally known as Colebridge, but properly Dorset P.O., is at the east end of lake of Bays or Trading Lake, where the Bobcaygeon road crosses. —ED. WARDER.]

SOME farmers have commenced plowing, but the ground was so very dry that it was impossible to go on.

SOME of our village people took advantage of the cheap fare to Orillia and spent a pleasant day there.

MR. GEO. FALLIS has gone back to his place in Ferguson's carriage works, Millbrook.

OUR village has been quiet lately but we expect a move soon as he enterprising grain merchant, Mr. Bob. Fotheburn will open grain market in a short time again, and this with a new Blacksmith shop and a dry goods store will soon make a rush.

MR. FERGUSON'S BODY NOT YET FOUND.—The following correspondence of the Calgarry Tribune, taken from the Manitoba Free Press of August 4th, will prove of interest to a number of your readers:—"Ronald Ferguson returned from Illecillewaet yesterday. His brother's body cannot be found. The current in the Illecillewaet is very strong, and there is a large quantity of driftwood below where the boat was swamped. Mr. Buchanan was in the boat with Hugh Ferguson, his partner, but the former being a good swimmer reached the shore. Mr. Ferguson had a $500 gold watch and keystone, and $500 in notes on his person." NOTE.—Deceased was a member of the well known Ferguson family of Mariposa. The family have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad bereavement.

COBOCONK.

Special to The Warder.

I can by your Baddow correspondent that our B.B. club was advised to to practice our old men for a while and there would be hopes. Well they advise me that they are all ready now to play Baddow, as they were on the first of July, for fun or money, and as the same correspondent accused me of lying, I think it but justice to myself and our club, to say that I verily believe there were three fresh men, and I would have no hesitation in swearing to two of them belonging to two of them belonging to other clubs, and that they were fresh decidedly. If the Baddow team, as they were can understand this and can play a fair game let them write to Capt. Cooper, R. E. Tolley, or Wm. Umphrey, and they will be accommodated.

THE Misses Nita Keys, Nettie M. Brown, Gussie Mallett, Susan Hume, Lena Romaney, and Maude Stephens, have all returned to their school.

MR. Ross, from Norland, is about opening a new store in this place.

MRS. John Milligan, and Mrs. John Richmond, have presented their husbands each with a fine baby....School opened here with sixty-five pupils.

Romanism in Quebec.

FRENCH EVANGELIZATION AS THE NATIONAL DEITY.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—Rev. A. B. Crochet, a French-Canadian protestant divine of this city, who has had extensive experience in French-Canadian mission work, delivered a very interesting and important discourse here to-night, on the subject: "French Evangelization as the National Deity." He referred in opening to the fatal errors taught by the Church of Rome, such as transubstantiation, the Immaculate conception, and the infallibility of the Pope. The confessional was a school of immorality, and an institution which had invested the priesthood with dark and terrible power over the welfare of families and the liberties of nations. The Jesuits were men who had reduced equivocation and falsehood to a science, and who did not shrink from crime when the interests of their order demanded it. The Church of Rome had been the irreconcilable foe of intellectual freedom, and it was still; it had been the ally of political despotism, and it was still; it had repressed with fire and sword, with branding, in gibbet and stake, every noble struggle for truth and liberty, and it would do so still if it had the power. The Church of Rome had been and was still

THE ENEMY OF THE RIGHTS

of private judgment, of the sole authority of Holy Scriptures, and of justification by faith; the enemy of biblical truth, of free and liberal education for the masses, and was the oppressor of souls, and the liberties of men and nations. Of this there was most convincing example all around in the Province of Quebec, where church dignitaries were more catholic than the Pope, and the people more Romish than the Romans themselves. Besides religious reasons, there were strong material and political reasons for the work before them. Romanism in this country, continued the speaker, is the greatest impediment in the way of the material, educational and social development of our rising nationality, and it is growing and growing, and becoming an immense power of opposition. It should be the aim of every protestant, English-speaking Canadian to build upon Canadian soil a mighty homogeneous and protestant nation, speaking the English language. Some were already at work in that direction, but it could not be done until the mass of his fellow countrymen speaking French were evangelized. They were so numerous and compact that every effort to break them off and amalgamate them would

WITNESS A SAD FAILURE.

The speaker then proceeded to show the tremendous increase made by the French-Canadian population, and said that if it continued to multiply at the same rate, in 1967 it would number sixty-two millions, whilst the English population of the Dominion would only number forty millions. Adding 33 per cent. of the English population as Roman Catholics, there would be in Canada seventy-seven millions of Roman Catholics against twenty-seven million of Protestants. Considering the unchangeable spirit and policy of the Church of Rome, its hatred of liberty, its love of absolute domination, what would be the intellectual, commercial, political and religious condition of Canada one hundred years hence? That the Church of Rome was preparing for the future in this country could not be for a moment doubted by those who took the trouble at looking around them. The Church was growing more mighty every day in this country. It had a stronger hold than ever on the soil, people, Government, education and the shaping of future generations. In face of such appalling facts, asked the speaker, how could politicians, educationists and business men of all sorts stand by with folded arms and allow this gigantic crushing machine to go on.

ITS WORK OF DESTRUCTION?

The speaker then referred to the difficulties encountered in the west, and said that one of the greatest was the feeling of hatred which was strongly embedded in French nature against the English and the Protestant religion. This was one of the most formidable obstacles with which French missionaries had to contend, and it was being strengthened every day. The last was that the relations between the two nationalities were becoming more and more strained, and the least provocation might bring about a bloody conflict. Other obstacles were the spiritual ignorance and the intellectual inactivity of the main portion of the French people and the increasing despotism of the French clergy. Protestants too, were not united enough, and steps should have been taken long ago to foster a national scheme of evangelization and to organize a national French Protestant Church, so that the French people would understand that Protestants were a people. The speaker concluded his remarks by urging the Protestants to greater effort and more united action to prevent the danger which was threatening the whole Dominion.

Rowdy Attack on the Salvation Army in Quebec.

One of those rowdy attacks which always attend the night parades of the Salvation Army took place on Thursday night, August 25th on Fabrique street, Quebec, when a mob of unruly toughs followed the Salvationists, hooting and yelling and throwing stones at random. The police made no arrests, but affidavits have been made by witnesses of the affair, and a number of warrants for the arrest of the ringleaders were issued. Apart from the ordinary casualties Adjt. McHardy of Ottawa was badly cut, Col.-Sergt. Morritt had his temple split open, bandsmen Young, Bateman, and Gardner of Montreal, had their faces and heads literally hacked, Adjt. VanAllan of Montreal was maimed in the head. A young man named Law went delirious. Capt. Lloyd and the Misses Cole and Copeman are badly injured. A number of bystanders were also injured, and the plate glass in a couple of store windows was broken. The Richmond contingent left at two o'clock in the morning by special Grand Trunk train, being escorted to the ferry boat by police for fear of the mob.

"Affliction sore long time he bore, Physicians were in vain." But had he used Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest blood-purifier known, he might still be living. "For three months I could not eat a full meal or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia.—89-2.

Reliable.

"I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and found it a sure cure for summer complaint. I was very sick, and it cured me entirely." Alex. W. Grant, Moore Creek, Ont.—89-2.

The wonderful healing and soothing properties of the above named excellent salve, have been found by many who have used it to be most efficacious in the treatment of salt rheum, pimples, blotches, boils, ulcers, scalds, burns, chafings, etc. One trial will be sufficient to prove that what we claim for it is correct.
