THE TWO COUSINS.

CHAPTER XXIII. Lady Glendower read the letter over and over again, scarcely knowing where she was. She found the Earl and she was partly broken. He then told her of the sad message which had come upon them, and that he supposed she had left home to escape the misery of her wrong doing. When she told Pearl she could hardly believe it. The look of her very sad to think of her poor unfortunate cousin alone in the world without even a friend to speak an encouraging word to her.

The news of Miss Glendower's sudden disappearance spread rapidly through the community. Everybody was alike surprised at the mysterious departure of this gay young belle.

Lady Glendower was taken with a violent fit of sickness. She was constantly raving about her poor, unfortunate daughter. She recovered slowly, and was always accompanied by Pearl who seldom left her bedside.

CHAPTER XXIV. After they had been there a day or two Earl Glendower laid his plans before the Earl of Mantoba for consideration. At first they treated it as an impossibility, but when the Earl told them how much Lady Glendower had set her heart on it, and also when they were so sincerely desired by Pearl, they at last consented.

30 lbs. of butter per week. Now if I had gone to Muskoka I am satisfied I could have had a few more cows, and the best of grain in the summer.

Dear Mr. Editor—Some few days since, I saw some remarks in fact quite an article, in one of the Lindsay papers, purporting to emanate from John A. Barron, that brings to my recollection a cartoon that I saw some years ago, and which was published in the "Lindsay Weekly."

On a Visit.—Miss Rebecca Copland, accompanied by Miss Johnson, of Lindsay, is visiting friends in the vicinity of Peterboro.

A Successful Hunt.—Mr. H. H. Copland, who resides north of our village, accompanied by a few friends from East Ops, spent an afternoon hunting one day last week, and were successful in killing nearly a dozen rabbits, one racoon and two foxes.

Revival Services are held every evening except Saturday in the Methodist church. May much good be the result.

AN OLD SAYING. "Fry, fry again" is a very old saying but it is nevertheless a very good one, and if you have been trying and trying to get something to cure cold, rheumatism, sore throat, or headache, and have been unsuccessful, try our "Fry, Fry Again" White Pine Balm.

THE DEAD CANNOT BE RAISED, nor if your lungs are badly wasted away can you be cured by the use of Dr. Fiero's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is, however, unequalled as a tonic, alterative, and nutritive, and readily cures the most obstinate cases of bronchitis, coughs, colds, and incipient consumption, far surpassing in efficacy cod liver oil.

A Narrow Escape. People who are exposed to the sudden changes of our northern climate have little chance of escaping colds, coughs, sore throats and lung troubles. The best and safest guard is to keep Higinbotham's Preterial Balm at hand. It is a quick relief and reliable cure for such complaints.—93-2.
