Harvest for Dry Goods Buyers

Greatest Genuine Bargains Ever Known in Lindsay.

The Golden Lamb has put on its war paint, and with tomahawk and scalping knife in hand starts on its great Midwinter Clearance Sale.

Not by following its old fogy competitors with a paltry ten per cent. discount, but by a total ignoring of profits. We offer this great inducement in order to clear out our stock before taking our annual inventory...

OVERCOATS for men and boys; Suits, Pants, Underwear, Mufflers, Caps, etc., and all Winter Goods at such low prices that it will pay any one to buy at this January Sale...

Initiation is the most sincere flattery. See how some of our competitors will fall into line and how they hurry to dance to the music we play them. They see the handwriting on the wall.

Then just bring on the Cash, If nice goods you wish to buy; For price and good quality This town we do defy.

The McIntyre Letter in the Post. Hark! from the tomb, a doleful sound, what is it? Is one of the slaughtered innocents coming to life again?

Political depreciation is a horrible death for the old, let alone the young to die, when so full of life, hope, and of promise.

What They are Saying. When will we have another T. Ricker. Loaded dice is the thing.—B. Jones.

Where do I come in. Eh?—Big Harry. The box is mine.—B. Jones.

Send it up to the boys. Tom.—Nac. I treated the boys well anyhow.—Tommy.

I came near getting there.—Joe Taylor. She'll be fine on the yacht.—Jim—E.—A.

We got rid of all the tickets.—Rocky. I got left with my 14 tickets.—T. Dea. I'll give her another 14 tickets.—Monty.

No use bucking against 54.—The Boys. I'd have had it only for Ricker.—Jimmy Gooseberry.

Read those tickets in great shape.—Tom M. Two dollars was cheap, Ricker.—George.

If I'd been there it would have been 45.—Tommy. She's done gone busted.—Joe L.

County Council Notes. The members of the county council are three as handsome men as can be found.

So say we all of us; Lungford, Taylor and McKechnen. Alas! I'm only deputy. David.

I'll tackle a y of them for dropping a buck on the rocks in "far away Dutton."—Joe Thompson.

The Council should provide chairs large enough for its members. Harry Walters.

I'm better, thank you, gentlemen. M. H. Berkeley. We're all glad of it. The councillors.

I'm the junior in years; but—J. Litgow. "You're astray my dear boy, I'm the man."

Mr. Salizer. That honor belongs to me. G. Lungford. This rough on a fellow to dangle the sicken gun on close to one's face. The defeated-forward councillors.

I believe my bearing and delivery are more parliamentary than any other's in the Council. J. Daniel.

I must order a new book case. D. Carmichael. I'll have such small fry and associate with greater game. John Felt, M. P. P.

I'm chairman of County Property again. When will the warden's chair be reached? E. H. H.

I dreamed I lived in county council halls. Sweet William. How sweet even to linger within the precincts of the council. Brother Evres.

Chairman of Finance Committee this year also being the warden's son, say, next year. Sam Swanton.

Ab, but, I'm an older councillor, represent a much richer municipality, and therefore am on deck for next year. But then Sam and I will not disagree. T. H. McQuade.

We ate the daddies of them all. Messrs. Felt and Fairbairn. Two doctors, 2 contractors, 3 millers, 1 lumberer, 1 merchant, 22 farmers. Of these 22 farmers, several are engaged in other industries as well as farming.

Mariposa can turn out a big lot of log rollers. PRINCE ALBERT. This WEEK Mr. John Heard met with a serious accident. His left hand caught in the spring of a threshing machine severing two fingers. Dr. Hamill is attending him.

Mr. Thos. W. Dornis recently arrested two men for drinking in violation of the Act. They are now awaiting trial at the sheriff's expense in Whitchurch.

CRESSWELL. Special to The Warder. Mr. Thos. Ream, who has been confined to his bed for some time, is gradually improving under Dr. Gillespie's skillful treatment. We hope to see him about again shortly.

DAUGHTER.—Mrs. Mainboon, wife of G. T. K. reliction foreman, presented her husband with a young daughter on Tuesday, 24th inst.

BUILDING.—Mr. D. McFadden, on boundary line, intends erecting a fine brick residence on the corner of Main and Victoria streets, containing every bit of first class style before inviting a partner to share his home.

PLEASE MEETINGS.—College prayer meetings are being held throughout the village generally, under the guidance of Messrs. Miles, Mainboon, and M. P. P. They will be held at 7 o'clock. It is hoped they will prove a blessing to many.
