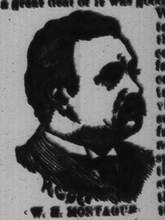
DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Opening of the Second Session of the Sixth Canadian Parliament.

OTTAWA, THURSDAY, Feb. 23.—At 3 p.m. to-day His Excellency the Governor-General proceeded in state to the Parliament Buildings, and the members of the House of Commons having been summoned to the Senate Chamber, His Excellency was pleased to open the second session of the sixth parliament of Canada. The Commoners having returned to their chamber the Speaker announced the vacancies which had occurred during the recess, and the members returned to fill them. The following new members and members re-elected were then introduced: Hon. A. W. McLelan, S. Cimon (Charlevoix), G. L. Dickinson, John Ferguson (South Renfrew), Dr. Montague, Mr. Cochrane (East Northumberland), H. J. B. Chouinard, John Lovitt (Yarmouth), David Henderson (Halton), James Holland (West Bruce), Herbert Jones (Digby), John A. Macdonald (Victoria, N.S.), R. G. Prior (Victoria, B.C.) On motion of Sir John Macdonald it was decided that the speech should be taken into consideration to-morrow. The motion for the appointment of the standing committees was passed, the report of the librarian of parliament presented, and the House adjourned. The general interest in the opening proceedings was this year rather keener than usual, and the demands for admission to the Senate Chamber were very numerous. The near approach of the Governor-General's departure had not a little to do with this. His Excellency was warmly cheered on Parliament Hill on his arrival and departure. Mr. Hickey, it is said, will apply this session for a new charter for the Ottawa, Waddington and New York road. The old charter has lapsed, and there are two boards of directors in existence. It is likely that only two divorce cases out of the five applications put in will be heard by the Senate this session. The other cases were dropped owing to insufficient notice. Twenty-two divorces have been granted by the Parliament of Canada during the past twenty years. The writ for the Russell County election, it is generally believed, will be issued early next month.

FRIDAY, Feb. 24.—This was eminently a day of talk in both Houses of Parliament, and a great deal of it was good natured talk, too.



W. E. MONTAGUE.

When Dr. Montague rose to move the address he received an ovation that fairly eclipsed his reception on being introduced the day previous. The doctor is suffering somewhat from cold, and did not make a lengthy speech or touch tiresome subjects. He steered almost entirely away from statistics, and was content to give voice to well rounded sentences regarding the leading paragraphs in the speech. The House listened with much attention, as it did also to the gentlemen who followed Dr. Montague.

L. Z. JONCAS.

They were Mr. L. Z. Joncas, the seconder of the address, Mr. Laurier, Sir John and Sir Richard Cartwright and Peter Mitchell who closed the show in a ten-minute talk in which he said he was with the Government in its Pacific Railway policy, and with the Government on its National Policy of 1879, but not with them on their N.P. of 1888. Peter also took good care to assure the House that he was with himself on all subjects. All of the speakers referred to Lord Lansdowne's near departure in terms of affection. Kindly mention was made by Mr. Laurier and Sir John of the absence of Mr. Blake. Dr. Montague referred to the Canadian Pacific Railway as the mainspring of the country's progress, to the prosperity of Canada, to her wealth of minerals and her productiveness, and finally said that her future greatness would depend upon cultivating a national sentiment and binding more closely into one solid sisterhood her various provinces, an absence of sectionalism and a passion and love for our common country. Mr. Joncas, who represents a constituency directly interested in the fishery question, had a good deal to say on this subject, and took occasion to compliment Mr. Peter Mitchell on his efforts to secure the treaty of 1871. Mr. Laurier said in reply that the Government had failed eminently to carry out their promises made in the speech of last year. The Department of Justice had not been reformed or improved, the proposed portfolio of Trade and Commerce had not been created, the Franchise Act was for the special benefit of maintaining the Government's majority, the Controverted Elections Act was a legal enigma which the judges of Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick could not interpret, and the country was steeped hopelessly in debt by reason of its unrighteous compact with the Canadian Pacific Railway corporation. The address was adopted and ordered to be engrossed and presented to His Excellency.

MONDAY, Feb. 27.—In the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir Charles Tupper was introduced amidst cheers from the Ministerial benches by Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Mr. Thompson, and took his seat. Lieut.-General Laurier was introduced by Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper, and took his seat as member for Shelburne. Reports of the ministers of justice, public works, accounts, interior, customs and other blue books were laid on the table. Sir John Macdonald proposed that the report of Mr. Justice Osler in reference to Kent election be referred to the Standing Committee of Privileges. Mr. Laurier asked as this was the second instance of the kind that the motion be postponed until to-morrow. Mr. Amyot, seconded by Mr. Bergeron, asked leave to present a bill to fix the limits of time during which election contestations might issue. Mr. Edgar enquired whether Canadian fishing vessels were required to report, enter or clear when putting into Canadian ports, harbors for shelter or repairing damages, and whether Canadian fishing vessels when in any Canadian bay or harbor for the purposes of shelter or repairing damages, of purchasing wood, or of obtaining water, are liable for harbor dues or other similar dues? Mr. Foster asked that the question might be left until to-morrow and he would answer it. In answer to Mr. Casgrain, Sir Charles Tupper said the Government were considering a measure for the better supervision of the banks in the Dominion. A resolution of Mr. Jones asking if the Government had any intention of securing a more effective system of supervision and inspection for chartered banks was left over until to-morrow. Mr. McMullen moved for return of sums of money paid in cost or otherwise in the suit of the St. Catharines Milling and Lumbering Company v. the Queen, etc. Mr. Dawson moved for a return showing the number of the Canadian vessels lost or wrecked on the great lakes during the past season of navigation. He strongly urged the necessity of legislation in order to prevent the loss of vessels through overloading, or being sent to sea in an unseaworthy condition. Mr. Foster said the Marine Department report would shortly be laid on the table, when the member might obtain this information. Sir John Macdonald moved that a committee consisting of himself, Sir Hector Langevin, Sir Richard Cartwright and Messrs. Bell, Bowell, Laurier and Mills be appointed to prepare and report with all speed the list of members to compose the standing committees. Hon. Mr. Laurier asked when the House might expect the fishery treaty and papers. Sir John Macdonald said they were not quite ready yet.

Winchester & Rowland, dry goods dealers, Kingston, have failed with $70,000 liabilities and nominal assets.

The Roof Collapses.

LONDON COVE, Feb. 25.—The roof of the Midland Road collapsed at noon, injuring a number of workmen.

AUSTRO-HUNGARY'S ARMY.

The Empire to be Placed on a Better Military Footing.

PESTH, Feb. 22.—The Austro-Hungarian Government is arranging for a considerable increase of the army. The present military law, which expires in 1889, fixes the strength of the army at 800,000 men, exclusive of the Landwehr. The law was adopted in 1868, which time there have been only slight modifications in it. Austria Hungary is thus behind other powers in military strength, but intends to institute thorough and extensive reforms by which she will be placed on an equal military footing with Germany and France.

Decline to Interfere.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Italian, Austrian and English Governments have replied to Russia's proposals touching Bulgaria. They concur in the opinion that Prince Ferdinand's position is illegal, but they decline to take steps likely to disturb the peace of Bulgaria.

Will Ask for a Conference.

BERLIN, Feb. 23.—It is reported that Russia, owing to the failure of her proposals through Turkey, will ask the powers for a conference of ambassadors to decide what action shall be taken in regard to the position of Prince Ferdinand.

The Movement of Troops.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 23.—A denial is given here to the statement that Russian troops are being withdrawn from the frontier. It is stated that recent movements were solely due to the unsanitary condition of the places formerly occupied by the troops.

TORONTO TOPICS.

On Jan. 9 last a small bar of gold, weighing a pound and a quarter, and valued at $315, was stolen from the American Express Company's delivery wagon, and although several arrests were made no one was convicted. Yesterday afternoon one of the detectives arrested a man named Robert Gray, a street merchant, on a charge of having feloniously received the gold which the detective recovered. Gray says that a boy gave him the bar to keep for him, and that he hid it away in his cellar. The thief has not yet been captured.

A despatch from New York yesterday says: Extradition papers from Toronto for Robert Leddington, who is held here, are expected to-day. Leddington is charged with forging the name of Ellis & Co., Toronto, to a check for $600 and for obtaining jewelry from them on fraudulent memorandums. He was a bookkeeper for Ellis & Co. He claims he was robbed in Buffalo of the $600 obtained on the check.

DAILY MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, Feb. 29.

The grain markets both at home and abroad show a firmer tendency, while produce is also firm and steady.

On call at the Corn Exchange to-day: No. 1 red winter 85c bid, No. 1 hard 88c bid, No. 2 hard 83c bid, No. 1 northern offered at 85c June delivery and 83c bid for cash.

The car lots received at Chicago yesterday were: Winter wheat 6, spring 53, corn 34, oats 47, rye 1 and barley 13.

The report of receipts of hogs from the Chicago Stock Yards to-day is: Estimated receipts 12,000, official yesterday 10,481, shipments 4685, left over about 3500. Cattle receipts 8000. Market quiet.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

The retail market was very quiet to-day and prices unchanged.

THE GRAIN SITUATION.

The leading markets have been quiet and irregular this week, closing heavy. Chicago reports are to the effect that outsiders are taking no interest in that market and room-traders are generally bearish. The visible shows a decrease of over 1,100,000 bushels the past week. Exports are fair, and the amount of wheat on passage shows a fair increase. The foreign houses were moderate sellers of futures during the week, and advices from abroad reported considerable offerings of wheat from other countries. The increase of passage this week was a surprise, and indicated heavy shipments from other than Atlantic ports. India shipped only 160,000 bushels, so that the bulk of the increase probably came from Russia, California and Australia. The British Board of Trade returns indicates thus there was a marked increase in imports of wheat from Russia during the month of January compared with previous years. The movement of grain at the West has been fair this week, indicating no heavy movement. There have been some reports of crop damage, but they have been of a private nature and have had no bearing on the markets. As the snow passes off it will be possible to determine the extent of damage which wheat has suffered from the severe weather of the winter.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

Bradstreet reports to-day: Cargoes off coast—Wheat, turn dearer. Corn, nothing offering. Cargoes on passage—Wheat, red, cheaper; white, dearer. Corn, steady.

THE LONDON MARKETS.

London reports to-day: Wheat, quiet and steady; poor demand, supply good. Corn, quiet; poor demand. Prices are without change.

CHICAGO BARLEY MARKET.

Gossage reports barley quiet and prices unchanged. Shipments 2000 bushels.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.—Last Saturday evening, a large number of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bryson, met them at Shiloh church, and presented them with a beautiful Bible, and a copy of "Sunday at Home," and "Leisure Hours." After the presentation Mr. Bryson made a very suitable reply; then followed a well selected programme of singing, readings and recitations. Mr. Bryson moves to Lindsay to live, and he carries with him the respect and friendship of the entire community. The following is the address:—

Mr. and Mrs. Bryson.

DEAR FRIENDS,—Years of association with you in every day life, and church relationship have knit you so closely to us in bonds of sympathy and love, that we deeply regret your removal from amongst us. We have met this evening to give some expression to the regrets, and to our prayers and wishes for your future welfare. Your genial and affable disposition, and earnest christian spirit has won for you the confidence, affection and high regard of all, and shall ever be held in pleasant recollection by us. We have ever rejoiced in the marked prosperity that has attended you since coming amongst us. Here, under a kind providence you have laid the foundation of earthly and heavenly riches, and have exemplified in your lives the scripture injunction "Be diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." Showing too, that while thus diligent and fervent in things spiritual and temporal, Heaven's smile shall be upon us and her balmy breezes shall bear fragrant odours and richest treasure to heart and life. Your consistency and zeal in serving God have been to us an inspiration and strength, in that, God has made us mutually dependent upon and helpful to each other. We all are truly thankful to God for your stay amongst us, and for the mutual help we have been to each other, and at the same time deeply regret your removal, and yet fully persuaded, that what is our loss as a community will be other's gain. As a slight expression of our high regard for you both, please accept this Bible and these copies of "Sunday at Home" and "Leisure Hours." Be assured also, that wherever your lot may be cast, you shall be attended by our sympathies, well-wishes and prayers. And though our life's courses may so diverge that we may not all meet here again, let us so live that at the close of life we may say with St. Paul "I have fought a good fight," and as we lay down the armour of life hear the welcome applaudit "well done" enter into the full possession of that inheritance, incorruptible and undefiled reserved in heaven for us. On behalf of Shiloh Society, Feb. 16th, 1888.
