A number of young friends from Zion, Little Britain and Valentia, vesterday favored THE WARDER with a brief visit. They were out for a sleigh drive and honored us with a call. Mr. Broad, and Misses Campbell, Hall, Broad and Campbell, were of the party.

A gentlemen from Napance in inquiring recently of Lindsay acquaintances said to The Warden. "Do you know Mr. John Begley, of Lindsay." On hing enswered in the affirmative he exclaimed. "Ah, he is a fine fellow. Why siv, the time of the Fenian raids he and I were comrades in a battery of artillery, and were on active service on the man of war Rescue, patrolling the St. Lawrence, and the lakes. We never get a shot at the Fenians though they were often close by us on the American shore. Begley is a splendid fellow and was one of our pluckiest volunteers."

It would be old news to tell you what the Stores are here for.

We'll skip that for our present purpose. They are here to be walked through, looked at, get rested in, and to hold your baggage while you run about town. As you enter the door, any door almost, you see a place to leave your bag. Leave a dozen parcels there if you like; no charge. Go all over the stores, ask for a guide if you need one; go alone if you like that better. In a sense we do not pay much attention to visitors. We do not invite them in so often as we would if the newspapers didn't make us pay for every hospitable word. When they come, one or ten thousand at a time, we simply let them alone, unless they ask for help. We don't want people to think we ask them here to draw them into buying things. What we really do want is that everybody everywhere should have a pretty accurate notion of what is going on here, and that's the whole of it.
