VERDIAN. Dec 24th, 1889.—J. Keen, Son and Co., GENTLEMEN, I received today from you the bagging lamp, for which I feel proud of being able to make the nearest guess to the number of beads, seeing you had over three thousand people trying to get the same price. Yours respectfully, JOHN GREEN.—11-1.

THE RUSSIAN EPIDEMIC, "Influenza or lightning catarrh" as it is termed, is on the rapid march west. Already cases are reported at New York, and likely to spread. Whether it strikes here or not, be advised, keep Dr. Brown's Magnetic Oil in the house, it may save your life. Surest remedy in the world for catarrh, influenza, cold in the head or system, sore throat, diphtheria, lumbago, kidney trouble, rheumatism, sudden attacks of cramp, and achy and pains of every description. Ask for Dr. Brown's Magnetic Oil, All dealers, 25 cts. bottle.—9-11.

THE KEY to the political situation in South Ontario is the roman catholic vote. Mr. Smith got it for the Commons and was safe. Mr. Dryden got it for the Local House and was safe. Mr. Smith's friend don't want a platform set up that will degrade or alienate the papists, as that would kill his chances; and it is the same with Mr. Dryden's friends. Nothing but open rebellion by the rank and file of one party or the other can make it possible for either of these men to be defeated. The catholic vote and hold the balance of power, the protestants divide and have to submit to the dictation of a very small minority. The catholic only number one to ten, yet they rule the county. In union there is strength, in division weakness.—Whitby Chronicle.

RESERVE JAN. 28

FOR SALE.—A splendid driving mare, 4 years old, dark chestnut, speedy. Apply to T. C. Richard, Valencia.—11-3

DONATION.—Miss Eliza Dunoon gave a picture handsomely framed, to the Y. M. C. A., for a New Year's gift. Who will follow the example?

BREAD, BREAD.—First class bread delivered to all parts of the town for 9c., per four pound loaf. C. H. Leavens, City Bakery, Lindsay.—11-1.

MOVIE FOUND.—In the Salvation Army barracks, Dec 31st, a sum of money. Owner can have the same by applying to Alex. Logan, Lindsay.—11-1.

CHEAP CLOTHING.—A great big heavy warm overcoat, and men's dark tweed suits, from $3.50 upwards, at the McOrmond's Broad Street stock store. Warner & Perry.—11-1.

CHANGE OF DATE.—The visit of Dr. Ryerson, eye, ear, throat and nose specialist, has been postponed until January 25th, when he will be at the Benson House for consultation.—11-2

ARTICLES CROWDED OUT.—Our readers will not be surprised to learn that some very interesting articles are crowded out during the holiday weeks. They include both prose and poetry, and will appear in due course.

PERSONAL.—E. S. Johnson, general manager, Toronto Indian Medicine Co., is now enjoying a pleasure trip in visiting the principal cities of Europe, and will return in the spring to resume business in Ontario.

SHORT HAND.—Every young man or woman desiring to learn short hand should attend a meeting at 3 p.m., next Tuesday in the new Y. M. C. A., rooms, when steps will be taken to form a class and a competent teacher will be secured to conduct it.

"OPEN HOUSE."—As is customary in Y. M. C. A., work nearly all the women's committees of the many associations throughout the world assisted in keeping open houses on New Year's day in the association parlors. Despite the rainy weather in our own town a large number of young men called at the new rooms on that day and were served with cake and coffee.

400 GUARANTEED.—The push and energy characterizing the Cambridge St. Methodist church people has again evinced on Tuesday evening last by the trustee board in session guaranteeing the sale of 400 tickets as a starter for their annual concert to be given Tuesday evening, Jan. 28th.

TWENTY YEARS MARRIED.—A very pleasing occurrence took place last Friday at the residence of Mr. John Britton, the popular G.T.R. conductor. This was the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of his marriage, and a large number of friends and relations were gathered together from all directions to do honor to the event. THE WARDER extends congratulations and best wishes.

MR. JAMES SMITH OF THE GAS WORKS is now a PUBLIC OFFICIAL.—The Gas Co., has lately been supplying outrageously bad gas. Perhaps the reason is that Mr. Smith, the manager, or chief-cook-and-bottle-washer has been appointed one of Mr. Mowat's Ontario government officers at two dollars per day. The Lindsay public, especially the reform party part, will naturally inquire what great qualifications Mr. Smith has for a position over scores of other men in town. Meantime the electric light manager should call at this office and he will be tolerably certain to conclude a contract.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—Union services for the week of prayer have been arranged as follows, beginning at 8 o'clock each evening:—Monday January 6th., St. Paul's school house, subject, "Confession and Supplication," by Rev. W. R. Anderson. Tuesday Jan. 7th., Baptist church, subject, "Nations and their rulers," by Rev. Dr. Williams.

Wednesday Jan. 8th., Queen St. Methodist church, subject, "The young," by Rev. R. Johnston.

Thursday Jan. 9th., St. Andrew's church, "The church at home," G. W. Dewey. Friday Jan. 10, Cambridge St. Methodist church, subject, "The church abroad," by C. H. March.

The public are cordially invited.

REV. PETER TALLING of Knox College, Toronto, last Sunday filled the presbyterian pulpit of Oakwood and Cambray, and, we learn, gave great profit and satisfaction to the audience. Next spring Mr. Talling completes his course in theology at Knox college, he having previously graduated in arts from the University of Toronto. The career of that young divine is illustrative of what any determined Canadian lad may accomplish. Years ago we had the honor and pleasure of being Mr. Talling's teacher in Bowmanville. He afterwards taught school, and later again became a student under us in Toronto. Thence by his own energy and efforts, he passed to and through the University of Toronto from which he graduated a few years ago, after a distinguished course. At Knox college the standing of Mr. Talling is also an honorable one. Should Cambray and Oakwood presbyterians be fortunate in securing Mr. Talling's services when he graduates next spring they will indeed be fortunate.

The Whitby Chronicle says:—It is always a subject of common talk the amount of unreliable evidence taken in whisky prosecutions; but the evidence taken at Lindsay last week in a case arising out of the newspaper war at present going on there, equals anything in the line of toxic testimony. The proprietor of the Post was arrested on a charge of criminal libel, and upon coming before the magistrate refused to acknowledge the copies of the Post produced, and containing the alleged libellous statements. Employees of the Post printing house were then summoned and from the foreman printer to the printer's devil not one would acknowledge he could tell a copy of the Post when he saw it. None of them could make oath as to whether the papers produced were copies of the Post or not. We do not believe the Chronicle has a subscriber who could not swear to it at sight. That the whole crew of a publishing house, from editor to apprentice should be brought to the necessity of such a scandalous and brazen-faced denial of their own publication is a new feature in Canadian journalism and will rob the press of the country of a great deal of confidence now bestowed upon it by the public.

IT IS ON JAN'Y 28

THE WORLD ADVANCES AND THIS IS THE 18TH CENTURY.—In election times one frequently hears advocates of one or other candidate for office, expatiate on the great benefit such and such a man or concern is to a town. Well all is fair in election times; but such talk is nonsense. The town does not exist in which the existence of any one man or firm, is essential to the well-being of the place. To talk of Lindsay being dependent on any one concern is nonsense. The chances are that if several concerns move in the place had never seen the town it would be all the better for the town. Can anyone point to another town in Canada surrounded with such magnificent country as is Lindsay, with such railway and water facilities that has made less progress? No one institution or man is ever has been or ever will be necessary to this or any other town's existence or prosperity. Men drop out; and others better than they perhaps, are ready to step into their shoes before the clouds are tossed into the holes containing the mortal remains of those on whom the fate and fortune of towns and countries depended. Let no man or concern imagine this town above all others depends on any one man or firm. Men may bring blessings as they too often bring curses on a place, but all alike vanish and are forgotten. It is the consensus of public opinion that benefits.

DETERMINED TO READ IT TILL THE LAST.

The following letter enclosing one dollar for 1890, speaks for itself and indicates the class of true-hearted freemen who regularly read THE WARDER. CANAN, Dec. 30th, 1889.

Dear Sir,—I have been thinking about giving up your paper for the last two months, for I did not expect to see the commencement of the New Year; but Doctor Turner says he is not going to let me die for a few months longer. So I wish you a happy and prosperous New Year. I would write you more but I am too weak. From your sincere friend,

ANDREW McNEILL.

The many Victoria Co. friends of Mr. McNeill will learn with regret of his serious illness; but will be much pleased to hear of his improved condition. May the New Year bring him a new lease of life, and may all Dr. Turner's medicines add strength, health and vigor to our true-hearted friend in the sincere wish of THE WARDER. Between THE WARDER and Doctor Turner, Mr. McNeill should weather out many a year yet.
