THE EMPIRE'S REPLY TO THE MAIL.
What the Empire has said it has done. It has done its duty to the loyal people of Canada and to British connection called upon it to speak out. There has been no underhand work about it, but we have boldly in the light of day, made known the facts as they were. It is necessary carefully to guide the public mind away from the narrow and narrow views which the Mail has so often taken. When the charges were first made, its friends looked for it valiantly to explain.

THE REAL REASON OF THE MAIL'S STRANGE CONDUCT—THE TRUTH ALL UP AT LAST.
Said an old campaigner to The World yesterday: "You must not conceive that the Mail's desire for Annexation is the product of necessity. It is late propaganda which is done for the grossest treachery toward T. C. Patterson, and one of his boasts was that some day he would be selling the manufactured material from the Merriton mills over a larger area than was covered by the Canadian flag. The ambition, Bunting and Farrer are all Irish of the intriguing stamp. The pulp factory would be one of the few Canadian manufactures (in the opinion of the Riordan family) which would not be swallowed by the Riordans. They think their fold would be enlarged, and it is in that direction that I should search for the matings of the Mail's patriotic attitude toward the British Crown."
