THE YOUNG HUSSAR or LADY IRIS ADVENTURE, is the title of a book in which the author Col. Sargent, Faugnan late 6th Regt., has so ably worked in traits of Irish character, love, treachery and war. The work contains nearly 600 pages, and is well got up. The gallant Sergeant who wears three medals, which he gained in the Crimea and which he apparently lost in the present war, has his fame as an author in town soliciting subscribers for the work, in which we hope he may meet abundant success.

CENTRAL HALL, corner of Kent and William streets, Mr. T. Cooper begs to announce that he is prepared to give lessons in Italian voice training, organ, piano, violin, guitar, corset, violoncello, harmony and composition fencing, and is taking names for a Ladies' Orchestra. Reference, Messrs. Nordheimer and Mr. E. Whaley Whaley, Boyce and Co. Terms on application, address P.O. Lindsay.

THE DENTAL PORCELAIN process embraces the engraving of Artificial Porcelain Crowns upon the roots of natural teeth, Contagious Gum Work, the filling of teeth, etc., but the latter still remaining to be tested. Mr. Gross, dentist, will explain the entire process to any who desire it. Mr. Gross commenced a few days ago the use of the Yonker Inhaler for vitalized air and gas, the most approved machine in use for administering these anesthetics.—30-2.

BACK TO THE OLD SYSTEM.—The Port Hope Times says:—"As foreboded in the Times a few days ago, the mail clerks have received instructions to return to Port Hope, and on Monday will resume the old routing order system. The desirability of resuming the old system was so persistently insisted upon by H. A. Ward, M.P., that the government has at last recognized the advisability of making the change. On Monday morning the clerks will leave on the 7 a.m. train and will run through to Midland, returning the same evening at 10.15. The temporary change which the department made provided for the clerks to leave here in the afternoon and run through to Toronto, returning the following day." By this change the mail clerks will be on the train passing through Lindsay at 9 a.m. and 9 p.m.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.—Young men are cordially invited to the young men's meeting next Sunday at 4.15 in the young men's christian association. The Peterboro young men's christian association have recently received through the will of Mrs. Nichol twenty thousand dollars with which to erect a building.

THE ESTERON began running her regular daily trips on the 22nd inst. She leaves Bobcaygeon at 8 a.m., reaching Lindsay at 10.30, returning Lindsay at 3.30, arriving at Bobcaygeon at 6 o'clock. Capt. Lane in command, John W. Diamond, purser, will greet the travelling public this season as last.—27-17.

CAUTION.—I am credibly informed, that a certain insurance agent, is showing a blank form of application, which he says is the same as is used by me, when insuring farmers in the Royal Canadian. I wish to warn intending applicants, against the misrepresentation. This agent, has none of the forms containing the special terms obtained by me for my customers. The terms of the contract, in the Royal Canadian, are so much more favorable to the policy holder than those of the company represented by the agent referred to, that it would not be to his interest, to call attention to them. For advantages offered by the Royal Canadian see advertisement next week. S. CORNELL. 31-2.

The elections in Nova Scotia on Wednesday, resulted in the government being sustained, although their majority has been decreased, the opposition having gained three seats.

Mr. Geo. Nesbit of Cartwright recently sold for $400 the span of horses some time since purchased from Mr. Arthur McQuade. Those wanting good horses know where to get them.

Ladies who are troubled with roughness of the skin or cracked, should keep a bottle of Parisian Balm in the house. It is delightful perfume and softens, heals and beautifies the skin.—25-5.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has long held the first place, as a hair-dressing, in the estimation of the public. Ladies find that this preparation gives a beautiful gloss to the hair, and gentlemen use it to prevent baldness and cure humors in the scalp.—21-1.

Master Norman Williams, son of Rev. Dr. Williams, Methodist clergyman of Lindsay, has recently passed the junior year's examinations with honors, in Victoria University. That ability descends from parent to child is exemplified in the Williams family.

Words cannot express the gratitude which people feel for the benefit done them by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Long-standing cases of rheumatism yield to this remedy, when all others fail to give relief. This medicine thoroughly expels the poison from the blood.—31-1.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. W. J. Williams and also to his father and mother Rev. Dr. Williams and Mrs. Williams, of Cambridge St. Methodist church, Lindsay, on the young man's successful passing with honors, his final examinations for barrister and solicitor. Mr. W. J. Williams is eldest son of the worthy Lindsay divine.

The kingdom of Japan has made marvellous strides forward in the past quarter of a century. She is now ahead of the times, and may now take her place with the progressive Caucasian races in the van of civilization. Some account of the peaceful revolution which has effected this mighty change is given in the current number of The Illustrated American, and it is illustrated by portraits of the men who will probably rule Japan under the new constitution, which comes into effect in July.

BARRON RUN OUT AT REABORO.

Reaboro is nothing if not loyal. If history proves that.

Last Tuesday night the grite held a meeting there. The first speaker received a good hearing. Mr. Barron then followed and at first was listened to with attention. He defended Mowat's French school and Separate school legislation and upheld all the iniquities of the Cleary-Mowat-Ross combination. The audience bore the infliction patiently. Finally patience ceased being a virtue when Mr. Barron tried to claim credit and glory for his Jesuitic Estates vote and speech. This was more than the audience could bear. To see a man prove himself such a dodger and hypocrite was more than the loyal blood of Reaboro could stand, and Mr. Barron was ignominiously hooded and "tin panned" out of the district.

Now-a-days-people are not in the humor to stand triflers, tricksters or dodgers.

But the poor fellow was merely doing his master's bidding.

HOW ROMAN CATHOLIC VOTE.

As a rule the roman catholics vote as their hierarchy direct.

"Good" roman catholics can have no politics, so say the hierarchy of romanism.

The romish church in Canada may be classed as follows:—

- (a) Gallican and Independent
- (b) Ultramontane, Castor, Bleu and Jesuit.
- (c) The Rouge.

The Gallican catholics are that portion of Quebec, or French Canadians who say to their hierarchy, "We listen to your teaching in religious or spiritual matters; but heed you not in temporal or political affairs."

The independent catholics are those of the English speaking branch of the romish church holding the same views as the Gallicans.

The Ultramontanes, Castors or Bleus are those who look to the Pope for supremacy in TEMPORAL as well as SPIRITUAL affairs. With them the CHURCH is before the STATE, the POPE before the QUEEN.

The Jesuits believe in the absolute supremacy of the Pope, through the General of the Jesuits in all matters whether civil or religious.

The Rouge is the republican Frenchman. The Gallican and Independent catholics have always been allied with Sir John Macdonald and the liberal-conservatives.

The Bleu or Castor or old aristocratic Lower Canadian catholics were, until 1885 also allied with Sir John.

The Ultramontane and the Jesuits have been and are the allies of the reform party. Since 1885 the Castor or the Bleu have been allied with the reformers.

Both Irish and French roman catholics are largely ultramontane.

The ultramontanes, demanding Church before, and controlling the State are ever disloyal to responsible government. They encourage disloyalty, annexation, Fenianism anything in short to injure Britain, her colonies or responsible government.

In Upper Canada from 1825 till 1867 the Irish roman catholics were allied, as a rule, with the reform party.

With the breaking up of parties in 1867, at Confederation, the vote was divided until 1871, but was chiefly with the reform party.

In 1871 and 1876 by regular bargain and sale the great bulk of the Irish roman catholics who had been with the conservative party were sold to the reformers. Offices such as are now held by Arthur O'Leary, A. P. Devlin, and many others i.e., police magistrates, county crown attorneys, etc., etc., together with the obnoxious separate school amendments were the quid pro quo for the romish vote.

The coalition government of Sanfield Macdonald and Matthew Crooks Cameron in Ontario would not grant any amendments to the separate school law; and hence incurred the ill-will of the hierarchy.

The refusal of Sir John Macdonald to disallow the New Brunswick school bill also further incensed the romish hierarchy against the conservatives, who were swept out of office in both Ontario and the Dominion. The New Brunswick school bill, and the purchase of the "Irish Roman Catholic League" did much more for the reform party than did the "Pacific slanders."

From that time onward the Irish roman catholics have been solid with the reform party.

A Good Election Day.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Mail says:—"A keen roman catholic politician talking to a number of gentlemen yesterday said:—"I tell you, Mowat is not so slow. Did you observe that the Provincial elections will take place on Corpus Christi? That is a general holy day in our church, and many days of good ones of the church will be at mass that day. What a splendid opportunity it will be for the clergy to call upon their flocks to rise up like one man in defence of their schools and other privileges." To vote for Mowat will be a matter of faith."
