Work and Win

The ewestest cherries, mind you lad, frow highest on the tree; And would you win the fatrest fruit, One thing I'll any to ther:

Of an aber's pelf-And gather for yourself, Die water to wate the fruit to fall,

Or pelt the tree with stones-You'll have to struggle bravely up, And risk some broken bones; You only waste your time below, And yet indifferent pay—
If you would reach the ripest fruit,
Just throw your fears away.

Tie an with avarything in life That's worth the owning, lad-The heat, the good and great have had, They come not at the nod or heat

Of any idle hand-Tis only those who bravely totl May have them at command

if, then, you want the ripest fruit, Just labor till you win; Ant mind thes, boy, while up you climb, Keep heart and hand from sin; The heat and grandest guerden, lad,

If bought with wicked wage, No peace and comfort violes at last, Hat curses on Four age. Town Council.

The Campbellford Herald says : "Despite the oft-repeated warnings given to patrons of factories privately and in the newspapers, and the existence of Legislative law forbidding the the existence of Legislative law forbidding the adulteration of milk, dishonest practices of this nature have not yet been abandoned. Impector Bailey a few days ago informed us that tour larmers of Seymour and four of Percy have been detected either in watering their milk, skimming it, or keeping back the "strippings," and their names have been sent in for presention. In one instance in Percy township, a man who nad to confess to having watered his milk, on more than one occasion, was fixed and finally expelled from having watered his milk, on more than one occasion, was fixed and finally expelled from the factory. He cast in his lot with another factory, and may have to face the music again for repeating the offence. In handling milk honesty is surely the best policy if nothing more."
