InO.L. No. 664, met on Monday evening last week, there was a good turn out. After the regular business was done they took up the insurance question. There are some of the memoers of 664 insured in the orange incurance reheme, and they think it is just the thing as it is the chespest they can get. There are more applications ready to be sent away and they have before long them.

"I should suspect," said a white, "that my preaching had no salt in it if no galled jade did wince."

The land is not large enough—or ought not to be—to hold one spiritual church and one drink-shop in peace.

The "abuse" of liquor has its origin in the nature of liquor, and any policy that ignores that fact must fail.

Think of legislators down on their faces before the liquor power, and political parties crawling on their bellies at its behest!

Familiarities of Young Girls.

There is very little left to call the people you love if you lavish words of affection on every stranger whom you mest. If you call a young woman whom you have known just half an bour "Dear," and one whom you have known three days "Darling," there will be no tender endearing term for you to address to those who have your whole heart. Girls who are not of necessity guehing, are often apt to speak in the most familiar manner. Good speech is certainly pure silver, but there are so many times when silence would ontweigh it and be perfect gold. To tell of one's family affairs, to fell of one's joys and wurries to some one who has a sympathetic manner and seems to invite it, is at once a weakness and a miefortune. To write a letter in which you use endearing terms, in which you discuss personal matters, is more than merely indiscreet—it is dangerous. Don't you think if you are a bit familiar in speech or with the pen to a man, that he is going to more than meet this half way? Don't you think if you call him by his first name he is very apt to call him by his first name he is very apt to call you by yours, and perhaps before people whom you do not care to have think lightly of you? If you permit him to speak of things not usually discussed, do not imagine how much further down in not imagine how much further down in the esteem of two people you have gone. Don't permit any man to be familiar with you to the extent of calling you "Old Girl," or citing you as "One of the boys." You don't belong among the boys, and you shouldn't be counted there. Don't let any man, unless you are bethrothed to him, kies you. Lips are of little worth to John which have been pressed by Tom, Dick and Harry.—Ladies' Home Journal.
