As we sat there, a silence took possession of us and we thought: This is the center from which continents have been touched, and all the world, and numbers went away disappointed. This was the more significant because it had been publicly amounteed that the same separation would be preached in the evening at the Naw York academy which the Christian thread had rented for that purpose. In pite of this fact, unprecedented since the days of Chalmers, both buildings were consided to excess, and many wore turned away from the doors morning and evening and evening away from the doors morning and evening.

PLAIN AND PREFFF WOMEN.

Plat are the Saddest of Failures. The question is so often saked, " Why is it that so many plain women marry well while prestry girls either do not marry at all or make matches that are failures from a mental, social and pecuniary standpoint."

The fact is, that woman's idea of a man is of a creature differing but little from the domestic quadrupeds with which she surrounds herself in the home circle.

A mental of all in the sarly wouth is our.

nood without naving made better or brighter one soul for her living.

A plain woman, on the contrary, cultivates all the best gifts of mind and soul with which she has been endowed. In the with which she has been endowed. In the early part of her life perhaps her prospects would seem dim compared with those of a beautiful associate; but in later years, when the frivolous boys have, with long contact with the world, with serious thought and study, become earnest men, the plain and study, become earnest men, the plain woman becomes a necessity, the pretty one a pastime for an idle moment.

Pretty women have less opportunities, strange as it may seem, than plain ones, for becoming what they were originally intended to be—sweet, noble, patient helpmates—simply because mes (on whom the fault should rest) have caused women to entertain the idea that life is neither a serious nor an earnest thing, but simply a serious nor an earnest thing, but simply a journey to be jested and danced through. Is it any wonder that our girls think men puppets to laugh and sing at their wills?
