dence would have been standing to-day. The firemen did all that lay in their power with the means at their disposal. Put the fire engine down at the lake and the portion of the town which can be reached with hose will stand a good chance of being protected from fire, but as soon as it goes beyond that limit its use is gone. This has been proved time and again. If we are to have the real-dental portion of the town property protected some plan will have to be adopted for providing a sufficient supply of water.—Standard.
