Children Cry for

War Over the Seas.

A ST. LOUIS PAPER TELLS WHAT OUR ENEMIES WOULD DO. The St. Louis Republic, Dec. 23, says: It comes from reports which have all the appearance of being sent out from the State Department to test the temper of the country that the Administration is determined to refuse to allow the British Sea dispute to be committed to arbitration.

Light Collars and Vision.

The influence of light collars in improving the circulation in the head by pressing on the jugular veins is well known to military surgeons with the troops in India; but the bad effects of such pressure in cooler climates has been demonstrated by the observations of Prof. Fowler, of Brooklyn, who states that three hundred cases have come under his notice in which the eye sight has been affected by the pressure of collars that were too small.

The Market for Eggs.

Saturday, January 23rd, was almost a great day for the Canadian hen as when Mr. Wiman himself admitted that her adversaries had received a terrible blow in South Victoria.
