Marriage with Drunkards.

The efforts to raise the poor and degenerate inebriate and his family are practically of no value as long as marriage with inebriates is permitted. Recently the legislature of the State of Victoria, in Australia, has passed a law which gives the wife the right of divorce if the husband is found to be an habitual drunkard. It allow marriage, she discovers that he is If, after marriage, she discovers that he is an inebriate, she can also get a divorce. The husband can do the same with the wife, if she is proved to be an inebriate. This is a clear anticipation of the higher sentiment which demands relief from the barbarous laws which would hold marriage with an inchesian of five and recovery iage with an inebriate as fixed and per-manent.—Journal of Inebriety.

ONE TERRIBLE EXAMPLE,-"I well remember a young man (save a worker) whom I rejoiced to think I had been instrumental in rescuing from drunkenness, and bringing to a knowledge of the truth.

Goldwin Smith and McKinley.

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean, Canada grows more and more protes-

Canada grows more and more protectionist every year, England no longer is solidly a free trade country, and how strong the United States faith in protection Goldwin Smith will see in 1892.

Even as things are Mr. Smith does not believe that free trade has made much progress in the United States. He contributes to this month's number of Macmitlan's (London) Magazine, a paper outitled "Exit McKinley," in which he predicts a conversion of the United States. But though, as he thinks, the "exit" of McKinley and of the vigorous policy of his bill from politics is complete, he does not think that the ides of free trade has made much headway. He cape:

"It may be doubted whether a single conditate—north of Maga and Dixon's line, at all events—dared to present himself to the electors are free trader. Even Mr. David Wells, whose defeat in the steetion we (British free traders) all must deploy, declined to present that dangarous issue to his constituents."
