The Empire correspondent had the pleasure Monday evening of interviewing Mr. C. C. Cleveland, the member for Richmond and Wolfe, or, in ordinary parlance, the man who defeated Laurier. Mr. Ives' successor is assuredly a gentleman worthy of the confipost office opened in Fenelon township, with Mr. W. H. Powles as postmaster. A mail leaves the post office each Wednesday and Friday for Fenelon Falls.

12,763, will be states the electors of that constituency. He states the electors of that constituency. He states that every means, lair and foul, was employed against him. National and religious prejugations of the control of th leader, yet all in vain. Some time before the polling Ernest Pacaud wired to Mr. Adams, who was against Mr. Pacard in the Mercier interest last spring, that Laurier must be elected at any cost, and there appeared at the same time in Wolfe a swarm of young men from the ancient capital, who, with their pockets full of cash, spread themselves over the county to do their master's bidding. In this manner it is estimated that from $5,000 to $7,000 was expended in elevating the standard for Laurier. It must be remembered that Wolfe is the French portion of the divi-sion, and here the Pacaud heelers put in their biggest licks. "Laurier is one of ourselves," they said, "a French Canadian and catholic, while Cleveland is an English speaking Protestant, a Freemason and an Orangeman."
What was the answer of the loyal French
Canadian farmers of Wolfe? Mr. Cleveland came out of that particular section of the constituency with 300 of a majority at his back In fact, he says the French voters stood to their party and country like men. Mr. Laurier was, it is said, certain of his election, and no defeat gave the leader of the Opposition greater pain than his own in Rich
