

Rheumatism, BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectively cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from the rheumatism, being able to walk only with great difficulty, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I immediately decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE. — On Sunday, 21st ult., as Mr. Henry Inglis and his family were standing on the bank of the river here, their little boy of about eight summers, and a young man were upset out of a canoe in twenty feet of water. An alarm was raised but considerable time was lost before anything effectual was done. Had it not been for the courage and cool presence of mind of Master Lionel Oliver Revell, son of Mr. J. O. Revell, lumberman, of this place, the arthly career of the boy would have been ended. Master Revell after running a considerable distance obtained a canoe and got to where the boy had sunk for the last time, having been then fully four minutes in the water, and dived down, bringing the unconscious little fellow to the surface. After being brought ashore restoratives were administered which were successful in restoring him to life, and to the arms of his almost distracted parents. This is the fourth life Master Revell has been the means of saving, having previously saved three on the lake at Corobonk. It is to be hoped that the conduct of Master Revell will be brought to the notice of the Royal Humane Society, as he is well worthy of the honor of a medal.

The Good Old Times.

"Three times were good, Merchants cared not a rush For any other." Than Johnny cake and mush."

But now times have changed, and the plain and simple fare of the forefathers is done away with. Patent flour and high seasoned food, and strong drinks, have taken its place, and as a result, dyspepsia, impure blood, and disease of the stomach, liver and lungs, are numerous. This great change has led one of the most skillful physicians of the age to study out a remedy for these modern diseases which he has named his "Golden Medical Discovery." Dr. Pierce in this remedy has found a cure for Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption in its early stages, and "Liver Complaints."

DAIRYMPLER. Special to The Warder.

FISH.—No fish in Dalrymple lake. Don't want any over-seer, unless we get the situation ourselves.

THE FLOWING.—Farmers have finished seeding, unless a white turnip patch once in a while. Fall wheat and clover have come out victorious so far and look extra well in this part. This has been a splendid spring for the seeding of flat land, and the grain is getting a good root hold. The crops look well generally. They never looked better at this time of the year that we mind of.

A SURPRISE.—We never wrote one word of that "cheap" advertisement which the correspondence in THE WARDER of the 15th ult. we never write anything we would not like to vouch for. If some people are satisfied with a man that hardly ever makes a pastoral visit, or only stayed four or five times to superintend our class meeting in two years that we know of, we are not. The Dalrymple "Grange" of the Post asked us for a "surprise," and seems very anxious to jump on our back and flap, or crow, or something. But by way of a whet for his very sharp intellect we would say that he knows that we tell the truth a little too plain sometimes for to suit him.

OBITUARY NOTES.—Mrs. Susannah Plews, relative of the late John Plews, of Dalrymple, died at her daughter's residence in Bowmanville, (Mrs. Colman) on the 28th of May, at the advanced age of eighty-nine years. She came to Dalrymple to live about 36 years ago when there were only 2 or 3 settlers in Carden, consequently seen many a long day, and had to put in more than the ordinary routine of labor generally allotted for the whole country side. The funeral was by train to Brechin, thence to our cemetery on Monday, the 25th ult., where she was laid beside her beloved partner, who has been waiting seventeen years for her. She leaves a number of well-wishers and sincere friends, two sons and two daughters. ... Mr. Donald Giehrst of West Mod Lake, died on the 14th at Longford Mills, very suddenly from a inflammation of the bowels, and was buried next day at Mod Lake burying ground. ... Also Mrs. M. Ionis of Sobright, died on the 21st ult.

OBITUARY. Special to The Warder.

IN THE matter of fishery Inspector Graham's suspension, pending investigation of the charge preferred against him, it appears to your correspondents and others, that Mr. Barron with his customary "precaution" has been "barking up the wrong tree." Some are curious to know if this J. B. Graham is the same personage that held the office of Bailiff at Victoria Road a few years ago, and are wondering if he voluntarily vacated that position for the less than "mess of pottage" the inspectorship yielded him. The removal—tantamount to dismissal—of officials by the humane Government of the Hon. O. Mowat has assumed such proportions in N.V., as to become a scandal. Take the following as an example:—Graham, Miller, Gunn, Smith, Campbell, Clerk and Bailiff at the Falls and Doubtless others, all with their families thrown on the cold charity of the world, no eye pitied—neither was Mr. Barron's tongue nor bowels of compassion moved to denounce the "outrage." But now that the "Dandelion" has come to judgment, wearing the white flower of a politician's life together with his hair parted—sign of grace and equal rights—in the middle, while in the House he has resolved himself into an interrogation point? The rights and liberties of the constituents will no doubt in future be respected? Friend Graham, "no man can serve two masters"—what has been your experience?

HUNTSVILLE. Special to The Warder.

The following are the minutes of the semi-annual convention of the Muskoka Teachers' Association, held in Huntsville public school, on the 7th and 8th of May, 1891. The attendance of teachers was very large and the weather all that could be desired.

Mr. Reasin, I.P.S., and president of the association opened the convention by prayer at 10 o'clock a.m., with about thirty-five teachers present. He then called on the secretary, who took the floor at 10.15 a.m., and exemplified his method of teaching grammar by practically handling a class before the teachers present, the object the adjective as the subject of his lesson.

Mr. J. J. Tilley was then called to the platform at 10.45 a.m., and in his able and good natured way gave a very instructive lecture on composition. He required all the teachers present to supply themselves with scribbling books for taking notes and in the course of his lecture the subject matter enough in one hour and a half, if properly developed, to serve as a thorough course of study from the first to the fifth class.

The members re-assembled at 1.30 p.m., when the election of officers took place. The officers were elected in the following order:—

For President—Moved by Mr. Thomas, seconded by Mr. Shearer, that Mr. Reasin be re-elected president.—Carried.

For Vice-President—Moved by Mr. Shearer, seconded by Mr. Tyrer, that Mr. Thomas be re-elected.—Carried.

For Secy-Treas.—Moved by Mr. Airth, seconded by Mr. Thomas, that Mr. Shearer be re-elected secretary and treasurer.—Carried.

For Auditor—Moved by Mr. Thomas, seconded by Mr. Shearer, that Mr. Bushnell be re-elected auditor.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Thomas, seconded by Mr. Airth, that the managing committee consist of the president, vice-president and secretary, and that they be paid their travelling expenses in arranging the programme.—Carried.

Mr. Tilley took the platform again at 2 p.m., taking Mental Psychology as his subject. He briefly described the methods of gaining knowledge in the following order:—

1st. By the sense-facilities, as the original and most common means and illustrated how acute those senses are when we depend on them alone, by means of the Indian, the dog, etc.

2nd. The memory setting on perceptions by the action of remembering and thus producing particular concepts.

3rd. Imagination acting on particular concepts and thus producing general concepts. Mr. Tilley handled this subject like a veteran, and it is evident he has been a careful student in the science.

Second Day—Mr. Bushnell commenced his lecture at 9 a.m., and gave a very able discourse on book-keeping. He gave as his opinion that there are too many subjects taught in the public school and proposed that there be fewer subjects, among which, book-keeping should take a prominent place and be taught in a practical way, as in business colleges, under the heading of "Account Keeping" with a regular set of books kept in the school.

At 9.30, Mr. Thomas gave a lecture taking as his subject "Be Thorough." He also maintained that there are too many subjects taught, and advocated the advisability of teachers not attempting the whole course, but going thoroughly over a part of it, giving different subjects at different times more prominence than his program.

Mr. Tilley took the floor again at 10 o'clock a.m., on the subject of reading, and very clearly explained how to get over the difficulties in that subject, which are:—1st. To get prompt word-recognition, and 2nd, that naturalness of voice, which we use in ordinary conversation. He very ably illustrated his methods by means of a class, to whom he taught a lesson on reading before the teachers present.

Mr. Tyrer gave a very fine lecture on drawing, which he opened with a discussion on education in general, by dividing it into two classes, i.e. "The Higher," and "The Lower," the latter being a mystery of the primary studies, and the former the acquisition of more advanced subjects which he termed accomplishments. Mr. Tyrer was pleased to place drawing among the lower class, and hence one of the most beneficial studies. He gave many interesting little sketches on the board during his lecture.

Pitcher's Castoria.

Miss E. Morton took a class on "rapid addition," and by putting several exercises in the addition table on the board showed wonderful facility in getting the class to perfectly understand what she desired to teach them.

Miss I. Morton then took a class in grammar on the subjects:—Classification of Verbs, according to meaning and voice. Miss Morton handled her class very cleverly and is without doubt a first class teacher. The closing address was given by Mr. Tilley on the analysis of the simple rules in arithmetic. His lecture was a repetition of those rules taught in the Normal schools of Ontario.

The convention which was one of the best ever held in Muskoka, was closed at 4 o'clock p.m.

SONTA. Special to The Warder.

Rev. P. A. McLeod, M.A., the efficient and respected pastor of the presbyterian church in this place, received an agreeable surprise on his return Saturday evening last, 23rd inst. Mr. McLeod left a few weeks ago for a visit to Sault Ste. Marie in P. E. Island. After his departure frequent were the inquiries and yet pretty unanimous was the opinion in the public mind as to the purpose of this extended trip by their young minister.

When a few days ago, it was learned that he intended reaching here on the above date, accompanied by a partner to share with him the joys and sorrows of life, the people determined to give him and his bride a cordial reception. Accordingly preparations were heartily entered into, Mansie grounds were levelled off, the fence painted and everything put in shape before his coming, and on their arrival the greater portion of the large congregation were assembled to greet them with a warm welcome. It must have been a pleasing surprise to both pastor and wife to find such a throng of friends gathered to receive them. The verandah and most of the rooms of the fine new manse were filled to overflowing with friends, fathers, mothers, young men and women waiting to welcome them. Many were the handshakings and good wishes received from the large number present. After some time spent in this way, all present were invited to partake of a most excellent repast, prepared by the ladies of the congregation, a matter that took considerable time owing to the number present and the limited table room. Before sitting down to tea, the Rev. Mr. Currie, M.A., retired minister, welcomed pastor and wife in a neat speech, humorous, but containing withal kind, earnest words and advice to all. An address of welcome from the congregation was then read by Mr. McRae. At a later stage on the suggestion of some of the young ladies of the congregation, a full dinner set and several other things, was presented to Mr. McLeod of which your correspondent did not receive particulars. At a late hour the people dispersed to their several homes, after having spent a pleasant time together. Altogether the reception was a success, and the heartiness and unanimity with which every detail of it, from first to last was carried out, bespeak loudly the high estimation in which Mr. McLeod is at present held by his people.

[As addresses are generally accepted "read," the public will understand the kind expressions and warm wishes the good people of Sonta towards their pastor and his bride. The WARDER congratulates Rev. Mr. McLeod and his partner on the auspicious event. Ed. WARDER.]

W. C. T. U. COLUMN. "For God and Home and Native Land."

The appetite for strong drink in man has spoiled the life of more women than ruined hopes for them, scattered more fortunes for them, brought to them more sorrow, shame and hardships than any other evil that lives. The country numbers ten, nay, hundreds of thousands of women who are widows to day, and sit in the hopeless weeds, because their husbands have been slain by strong drink. There are hundreds of thousands of homes, scattered over the land, in which they live lives of torture, going through all the changes of suffering that lie between the extreme of fear and despair, because those whom they love love wine better than they do the woman they have sworn to love. There are women by thousands, who dread to hear at the door the step that once thrilled them with pleasure, because that step has learned to reel under the influence of the seductive poison. There are women groaning with pain, while we write these words, from bruises and brutalities inflicted by husbands made mad by drink. There can be no exaggeration in statements regarding this matter because no human imagination can create anything worse than the truth, and no pen is capable of portraying the truth. The sorrows and horrors of a wife with a drunken husband, or a mother with a drunken son, are as near the realization of hell as can be reached in this world at least. The shame, the indignation, the sorrow, and the sense of disgrace for herself and her children; the poverty, and not unfrequently the beggary, the fear, and the fact of violence, the lingering life long struggle and despair of countless women with drunken husbands, are enough to make all women curse wine, and engage unitedly to oppose it everywhere as the worst enemy of their sex.

DRUNKENNESS AND LUNACY.—One of the great causes of madness is intemperance, for when a man gets drunk he is crazy, he seeths off and is sane; he gets drunk again and is crazy; and if he persists in his intemperance he by and by gets crazy and stays crazy; and then there is nothing for him but the mad house. So after the dram-seller has emptied a man's pockets, picked his bones, maddened him as dry as a spider stuck a fly, and filled his own coffers with filigotten, blood-stained gains, then the common people, the working people, the temperate people must build asylums to take care of the wrecks which the business of the rum-sellers cast as a burden on the public.

A generation ago Massachusetts had one insane asylum. Now, under the rule of rum and rascalism, as engineered by foreign politicians and foreign priests, it has ten, and they are crowded with lunatics. A few dollars are paid into the treasuries of towns and cities by foreign druggellers for houses to sell rum, and then honest people are taxed to build these great asylums to house the wrecks which rum have caused. Is it not time to call a halt in this business.

THE PLAIN LESSON.—Young men are learning every day the commercial value of temperance. The "good fellow" man in his who stays at the ladder's foot, and his comrades profit by that object lesson. In no walk of life are the higher paths open as they were, not so very long ago, to the man who drinks. Business men, professional men, look upon an employee's convivial habits as a menace to themselves. What once found ready excuse now suffers not even toleration. And that is the reason common sense is every day forwarding the cause of practical temperance.
