OBIT. -- We regret to announce the death of Mr. George Bick of Bobeaygeon, which event took place on Sunday morning last. Mr. Bick was an old residout of Verulam, coming out to this country in 1887, settling in the township of Varulam in which township he has since resided, during which time he filled the office of township clerk for some time and afterwards that of reeve. Heart failure we understand, was the cause of death, hastened by an attack of la grippe which he had two years ago from the effects of which he never fully recovered Mr. Bick leaves a grown up family of two sous and one daughter all of whom are comfortably settled in life. The funeral on Tuesday was largely attended.

No SALE OF CHEESE YET. -The Cheese Board met again to-day and again over 12,000 boxes of September and October cheese were boarded. Again, too, the Board adjourned without making any sales. Offers of 94c were refused. Three weeks ago the buyers offered 10e for Saptemper and 10to for October, but this was refused and since then the same price has never been reached. There was considerable fear manifested by some of the salesmen to-day that a mistake had been made in not accepting the offers of three weeks ago. Some of them were willing to take 10c for their cheese to-day, but the highest the buyers would give was 930, which Mr. Cook offered for 5,000 boxes. Mr. W. Flavelle, vice president, occupied the chair. The reports of the general secretary and treasurer were read and adopted. The election of a president and directors was then called for. Dr. W. H Olarke was manimously re-elected presideut. The following, on a ballot being taken were elected as directors for the coming year: Rev. W. McCann, R Kennedy. F. McBurney, Wm. Flavelle, J. F. Harrington, G. E. Broderick, E. A. Hardy, H. McLaughlin. After a short diseassion bearing on the work for the soming year, the meeting which was of a most encouraging nature adjourned.

"ACCURSED BE SLANDERERS," SAYS OVORY honest citizen. In another column appears a letter from Mr. Geo. S. Houston of Norland which speaks for itself. Mr. Houston went to Manitoba to see the country this tail. No sooner was he out of the village of Norland than that "curse of Carada," the scandal-monger, began work. George had done this, and done that; everything in fact, as the story grow, from robbery to elopement. Our acquaintanceship with Mr. Houston was intimate, and we had always found him thoroughly honorable and upright. So, as we always do, we spoke of him to his slanderess in that vein, and as usually happens in such cases, proved themselves correct. The fullest inquiry into Mr. Houston's character has proven him above suspicion of any kind. He stands to-day a stronger man than before his low-lived traducers attacked him behindhis back .-- Where, meantime, are the villains who sought to rob Mr. Houston of his fair name? Let it be hoped that gentl-man will make an example of some of them. In reviewing the slander question let our readers consider these facts. Ave not scandal mongers and gossips invariably had themselves? Those who insinuated that Mr. Houston was a thief, are, ten chances to one, thieves themselves; those who cast a breath of suspicion on his moral purity with women are, ninety nine chances to one, either beasts of men whose look on a pure women or who to be in her presence, would be shocking to moral decency; or, if women, they are creatures who, themselves, are or were so accustomed to loose conduct along dark roads and bye-ways at night as to conceive it corrupt to see Mr. M. Brown of Minden, attended the cheese board in Peterboro on Tuesday. Why cannot Lindsay have a cheese board next an honorable man in a pure woman's society in broad daylight. It is annoying undenstedly to have slanders circulated as they have been; but Mr. Houston is too well known among the decent popu-lace to require any certificate of character from any investigating committee, no matter how favorable it may be. The men or the woman who would repeat matter how favorable it may be. The men or the women who would repeat slanders or roundals to injure another are invariably of had character; and in seek.

AN OLD PIONEER GONE .- On Saturday morning Mrs. Charlotte Ingle, relict of the late Francis Lagle, died suddenly at the residence of her son, Mr. George Ingle. Mrs. Ingle had lived in Canada for 70 years, twenty-eight of which were spent in Lindsay, and may justly be classed as one of the early pioneers. The funeral on Tuesday was largely attended.

Quick Work .- Nine days ago the works at Frank Corson's lime kilns were destroyed by fire. On Wednesday this week the new sheds and bridges were completed and the large kilns were in full blast. The work was done under the direction of Wm. Scriber of Hamilton, with John Murray as foreman, and Messrs. William Nicholson, J. Oistertag, John Marshall, and fifteen others assisting. The men are good workers.

I was in the war during 1868-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some twe thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and innally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the Curioura Remembers, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to sav by diligent application of your Curicura Emments for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a well and sound man to-day.
