Special to The Warder. ONE BY ONE the old ploneers of this section of country are passing away, and we are reminded that we, too, are travellers bound for another state of existence. On Saturday, alst of Navember, one of the earliest settlers in this part of the country, in the person of Charles Goodhand, pessed away. About thirty years ago Mr. Goodhand came from the county of Durham and settled in this township, where he endured the toils and braved the hard-hips of pioneer life. By industry and frugality he reared a family of seven children six of whom are living, and three of these are married and settled in Victeris. The others are now able to work their dwn way through life. One son, William, died about two years ago. Mr. Woodhand was of a genial disposition and an excellent neighbor, at the same time he was a man of decided views and was never backward in asserting for the right and denouncing the wrong. His pleasant face and entertaining conversation will be missed by many who were accustomed to see him and chat with him on the way to town. He suffered much for over two years, but he bore up patiently till death gave him relief. To his family he was an aff-ctionate father, and to his wife a loving and considerate husband. His partner in life still survives him, and to her and her family the sympathy of the entire community is extended in the sad hour of bereavement Mr. Goodhand had many friends in the neighborhood of Ingersoll in Oxford Co., where he resided during his boyhood days.
