dealers are wont to advertise perfect watches.

We do better now;—make them better and advertise them better.

The exact truth is, there are no perfect watches; Watchmaking is an experimental art, not an exact science nor a secret process. What has been done we know—what is to be done, who knows? We are apt to do more than our share of the doing.

Our special watches to-day are up to to-day's knowledge—as near perfection as any, and in some respects nearer than any other. They are better this year than last—will be better still in the future; but if you think to wait until the improvements shall have all been made you'll never get a watch.

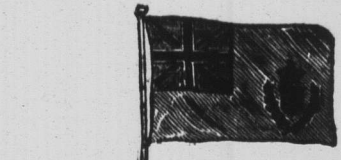

You can, however, get a watch to-day so good that it will satisfy you not only to-day but for a life time.

Either of our special watches the "Midland" or the "Victoria" will satisfy any reasonable human being.

Yes! this is well worth looking into. Come and see us about it.

BRITTON BROS.

The Victoria Warper
FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1892.

A union of hearts and a union of hands
A union none can sever;
A union of homes and a union of lands
And the flag, BRITISH UNION, forever.

BEHRRING SEA COMMISSION.

Sir John Thompson has received the appointment of arbitrator on this vexed question; and the Hon. C. H. Tupper has been intrusted with the task of preparing the case to be submitted by Canada. With such men representing our interests we have no reason to fear the result. The appointments meet with general approval.

RUSSIA'S NEED.

While the great political problems of the day have been absorbing our attention; and while other important issues have found ready place in our minds, have we not heard that cry for bread from the poor starving Russian peasants across the sea. While the Russian rule of despotism with cruel hand of iron oppresses and enslaves the subject of that uninviting land; and while hunger and disease unite in carrying death into thousands of homes, we, as Canadians and Britons, have no reason to fear a rule of tyranny and oppression, and moreover our garners are not empty. Therefore we should remember gratefully the blessings that are ours to enjoy and with ready hearts and willing hands give of the surplus of our stores to our famishing brethren.

Why has Canada been behind so many other countries in her acts of benevolence? Is it lack of generosity or want of sympathy that has caused her to be outvied in bounteous donations towards the alleviation of the distress of famine stricken Russians? No, not at all! It is because a philanthropic movement has not been properly agitated and no system arranged by which responsive hearts could send their offering without doubt as to the desired results. Will not the philanthropic spirit of the age at once inaugurate a movement that will result in untold blessing to the needy. Let there be organizations formed throughout the country and secure arrangements made as to donations reaching the suffering ones. Then will the great sympathetic heart of Canada evince practical interest in assisting to alleviate the distress of the hungry. Nearly three months will yet elapse before the present crops can be utilized and there is therefore yet time to do much before the Russian harvest is reaped. Who will now take the matter up and seek the ready co-operation of

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expels them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.

Thousands who are anxiously waiting to help! Will Lindsay and the County of Victoria at once institute the movement, and realize what a great truth is contained in the words, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." There is always a happy consciousness of having performed our duty, when we lend a helping hand to raise a fallen brother, which a thousandfold more than repays our loss.

OUR TRADE WITH BRITAIN.

Lord Salisbury's recent utterances on the great question of trade in Britain has shaken to the very centre the fabric of free trade, and while its supporters advance theory after theory in its support, when applied to the practical light of observation and experience they all fall to the ground. England cannot fight the ultra protection policy of hostile countries with a non protection policy of her own, and the sooner this fact is recognized by the men who are administering her affairs the better it will be for the country. Should the conservative party in the forthcoming elections be successful it is not unlikely that a duty will be imposed on the food products of the United States—tariff for tariff against the leading nation in waging commercial war against Great Britain. Canada and sister colonies could in a short time supply England with all the food products required. Thus the benefits to be derived from Inter-Imperial free trade and protection against the rest of the world would be a largely increased trade with the Mother Country in both exports and imports.

CANADA AT CHICAGO.

At the World's Fair, Canada is to have a large space, which will no doubt be required in properly exhibiting our varied and excellent productions. Canadian manufacturers will then have an opportunity of showing to the world the perfection to which our machinery has been brought as well as its comparative cheapness.

Dairy and farm, as well as agricultural and mineral products, will also form important factors in the Canadian exhibit. All parties contemplating making entries for the Fair should communicate with Professor Saunders of Ottawa, who has been appointed by the Dominion Government as commissioner to arrange all matters preparatory to the Canadian exhibit and also to attend the Fair as the Dominion representative.

The Professor should have the hearty co-operation of everyone who is in any way interested in our country's greatness, as a large and striking display of the products of our resources before the immense throngs of visitors who will next year be present of the World's Fair, will make but a true impression as to our proud position amongst the various nations and colonies represented there.

Canada is not generally behind in this line, and she will not on this occasion forfeit her past record.

OUR CHEESE INDUSTRY.

In twenty years this important industry has grown from almost nothing to large proportions—last year's exports amounting to $9,500,000. In Ontario there are nearly 900 factories and in Quebec over 600. The DeBoucherville Government of Quebec propose putting a government stamp on the cheese produced in that province, so as to give it a better standing in the English market, which will doubtless result in an increase of demand and thus stimulate production. "The Ontario Government should carefully consider the advisability of following the lead of M. DeBoucherville in this matter," says the Toronto Evening News; and further:

"There can be no doubt that an official stamp, if wisely used, would increase the value even of Ontario cheese on the European market, and it is for the Government it would not be wise to consider whether it would not be wise to incur the trifling expense necessary to secure an inspection so thorough as to warrant the use of such stamp and thus insure the continuance of Ontario in the proud position now held. Surely when we put a tax on iron coming into this country and a bonus on that which is produced here as a means of developing an iron industry, we can afford to give to all right industry, and to another industry, chiefly centered in this province, and that has grown up of its own accord to such vast proportions that to-day the cheese exports of Canada exceed those of the United States."

IN MEMORIAM.

Monday last being the date that marked the flight of one year since the death of the great conservative chief, Sir John A. Macdonald, flags floated at half mast from the following buildings: the post office, Senator Dobson's store, The Warper office and several private residences. Although a year of time has fled since the great statesman and beloved leader ceased to form the central figure in Canadian politics, the memory of Sir John Macdonald still fills the heart of Canada with a happy thrill of love for the dead statesman, which shall never die so long as the development of his life-work continues to mark, in monuments innumerable on every hand, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the ability with which he labored for the prosperity of the country in whose interests he spent a long life of devotion and at the helm of whose destinies he relinquished not his guiding hand, until death sent his loyal throng that noble frame. And while the star of our political arena sank so rapidly from its zenith of glory to the horizon of death, still a beautiful gleam remains upon the sunset sky of the noble statesman's life, which has been, and shall ever be, a light of inspiration for those who are entrusted with continuing and completing the great structure, of which Sir John Macdonald was the architect. In the House of Commons on the clerk's table when the House met on Monday, stood a handsome old China bowl of generous dimensions heaped high with large bunches of glorious Marooned Neil, saffron and blush roses reposing on a thick bed of maple leaves. From the bowl streamed two long, broad white satin ribbons on which in immortalized appeared the words, "In Memoriam, June 8th." That was all, but almost every conservative member of the House wore in his buttonhole a red rose backed by a maple leaf.

The New Wharf.

To the Editor of The Warper.

Sir,—Will you kindly permit me to explain my position regarding what took place at the wharf on Tuesday morning last. I have at great labor and expense provided the wharf with what they have so much needed for years back, i.e., a comfortable excursion boat. I have been instrumental in obtaining the grants from the Government for the improvement of the wharf, enabling them to land passengers in a more comfortable way. But in the face of all my enterprise, I have been met with a spirit of hostility from certain quarters which is very discouraging. The first step taken was by the town council, passing a by-law regarding the wharf and at the same time prohibiting the storage of fuel on the wharf lot, which is a great hardship to me. On Tuesday the "Crandella" was billed to take an excursion to the Point and Bobcaygeon, leaving at 8.30 a.m. Half an hour before starting I was ordered by Mayor Ray to move away from the wharf and permit the steamer of Messrs. Sadler, Dundas & Co., to take the wharf which I refused to do. The Mayor then departed and in a short time returned with several constables, three of the lines of the "Crandella" and pushed her away from the dock down the river, and only owing to the kindness of some friends who made fast the lines on shore, our boat would have likely suffered damage on the bridge below. What I complain of is, if I had done wrong in refusing to vacate the wharf, surely, the Mayor could have had redress against me in the courts, and I claim he had no right to take the high-handed course he did on this occasion. Much has been said in public and in the press regarding certain parties in our town monopoly lining certain branches of business, greatly to the injury of the people of Lindsay and surrounding country. It appears that this spirit of selfishness prompts these same parties to endeavor to ruin my enterprise at all hazards. I have faith, however, that the people of Lindsay, by their sympathy and support will not allow this to be done. The Mayor and others who have assisted him in his efforts to do us harm will have to answer in the courts for what they have done. Respectfully,
Geo. Crandell.
