Canadians Heip.

O Canada, with plenty crowned, With thousand blessings fed, Canst thou forbear to listen, when Thy neighbor calls for bread? Canst thou in rich abundance live, With surplus in thy stores. Nor heed the bitter cry that comes, From starving Russia's shores?

Canst thou in silence stand asid While all thy sisters speed, With willing hearts and ready hands, The dying souls to teed? Shall not the wailing of distrese, The hollow sunken eye,

Call torth a high of sympathy, For those who daily die? My country, why art thou the last, To give deliverance? Why dost thou linger in the rear. With thy benevolence? When thou so oft hast led the van In grand unselfish deeds;

How is it that thou sendst no aid, While Russia's bosom bleeds For, O remember, He who gave The wealth, thou dost enjoy, And He who by his wisdom did

The Russian crops destroy, is Father, over all his flock, Who rightly understands, Whate'er is best, and who, may soon Reverse the circumstance

O was the motive selfishness Nay, this can never be; Canada's heart is large and warm, And full of sympathy; But Canada did not respond To Russia's cries and tears, Because a Party Cataract. Was roaring in her ears.

But now the cry is heard more clear, Across the steppes thus—
Its penetrating echo pleads— O share your bread with us! So let us do our duty now.

The perishing to save: Each morsel, that is wasted, might Snatch someone from the grave.

The blond of those, whom we might save, But whom we leave to die. Will be a stain on our fair name. In sight of Heaven's eye

So let us act with promptness, while There yet is left a chance, And Russia's starving children, send A loaf of bread at ouce.

WILBERFORCE.

Special to The Warder. THE entertainment here on the 22nd inst., in connection with the public school was a great success. There being a fine maple grove elevated above the school then the congregation was very small; grounds and the beautiful lake below, the now oftentimes the church is taxed place the place presented one of the most beautiful pictures of nature in the back country. In the grove just mentioned swings were erected, the young folks enjoying themselves with swinging and about 5 o'clock when tea was served, the tea being prepared by the people of the neighborhood was sorved about is a splendid one standard new there neighborhood was very nicely arranged. There were pies, cakes, salmon, sanwiches and ice cream, which was very fine indeed. Then there was a fine programme preparad for the evening's enter tainment, which Miss Young, our teacher, had to practised with the children until just about perfect in reciting dialogues, reactings and singing. Ten cents admission was charged for adults, amounting to about $7.00. When the programme ing to about $7.00. When the programme was through the Rev. H. B. Rowe favored us with a very suitable and excellent ad dress. He speke on "character;" and as it was his last evening he had to spend in Wilberforce, he gave the young people good advice and warned them to be careful how they formed character for life and to shun bad company. Mr. Rowe has been a faithful minister while he has been in our midst, and we wish him every success in his new field of labor. Great praise is due to Miss Young, not only for the able manner in which she condusted the entertainment, but for the progress.

Auged the children have made in education and warned by the words of our blessed words of the Holy Spirit. In the time of need you gave cheerfully of what you had; when sickness invaded our homes, you came bringing to us the blessed words of comfort and health, and when that dread measurement, but for the progress.

Mr. Edward Herring, the Bolsover horse doctor, is kept very busy this sum-THE merchants here don't complain of hard times. Businese is brisk at present.

A large quantity of eggs are taken every day to the markets. Some of the farmers are complaining wet weather, but the crops never looked better; the hay crop will be very heavy.

It Costs Less Than a Dozen of Ordinary Dress Bottons.

Buying new dresses at each season is to nany ladies a serious and important matter, for the reason that all women are not the wives and daughters of wealthy men. Fashion however, demands that the new dress must be forthcoming to suit the season; and thousands of women who really cannot afford the money are compelled to obey fashion's imperious commands, in order to uphold their status in society. We are an extravagant people, and must change ous mode of living, if we wish to be happy, prosperous and independent of others. Let us show the ladies how to do

It is a recognized fact, that no more fashion able or becoming dress in color and appearance can be worn to day by ladies, than a Black dress. A Black dress looks well upon any occasion, and under all circumstances, for roung and old. In order to dress well and cheaply, it is only ecessary for a lady to take one of her colored wool dresses, no matter how old, dingy and faded it may be; and with the aid of one or two packages of Fast Black Diamond Dye for less money than a dozen of ordinary dress outtons would cost.

With this magnificent, rich and brilliant Fast Black Diamond Dye, the work of dyeing is rendered easy, light and quick; and the results are invariably satisfactory. No other interest by a large and regular attenders can give the same satisfaction and plead dance. sure; only the Diamond can give that perfect and rich tone of Black. so much looked for. Every Department of the Diamond Dye establishment is now being worked to its titmost capacity to supply theincreasing demand. That novel and interesting "Dismond Dye Competition" is the talk of the ladies all over Canada; and the number of ladies who are entering as competitors is increasing every day. The Competition being free to all ladies who wish to show their work, and the prizes so part in the great work.

REv. Andrew Henderson, of Beech Plain, P.E., is the successor of Mr. Webster in the methodist church. He is said to be a very fine preacher. Mr. Webster and family have moved to Powassan, which leaves him twenty miles nearer his home-Oakwood.

MESSRS. PURVIS & Co., have just received the last two of six car loads of glass (imported), which will give some idea of the extensive business done by that firm.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS. - On 'Woman's Working Band," of the metho. | Ginnis. ist church, gave a farewell social in the parsonage, on the eve of the departure of Rev. John Webster to his new field of labor at Powassan. The house was packed to overflowing and a good time was spent. After refreshments were liberally dispensed to those present, a short program of recitations and musto was presented. Mr. Wm. Martin, insurance agent, then called the assemblage to order, after which Rev. W. I. Beamish then read the following address, and Mrs. N. Fulcher presented a purse to Mr.

Webster :-

Rev. John Webster, our Esteemed Pastor: DEAR BROTHER, -As in the order of Divine Providence, and in accord with the rules of our beloyed church, the term of your pastorate among us being now closed, we, as members and friends of the congregation feel that you must not remove from us, before, in some way we show to you and your estimable wife, the love and esteem in which you are held. We stand on the height to which we have attained through the Divine blessing upon us, with your untiring efforts for our well-fare, and look back to the time you came among us; then our church was in a low condition; now it is in a presperous one; to its utmost seating capacity, even to such an extent, that it has been talked of building an addition to it, or building a new one; then the membership was but few; now it is considerably over one hun

it. We were also heavily in debt, which has been so reduced that it is now within easy grasp for us to pay it all. We cannot help but say, "Praise the Lord for sending to us, one who loved Him and His cause so fervently and one who took such a deep interest in our ad-Vancement.' We also recognize the faithful and Christian manner in which, you have preached to us the gospel of our Blessed faithful and active workers in your faith-

We ask you to accept this purse from us, and with it goes the prayers of many warm Christian hearts, that as you and yours remove to the new field of labor BOLSOVER.

pecial to The Warder. A PLEASING event took place on Wednesday last after the usual evening service at Christ church. The members who were present repaired to the residence of Thos. Stephenson, Esq., and on behalf of the congregation, presented his daughter, Miss Elia Stephenson, who has so credit-ably held the position of organist, for a number of years, with a well filled purse, as a slight tangible recognition of their esteem and good will. An appropriate address was delivered by the rector in charge, Rev. W. W. Edwardes, who referred in feeling terms to Miss Stephenson's lasting devotion and unselfishness in the discharge of her duties. Miss Stephenson, who was completely taken by surprise, thanked the members in suitable words, expressing the pleasure she always felt at being able to do anything and everything in her power for the service of the church. She was also the recipient of a handsome bouquet of jacqueminot roses.
