The Victoria Warder

FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1892.

A union of hearts and a union of hands A union none can sever;
A union of homes and a union of Lands And the flag, BRITISH UNION, forever.

ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION. Determined to make himself perfect master of his department, Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways and Canals, has devoted the summer months to inspecting the various works under his control. Already have the canal works at Sault Ste Marie been visited. This week accompanied by Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, engineer, and by Dr. Montague, M.P., Hon. Mr. Haggart left for a four weeks' tour of inspection of the Intercolonial and and Prince Edward Island Railways.

The good people of Victoria have ever a kind word and thought of Mr. Haggart. He has long been made familiar to them through THE WARDER columns; and, therefore, they will not be surprised to learn of his thorough course in mastering the details of his department.

The name of Hon. John Haggart will long live honored and respected in Canadian history.

HON. J. C. PATTERSON THE SECRE. TARY OF STATE.

Few men in public life in Canada have so wedded themselves to their associates as has Hon. J. C. Patterson the Secretary of State. Modest and unassuming he has neverthless any quantity of dash when occasion demands its exercise. His political sagacity is great and no better tactician or organizer can be found.

The liberal-conservative Union Ontario acted wisely in nominating Mr. Patterson again as president. The selections of Dr. Montague from the Commons and Mr. Marter from the Local were also good; while the "old reliable" Robert Birmingham who is welcomed and repected wherever he goes was unanimous re-elected secretary, a splendid

Mr. N. C. Wallace, M.P., was elected chairman of the Commons branch of the Executive or advisory committee.

The liberal-conservative party has able leaders, a good sound policy, and above all else a true, intelligent, energetic honest lot of electors to encourage and direct the members.

MAJOR PERLEY'S CASE.

Major Perley, Chief Engineer of Government works, who was suspended last year on the evidence in the Larkin Connolly & Co. inquiry. Not one word was proven against him. True after all was over a present had been made his wife; but not a word was adduced to show the work was not all properly looked after so far as Major Perley was concerned.

It is rumored in vesterday's papers that Mr. Coste has succeeded to Major Perley's position; but no statement is made of how he has been treated. We feel sure the Dominion Government will deal fairly and honorably by our old rifle association friend. In case he is not honorably recognized it will be a stain on the confrom the investigations. But we have faith in the honor, good faith and integrity of of the cabinet ministers; and have every confidence they will deal liberally with such a tried and trusted officer as was Major Perley.

PASSES ON RAILWAYS.

A few editors of newspapers annoyed at not being favored with passes, jealous of seeing others with them, or honestly cranky on the subject are loud in pandering to the lower elements in man's nature, in condemning passes on railroads to members of Parliament.

Well, it is a free country and each is welcome to his views. But, long before we ever travelled on a pass it was never her many friends. one of our own fads to condemn those who did. We always paid our fare ing a new residence. What does this cheerfully, and did not condemn those who had passes. And now, in the light of maturer years, and perhaps sounder chronicle...Boys rather bashful. judgment our opinions remain unchanged. We have no hesitation in despising a hypocrite. Therefore do we fearlessly state that whenever we travel we do so if at all possible on a pass. Not only is it proper for railways to issue passes to members of parliament, but our idea is they should be obliged by vote without a very vigorous twisting of the British Lion's tail.

This time both parties are trumping up the canal tolls and bonding privileges. In the face of their deliberate fraud regarding free use of their canals, it is impudence of the Yankees to talk of unfairness. Their vessels are allowed exactly the same privileges as are ours.

It is to be hoped the veteran general like the does use his pass, as very many do, to his like the like s influenced the members. No man in Canada has ever yet advanced one railways to charge only two cents per mile any more than that Parliament should enact that farmers should not receive more than two cents a dozen for their eggs.

If Mr. McLean had moved in the line of equality of freight rates he would have found friends. As it now is anyone can travel for $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents per mile, while every week here the rates are only $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS.

The result of the Manitoba Provincial elections held last week is the return of the Greenaway cabinet by a majority of eleven of twelve seats. Though both sides were pledged to the abolition of the separate schools yet the Greenaway Government having been in power claimed the privilege of completing the task. In that respect we are glad of the return of the present cabinet; though in matters of general legislation the voice of the province seems very much against them,

PREACHES IN POLITICS.

That annexationist presbyterian preacher in Wiarton who boasts of his determination to fly the Yankee flag over the British, in Canada, and who last week paid duty on an imported Yankee flag to replace the one torn to shreads by the reeve and other loyal men in Wiarton may find that loyalty in Canada amounts

His congregation, too, purpose showing him the days of being priest-ridden are past and are closing up the purse strings. Nothing will touch the conscience of such fellows quicker than to refuse to pay

We once knew a fellow who placed on the collection plate every Sunday just what he deemed the sermon worth as a lecture. The preacher heard the custom was growing in the congregation and accordingly put himself right into harness. The effect was very beneficial to all partles, and the clergyman to-day is one of the best and ablest men in his profession. He draws a good salary too, and never was known to preach annexation.

VOLCANOES.

Thank fortune, says one, we do not live in a land of earthquakes and volcanoes. There seems to be a general ripping up and slashing things about among the volcanic regions of the earth. Old Vesuvius at Naples is spluttering hue. away at a great rate. Ætna in Sicily is rolling out rivers of lava which gliding slowly down the slopes threatens to destroy several villages. Away in the Arnott a graduate of Knox College was just passed a large island of 12,000 inhabitants when looking back clouds of steam, smoke, ashes and dust filled the heavens. They subsided when lo! not a vestige of the great land was visible excepting bushwood floating on the waters. Several foreign vessels loading at intervals along the shores were destroyed, not a trace remaining. For very many miles in all directions the sea was covered with ashes and brushwood. These volcanic eruptions are constantly going on; and affect only local portions of the earth's crust. They certainly in the long run result in good. There is no room in this country for idiots who take advantage of such phenomena to predict the end of the world, and to lash cowardly sinners into church traces. Still servative government the worst arising any humbug is almost excusable, even the reformed-tough religious fakir to get some in Lindsay, as well as Glenarm friends. people to think now-a-days. However, the best plan is to let people know the causes of things; they can draw their own conclusions as to the effects.

The cowardly insinuation of some would-be-posers-as-independent journalists, that the pass affects a member's vote is unworthy of notice. Only a corrupt nature would suggest it or believe it.
