We will send samples in charge of the manager of the Sturgeon Point hotel or the Goulais' house upon request.

Tourists and summer visitors are reminded that we keep a variety of beautiful and appropriate patterns. There is no neater or more useful memento of your visit than one of these. The sight of it will recall the miseries and delights of your outing; the mosquitoes you have fought and the fish you have caught. Send post card.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH ACTION AND PROTESTANT, COMPARED.

1. When the Jesuit Estates Act was passed in Quebec the protestants did not object. When the Manitoba School Act was passed the roman catholic church objected. 2. The protestants of Quebec did not demand to have the Jesuit Estates Act disallowed before it was allowed. The roman catholics of Manitoba did demand to have the School Act disallowed before it was allowed. 3. When the Dominion Government allowed the Jesuit Estates Act, the Protestants though they had never asked for disallowance got on top of the barns and yelled "disallowance," though they had had six months previous to become aroused. When the Dominion Government allowed the Manitoba School Act, the roman catholic church, though they had previously demanded disallowance did not raise a fuss. They went into the courts. 4. When the Dominion Government instructed the protestants of Quebec how to proceed to have their case heard to go before the judicial committee of the Privy Council when all expenses would be borne for the protestants, as is done in testing constitutional points; when the day and hour were fixed to hear and receive their petition, the protestants withdrew having been guaranteed some extra interest by Mercier. But the agitators screamed "disallowance," for mere political effect. The roman catholic church of Manitoba, having been refused disallowance of the Manitoba School Act by the Dominion Government, entered a case in the courts without a moment's delay. That case, with another entered by the anglican church of Manitoba towards a similar aim, was carried to the judicial committee of the Privy Council, the costs being borne as is usual in testing any constitutional point, by the Dominion Government. 5. The protestants declined to test the Jesuit Estates Act in the courts preferring to use it as a political cry not against the reform government who passed it, but against the conservatives who stood to constitutional lines by allowing the Act and offering to test it in the courts—the only true solution.

"August Flower"

"I inherit some tendency to Dyspepsia from my mother. I suffered two years in this way; consulted a number of doctors. They did me no good. I then used Relieved in your August Flower and it was just two days when I felt great relief. I soon got so that I could sleep and eat, and I felt that I was well. That was three years ago, and I am still first-class. I am never without a bottle, and if I feel constipated the least particle a dose or two of August Flower does the work. The beauty of the medicine is, that you can stop the use of it without any bad effects on the system. Constipation While I was sick I felt everything it seemed to me a man could feel. I was of all men most miserable. I can say, in conclusion, that I believe August Flower will cure anyone of indigestion, if taken Life of Misery with judgment. A. M. Weed, 229 Bellefontaine St., Indianapolis, Ind."

The roman catholic church have fought the matter to a finish in a business-like manner; and now doubtless will abide by the result.

There is this much to be said:—The course of the roman catholic church against the Manitoba School Act has been business-like and consistent. They have fought a good fight, and have been beaten. The same cannot be said in any sense of protestant action in Quebec on the Jesuit Estates Act. Their aim seemed to be to get all they could from Mercier; refuse the offer of the Dominion Government to test the Act in the courts; and raise as loud an outcry against the conservative party as possible.

The public now fully realize that the action of the conservative government was exactly the same in each instance; both the roman catholic church of Manitoba and the protestants of Quebec being treated alike.

WHY SEPARATE SCHOOLS SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED IN THE NORTH WEST!

In this issue will be found a four column article embodying our own abstract views against separate schools. The article is long; but in view of the recent decision re the Manitoba School Act will be interesting. We have not touched upon the legal aspect of the case in this article; but that view of the case brings up no difficulties. The article is addressed to Le Canadian of Montreal, ably edited by Mr. Tarte, ex-M.P. Our aim is to break out of the unfortunate course in which Canadian politics have long run of measuring everything from a clerical or church view-point. The clergy have their sphere; but it is not in the arena of politics.

THE LINDSAY, BOBCAYGEON AND BURKERTON RAILWAY.

The first regular meeting of the Provisional directors and others of the above company was held last Monday in the Mechanics' Institute here. Messrs Boyd, Esq., was in the chair, and besides there were at the board Messrs. J. L. Read, J. Petrie, W. Needler, W. Macdonnell, J. D. Flavell, John Kennedy, D. J. McIntyre, J. A. Barron, Sam. Hughes and H. J. Wickham, solicitor for the company. The various questions concerning the road were fully discussed; the benefits to be derived by having connection with the C.P.R.; the country to be developed and the new freight to be created, as well as the means required to construct the road all came under review. Another meeting will be held at an early date to further consider preliminaries.

THE MANITOBA SCHOOL ACT.

Many people think the Manitoba School Act is the same as the North West Territories Act. Such belief is not confined to those who would naturally be supposed to be ignorant, but is shared by teachers and even members of Parliament and clergymen. Every school boy should know that the two are as distinct as are Nova Scotia and British Columbia. The province of Manitoba passed an Act abolishing separate schools and the French language. An appeal was made against the Act by a roman catholic, and another by an anglican. Both appeals were carried to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Great Britain and the judgment was in favor of the province; and against both of the churches appealing. There is now talk of the roman catholic church demanding "remedial legislation" for their minority, under supposed powers in the British North America Act. Whether such is true or not we do not know; but it may be taken for granted that that church will not model after such "blatherakites" as formed the "Equal Rights" agitation. They are workars. Our own view is there will be no possible chance for "remedial" legislation; and that none will be attempted. The Toronto Empire is exercising itself wonderfully for fear some one will become excited and say or do something to cause "feeling," over the question. The sickly, milk-and-water course of the Empire is far more calculated to arouse "feeling" than aught we have yet seen. If it would quietly and intelligently point out the law and the facts of the case and give less advice for nothing, there would be no tear of "excitement." The highest court in the Empire has declared the Manitoba Act constitutional. There is no need of "compromise" in that any more than in any other suit that is lost or won. The best kind of compromise is the one accepted by Archbishop Ireland of Minnesota, where he has instructed the roman catholics of his archdiocese to attend the public schools of the state. The world advances and draws near the beginning of the 20th century.

CANADA'S STANDING ARMY.

An exchange says:—"Statistics show us that there is a standing army of 10,000 drunkards in our Dominion. These come from our homes, and as some go down to the drunkards of their places are filled by others. This danger threatens you, for the drunkards of to-day were once as free of any thought of becoming such, as you are. Most of the drunkards of ten years from now will be from those who are boys to-day."

Our view always has been that drunkards formed anything but a "standing" army. A "reeling" army would be more appropriate.

It sickens one to see maudlin brutes loaded down with whiskey go reeling about. The saloon keeper who fills a man with liquor is vile enough; but the man or the excuse for a man who gets full is more degraded still.

Any man becoming habitually drunk should be punished and each saloonkeeper forbidden to sell him liquor. Then punish both severely for subsequent offences.
